SENATE VOTES CUT IN TAXES

APPROVE SLASH EASING LOAD BY 5,788 MILLION

Old Roosevelt Rule Stirs a Fight

BY WILLIAM MOORE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—The senate tonight passed a tax reduction bill, roughly estimated to lighten the nation's tax burden by five billion 788 million dollars in 1946, after a rough and tumble battle over the sanctity of the late President Roosevelt's government by decree.

The bill was virtually the same as when it was presented by the senate finance committee last night, except for these changes:

Small business corporations were granted an exemption of $25,000 against excess profits taxes for 1945. Excise taxes levied for the purpose of diverting strategic materials to war production were repealed. These taxes are limited to sporting goods, photographic apparatus, business machines, and gas, oil, and electric appliances.

85 Million Slash

Small business will profit from its cut by 85 million dollars a year and the excise tax cut is estimated at 70 million dollars a year.

The bill now goes to conference for adjustment of the differences between the house and senate versions. House reductions, approved Oct. 11, were five billion 350 million dollars.

The battle over the late Mr. Roosevelt's ukases completely overshadowed the debate over taxes.

Administration Democrats clashed furiously with Republicans led by Senators Brooks [R., Ill.], Capehart [R., Ind.], and Taft [R., O.].

Amendment Starts It

The senate was engaged in routine debate over the taxes when Brooks and Capehart introduced an amendment to repeal Mr. Roosevelt's personal penalty for employers who innocently violated his salary ceilings with pay increases for employes.

The penalty is forfeiture of the right to deduct any of the salary paid in such cases for income tax purposes.

Brooks said this penalty can be used to bankrupt employers who clash with the war labor board and treasury department, even tho the violation was not willful. He reminded the senate that the stabilization act, from which Mr. Roosevelt drew his power to order the penalty, provides prison terms and fines for willful violations.

Democrats, who Republicans said feared the opening move to blot out many business regulations enforced by Presidential directive rather than by law, were on their feet in a moment protesting.

They rallied around Majority Leader Barkley [D., Ky.], who challenged the advisability of writing the ban into the tax bill.

A Republican Uprising

But Brooks and Capehart led a Republican uprising in which Taft shouted that the government is "blackmailing" business firms when it uses powers taken from one law to enforce another. Chairman George [D., Ga.] of the finance committee, and other staunch Democrats were called in to back up Barkley, but the Democrats could not prevent a vote.

There was an affirmative roar from the Republicans and a low negative chorus from the few Democrats the majority leadership had been able to call for help.

President Pro Tem McKellar [D., Tenn.], an old administration wheelhorse, blandly announced:

"The chair is in doubt."

There was a hurried quorum call then, and enough Democrats were rounded up to defeat the amendment, 32 to 30.

12 Million Off Rolls

The bill, as it passed the senate, releases 12,060,000 low income persons from the income tax rolls completely in 1946, and grants income tax relief aggregating $2,648,000,000 to individuals. Assuming that business continues generally at its present level, business concerns will have their tax burdens relieved to the extent of approximately 3 billion dollars thru reductions and repeal of the 81½ per cent excess profits tax.

McKnight, Victim in Loop Tavern Shooting, Dies

Police Hold Weisberg for Writ Hearing

Julius Weisberg

Joseph McKnight, 49, of 131 Clyde av., Evanston, auto sales agency executive, died last night in Bridewell hospital of two bullet wounds received Tuesday night after a quarrel in a loop tavern.

Police were holding Julius [Dollie] Weisberg, former Chicago night club owner, in connection with the slaying. Weisberg was quarreling with McKnight in the tavern, the Regent room, 1 N. La Salle st., just before the shots were fired. Weisberg once shot and killed a beer runner in front of the Palace theater.

Chief Justice Harold G. Ward in Criminal court yesterday refused to release Weisberg from custody on a writ of habeas corpus sought by his attorney, Harold Levy. He gave police until 2 p. m. today to accumulate evidence on which to base a formal charge against Weisberg.

Seek Some of 50 Witnesses

From his hospital bed yesterday afternoon McKnight identified Weisberg as the man with whom he quarreled, but said he was unable to identify him as the man who fired the shots which wounded him in the left shoulder and abdomen.

Police and Assistant State's Atty. Edmund Grant were seeking to find some of the 50 persons who were in the tavern at the time to take statements from them.

Police said McKnight formerly operated an automobile agency in the 5900 block on N. Western av. In March, 1944, he was hired by the war man power commission at $4,600 a year as an administrative field assistant with headquarters in Jacksonville, Fla. He remained with the WMC until Aug. 31 of this year.

Two weeks ago, McKnight and his wife, Victoria, rented a four room apartment at the Clyde av. address and bought new furniture. McKnight was placed in charge of sales for the Pontiac Sales and Service, 1820 Ridge av., Evanston, and was organizing a sales force.

Tells of Quarrel

Charles Morrow, manager of the Regent room, and a friend of McKnight for 25 years, told police he heard McKnight and Weisburg quarreling at the bar about 11 p. m., and heard McKnight tell Weisburg, "Get away from me; I don't want anything to do with you."

Morrow told them to break it up, he said, and moved away. A moment later he heard shots, and turned to see McKnight, facing Weisberg, slump to the floor and crawl under the bar.

Weisberg, arrested later in the St. Clair hotel, where he lives, denied shooting McKnight.

Russian Divorces Cut Two-Thirds by New Laws

MOSCOW, Oct. 24 (AP)—Russian divorces have dropped two-thirds in the 16 months since edicts designed to strengthen family ties were issued, it was announced today. Principal reason for the decrease was that the divorce process is made public and turned over to the courts. Under the old law registrars could issue divorces at the request of either married party.

CALL OFF FILM STRIKE AT ALL BUT 2 STUDIOS

Warner Issue Put Up to Union

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 24 [Special]—The 33 week movie strike—a jurisdictional row between two AFL unions that developed into the film capital's longest, costliest, and most violent labor dispute — appeared ended tonight upon the order of the American Federation of Labor.

The federation's powerful executive council in Cincinnati, O., directed that strikers go back to work immediately, that the two affected international unions try to settle the dispute within 30 days, and that they submit unsettled issues to an impartial board of three members named by the council.

Altho labor and management announced termination of the walkout, Strike Leader Herbert Sorrell said the settlement did not include Warner Brothers' studio, scene of violent fighting and mass arrests, and the General Service studio.

Not Association Members

These two studios are excluded, Sorrell said, because they are not members of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors. He called a mass meeting of the strikers to decide whether mass picketing will be resumed tomorrow at the two studios.

H. M. Warner, president of Warners', said his studio will "agree to and abide by whatever settlement has been arrived at between the industry and the unions."

The settlement was announced in Cincinnati, where Eric Johnston, new president of the film producers' association, was in conference with William Green, president of the AFL, and other members of the AFL executive council.

"Binding" Settlement

Green said the decision of the AFL settlement committee, which will rule on unsettled issues, will be "final and binding" on all parties concerned. The unions, under the plan, will be given 30 days to settle their difference. If they fail, the committee will make its rulings within another 30 days.

He said the committee will be impartial since the unions they represent are not involved in the strike. The committee will be composed of Felix H. Knight, Kansas City, Mo., president of railway car men; William C. Birthwright, Indianapolis, Ind., president of the barbers' union, and W. C. Doherty, president of the letter carriers' union.

Painters Win Vote

The dispute originated in the contention of two AFL groups—the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes and the Conference of Studio Unions—for bargaining rights for 77 studio set decorators.

The painters' union, an affiliate of the CSU—recently won a bargaining election for the set decorators, but the walkout was prolonged by other jurisdictional complications and the demands of strikers that they be returned to their jobs without discrimination. One of the major issues that developed was the status of replacements, members of other unions who took the jobs vacated by strikers.

Strike Halts 17 Flights at City Airport

American Airlines service between Chicago and New York was canceled yesterday when 155 employes of the company here joined a strike of 658 mechanics and maintenance workers of American Export Airlines at New York airport.

The company said it would not attempt to resume operations in or out of Chicago until the strike is terminated, and announced cancellation of all flights up to noon today. At that hour 17 flights will have been canceled, 10 outbound and seven inbound.

Strike Begun in New York

The American Export mechanics, members of the air lines mechanics department of the United Auto Workers [CIO], went out Tuesday in New York and were joined by more than 15 per cent of the American Airlines mechanics there who are members of the same union. The remainder of the American Airlines mechanics in New York, members of the United Transport Workers' union [CIO], continued at work, company officials said.

Strike of the Chicago mechanics, however, forced suspension of service between the two cities. The last plane leaving New York for Chicago, at 4:10 p. m. yesterday, discharged passengers in Detroit, Mich., where they transferred to trains.

Union Demands Wage Increase

The strikers seek a flat increase of 9 cents an hour, and 48 hours pay for 40 hours work, said Harold R. Harris, vice president of American Export Airlines.

Meanwhile nearly 2,000 maintenance employes of Pan American Airways were on a sit-down strike in Miami, Fla., altho this company's flights were not interrupted.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers' union, characterized the New York work stoppage as "illegal," and Pan American officials said Quill had ordered the strikers at Miami back to work immediately.

2 HOUR STRIKE SNARLS 'L'

Some 75,000 Chicagoans and suburbanites were denied transportation on the elevated lines for two hours yesterday because the trainmen's union was piqued at the company.

The strike was in effect only between 1 and 3 p. m., but it was well into the 5 o'clock rush hour before the tangle of trains was unsnarled and anything like normal service was resumed. Trainmen pulled their cars into terminals after 1 p. m. and most of them then propped up their feet, lighted their pipes, and enjoyed a quiet two hours of conversation.

Completely Effective, Leader Says

William F. Levander, president of division 308, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes [AFL], explained the stoppage variously as "proof our union will preserve its dignity," "evidence to the company we mean business," and "proof we don't like other groups being put ahead of us." He said it was "completely effective."

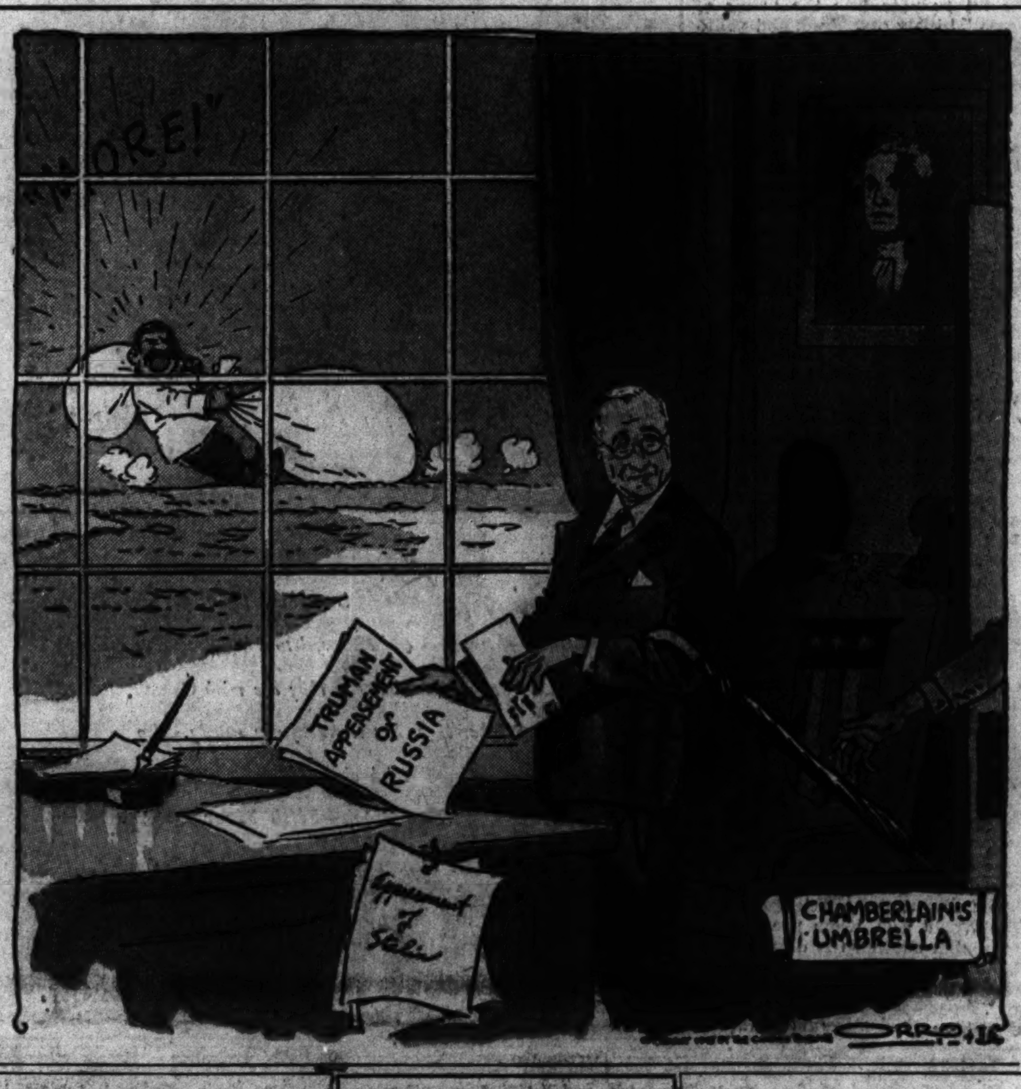
A PRESENT FOR HARRY



Allies' World League Comes Into Existence

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—The allied nations' world security organization became a fact at 4:45 p. m. today when State Secretary Byrnes signed a protocol stating that the requirement for bringing it into being had been met.

The requirement was for 29 of the 51 signatory nations at the San Francisco conference to deposit their ratifications of the charter at the state department.

Byrnes used two pens to sign the document, which was inclosed in a blue leather folder with gold trimming and fastened with a red, white, and blue ribbon.

The signing followed the deposit of ratification documents by Poland, the Ukrainian and White Russian republics, and by the Soviet Union.

Soviet Papers Delivered

The required number of signatories was reached shortly after 3 p. m. when Fedor Orekhov, first secretary of the soviet embassy, delivered the ratification instruments of Russia and the White Russian and Ukrainian republics.

Poland's document was delivered this morning. The Egyptian instrument had been deposited Monday.

Byrnes said after the signing he would give one of the pens to former State Secretary Hull. He might give the other one to President Truman, he said, but added he hoped to talk the chief executive into permitting him to keep it himself.

Other Nations Listed

The state department issued this list of the other nations whose deposits of ratification brought the total to 29:

United States, China, France, Britain, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Haiti, Iran, Lebanon, Luxemburg, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Turkey, and Yugoslavia.

In addition, the department said it had been notified that the following governments have completed ratification action altho they have not deposited their documents in Washington:

Costa Rica, Greece, Union of South Africa, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Colombia, Australia, Venezuela, Bolivia, Liberia, and Peru.

The first meeting of the assembly of the organization is scheduled for London in December.

ZEALAND'S DEFENSE CHIEF PELTED WITH EGGS BY SOLDIERS

BY QUENTIN POPE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Oct. 24—"Well done, boys. Welcome home except on holidays," said ironical banners displayed by marching New Zealand service men who returned yesterday after four years of war in the Mediterranean theater and nazi prison camps.

The veterans reached Lyttelton Monday on the British troopship Andes. The vessel could not berth because it was Labor day. Longshoremen refused to work and went to the races.

There were whistles and jeers as the ship moved to a pier yesterday. The veterans sought to hasten the berthing by showering coins onto the docks. Defense Minister Frederick Jones, who had visited the ship in the bay, was pelted with eggs as he walked down the gangplank.

SHOE RATIONING LIKELY TO END OCT. 28 OR NOV. 1

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—Official discussions of when to end shoe rationing narrowed tentatively today to a choice of Oct. 28 or Nov. 1.

It was learned, too, that tomorrow the OPA will announce a four-point cut in the ration cost of butter. The new rate of eight points a pound will go into effect Sunday.

A government official who asked that his name not be used said the OPA and the war production board expect to decide by tomorrow when to end shoe rationing.

The Oct. 28 date is favored by those who want the program terminated over a week-end so that merchants can prepare for soles.

TOO MANY REDS SLAIN, SO YANK GUNS ARE CURBED

BERLIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—Because of the number of Russians killed recently in the United States zone of occupation, American sentries have been ordered to shoot only in self-defense.

"Our guards have just been shooting too straight for vital spots," Col. Reuben H. Tucker of New Haven, Conn., commander of the 504th parachute infantry, said today.

The shootings have occurred chiefly around railroad stations near the borders of the Russian zone.

Joe E. Brown Stars Without a Single Laugh

Joe E. Brown, the trouper who won the hearts of American soldiers the hard way—in combat theaters—last night shared his biggest moment with them.

There were few dry eyes in the audience in the ballroom of the Blackstone hotel when a testimonial dinner to Judge Michael L. Igoe approached its climax: The surprise pinning of the bronze star medal, the highest military award for a civilian, on Brown.

The wide mouthed comedian, who had believed he was merely serving as master of ceremonies for his old friend, Judge Igoe, choked up when Brig. Gen. E. B. Sebree of the army, made the presentation.

Gen. Sebree Reads Citation

"In adverse weather and despite a severe illness, Brown kept to a grueling schedule in North Africa, Sicily and Italy from Jan. 5 to Feb. 6, 1944," Gen. Sebree read from the citation. Then he waited for Brown's response.

"You're seeing the raw edges of Joe E. Brown," the real guest of honor said. "Brown, the comedian—but I don't feel funny now. I'm thinking of the thousands of men I knew that didn't come back and of the thousands who came back and didn't find a medal waiting."

"Those are the men who fought this war and won it," he continued. "I feel small beside them and I accept this honor for them. I'll ask you never to forget those men and what they did. Don't look at the ribbons on their chests—just look at their uniforms. They all were heroes, every one of them."

Another Surprise—Mrs. Brown

Brown expressed regret that his wife was not present. At that moment, Mrs. Brown who had been flown from the west coast stood up in a gallery above the banqueters. The reference to those who "didn't come back" recalled that Brown's son, Capt. Don was killed in a California plane crash.

Edward J. Fleming was host at the party whose guests included Mayor Kelly; Leo T. Crowley, Judges Walter La Buy and Philip L. Sullivan, David A. Crawford, State's Attorney Tuohy, Sheriff Mulcahy, and James B. McCahey, president of the board of education.

TRUMAN'S PLAN WOULD RECRUIT 975,000 A YEAR

Army Expecting to Get 700,000

Marines Cut Points

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—The marine corps today cut its discharge score to 50 points for marines and to 20 points for women marines, effective Nov. 1. The present scores are 60 points for marines and 25 points for women marines. Marines headquarters said that under present plans the entire marine corps women's reserve would be demobilized by Sept. 1, 1946.

BY WILLIAM STRAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—Plans for one year of compulsory military training for American youth envisioned by President Truman would require annual mobilization of approximately 975,000 reservists, or more than twice the peace time strength of the combined army and navy, it was learned today.

Present estimates indicate that the two services would detail nearly 195,000 commissioned and noncommissioned officers to the training tasks. This is more officers than there were officers and men in the entire pre-war navy in 1939.

The authorized peace time strength of the army before the outbreak of war in Europe was 280,000, while the 1939 strength of the navy was 120,775 officers and men.

The Truman Plan

Under the President's plan each of the nation's young men would enter training upon his 18th birthday or upon his graduation from high school, whichever is later, or at least before he is 20. There would be no exceptions beyond those who are deemed totally unfit for physical or moral reasons. Young men completing high school in their 17th year would also be eligible to begin their training period with parental consent.

Army sources calculate that each annual class of 18 year olds and high school graduates will number about 1,200,000. Of these, the army expects to receive about 700,000 for training and the navy 275,000. The balance of the class, it is believed, ordinarily will be found physically, mentally, or morally disqualified.

Present plans call for permitting the reservists to select their desired branch of service at their induction, according to military leaders. They admitted, however, that arbitrary arrangements may be found necessary to assure the desired apportionment between the two services.

A Separate Force

It is believed probable, if the President's plan is adopted, that each year's class will be brought into training on a staggered basis; that is, fresh inductions taking place every three months. The reservists would constitute a separate force distinct from either the regular army or navy and would wear uniforms unlike those worn by members of the regular military establishments.

The President suggested that the first few months of the training be devoted to basic instruction in various weapons, after which those not qualified for combat would receive special training in mechanical skills so as to be ready to serve in an emergency on production lines, ship yards, and munitions factories.

To provide training grounds, it was learned, the army is contemplating the retention of a "substantial number" of its larger war time establishments. For weather reasons, the largest number of these presumably would be concentrated in the south.

Not So Much KP

The army sources said there would be fewer of the routine tasks such as kitchen police, for the reservists. Pay for the young men probably will be below regular army and navy standards.

Regular army officers and noncommissioned officers would head the training program.

BRITON ASSAILS FAILURE TO CUT BUDGET FURTHER

Urges Confidence in Loan Negotiators in U. S.

LONDON, Oct. 24—A Conservative party spokesman accused Brittain's Labor government today of showing "too great complacency" in its new budgetary program and said the failure to make greater cuts in war time expenditures was staggering.

The statement came from John Anderson, former chancellor of the exchequer, as commons resumed debate on the government's tax program. Anderson chided Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton for promising "with qualifications" to keep prices stable. Success in that policy, Anderson continued, "is entirely dependent upon wages being kept at reasonable levels."

Altho Dalton expressed uncertainty yesterday over the outcome of current British-American talks in Washington on a $5,000,000,000 loan for Britain, Anderson expressed the "greatest confidence in the competence of our negotiators" and added: "I hope that patience and restraint will be exercised in all quarters."

"Inequality a Good Thing"

Referring to the government's plan to decrease assessments in the lower wage brackets while boosting those in the higher levels, Anderson asserted:

"Economic inequality is from a national point of view not only not an evil thing, it is positively good, subject to the conditions that the lowest level is not too low and the highest levels are all attainable to all as rewards of character, ability and enterprise.

"My last word to the chancellor is watch the spending departments with an eagle eye. There lurk the foxes that eat up the vines of expanding revenue and would deny to the people the tender crops of social and other benefits for which their mouths are watering and which members in all parts of the house would wish them to enjoy."

Stanley Holmes, Liberal National, said Britain faces a "tremendous battle" against America in foreign trade.

"America has not felt the war at all but has carried on with its factories exactly in the same way as in peace. Their machinery is new and up to date. America has been striding on with new and attractive ideas while we have been prevented from doing anything at all," he asserted.

Capital Replacement

George Benson, a Labor member, in calling for removal of excess profits taxes to aid reconversion of industry, asserted American industry is using twice the horsepower per man power that Britain uses.

Reëquipment of British resources on anything like an adequate scale is not possible without help from the United States, he said. While Britain could not afford to borrow a single unnecessary dollar on current account, it is a different matter to borrow money for rapid reëquipment of industry on capital account, he asserted.

With a national debt of $94,832,000,000 Britain must borrow another $9,200,000,000 to meet the deficit for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1946, forecast by Dalton.

Witnesses at Lyons Divorce Hearing

Mrs. Christopher Hill (left) of the Lake Shore club and Lake Geneva, Wis., and Mrs. Cora A. Lasch, cook in the Dr. Horace Lyons home, who were witnesses yesterday in the Lyons divorce hearing.

Mrs. Louise Melges, another witness in the Lyons hearing.

Tells of Kiss

Earl K. Brown, a private detective, testified yesterday before a jury in the Superior court of Judge John A. Sbarbaro that he watched Dr. Horace Lyons, 54, ear, nose, and throat specialist, kiss Mrs. Jeanette Gartz, widow of Adolph F. Gartz, plumbing heir, while they were motoring at Irving Park rd. and the Outer dr. last June 21.

Brown was called by Benjamin Ehrlich, attorney for Mrs. Alice Lyons, heiress to an Indianapolis traction fortune, who is seeking separate maintenance. Dr. Lyons' cross bill for divorce charges habitual drunkenness.

Brown said he was employed by Mrs. Lyons, who resides in the Stevens hotel. He testified Dr. Lyons picked up Mrs. Gartz at the entrance of the Ambassador East hotel and drove to the Gartz estate at Lake Geneva.

Dr. Lyons, recalled by his attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr., insisted the woman in his automobile was his sister, Miss Gladys Lyons, and denied kissing her. Closing arguments in the trial will be made today.

CANADA TO TAKE OVER ALASKAN HIGHWAY APRIL 1

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 24—Operation of the Alaska highway will be taken over by the Canadian army April 1 and the royal Canadian air force will take full control of the northwest aerial staging route to Alaska June 1, L. S. St. Laurent, acting secretary of state for external affairs, announced in the house of commons today.

The United States army has been responsible for maintaining the highway and for operating the parallel landline communications system of telephones, telegraph, and teletype facilities. Air fields, stretching from Edmonton to Alaska, are under control of the R. C. A. F., but many facilities are operated by United States military authorities.

"With the war at an end, the United States government is anxious to withdraw from the responsibility it assumed in northwestern Canada," St. Laurent said.

He recalled that Canada's agreement with the United States provided that "that part of the highway within Canada should become an integral part of the Canadian highway system, with no discriminatory conditions imposed as to use of the road as between Canadian and United States civilian traffic."

"We have repaid the United States the costs of the construction of the air fields and landline system," he continued.

REPORT 900,000 SOVIET TROOPS INSIDE HUNGARY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 20 [Delayed]—The Red army occupying Hungary totals 900,000 troops, according to Hungarian officials whose estimate is based on the amount of food requisitioned by the Reds.

At a recent allied control council meeting the American general, William Key, it is reported, asked the Russian general, Klementi Voroshilov, the size of the Red army in Hungary. "I cannot give the exact figures," the marshal replied. "Will you ascertain the number and let me know?" insisted Key.

"There are a great many things we would like to know about the American army which you do not tell us," it is reported Voroshilov replied. "No. 1 is the details of the atomic bomb."

Lake Carriers Firing Up Just to Keep Men Warm

Dense smoke poured yesterday from the funnels of the Wolverine and Sable, the navy aircraft carriers tied up near Navy pier. The smoke, navy officers explained, didn't mean that the vessels were going anywhere. They were firing up merely to keep the crews warm.

MARINE CORPS CHIEF ASSAILS MERGER PLAN

BY PHILIP DODD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Gen. Vandegrift

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—Control of the nation's military forces by a small clique of politically minded officers may be the result of merging the army and navy, Gen. Vandegrift, marine corps commandant, told the senate military affairs committee today.

Testifying on pending bills to place the army and navy under a single cabinet secretary, Vandegrift urged retention of the war and navy departments in their present form and establishment of the joint chiefs of staff on a permanent basis as a coördinating agency.

"I hope," said Vandegrift, "that congress will consider the real effect and meaning of unification. It means that absolute control of the armed services may at some time in the future pass into the hands of a small, highly organized, and politically acute group of officers representing only one shade of military opinion.

Beribboned General

"It means that there would then ensue a leveling process under the name of coördination in the course of which valuable branches might first be curbed and then be eliminated altogether."

Vandegrift, whose five rows of campaign ribbons, topped with the congressional medal of honor won at Guadalcanal, make him one of the most beribboned officers in the capital, argued for retaining the entity of such forces as the marine corps.

"What makes men fight?" asked Vandegrift. "It cannot be patriotism alone. . . . The answer is the esprit de corps and morale of the group. Every organization, corps, branch, and service has it in some form or there would never be a battle won. . . .

"Yet the logical, inevitable result of unification is to paint out these brilliant and distinctive colorings with a heavy coat of anonymous, burocratic grey. . . . Fifty dollars a month was not the consideration that led men to die storming Iwo."

"Would Hinder Research"

Elimination of competition between the services under "the sedative effect of a throttling and arbitrary regime" would hinder research in military weapons and tactics, Vandegrift asserted. The marine corps, for example, he said, always has led in developing amphibious operations, particularly since the World war, when the Gallipoli campaign showed the disastrous results of attempting such operations without special equipment and training.

"The realization that we would inevitably engage in an oceanic war with Japan involving the seizure of heavily defended island bases," said Vandegrift, "spurred us to special development efforts which began in 1921 and are still in progress . . .

"We worked alone, but we persevered in our special field and when, at long last, it finally became clear to all that amphibious actions was the key to World War II., we shared our doctrine, our know-how, and our equipment."

STORM FLOODS BRITISH SHORES WITH SEA MINES

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Mountainous seas and 100 mile an hour gales washed deadly stray mines ashore over a 75 mile stretch of seafront and flooded holiday towns today in Britain's worst storm in 20 years.

Four mines exploded under the Isle of Wight cliffs, shattering nearby windows, and another live mine was hurled ashore onto a road near Brighton. Authorities closed the road. The town of Abbotsbury was shaken by a mine explosion.

At least three persons were killed as the storm, already raging into its second night, spread new ruin along the battered south coast. Weathermen forecast another 24 hours of the gales, which have paralyzed English channel shipping.

RED CROSS EXPLAINS WHY IT SKIPPED GI'S: FAILED TO GET NOTICE

Failure of the Red Cross to serve 900 American veterans of the South Pacific aboard a troop train while distributing sandwiches, cigarets, ice cream, and candy bars to 295 British soldiers aboard an adjoining train in the yards near Canal st. and Roosevelt rd. yesterday was blamed by Red Cross officials on failure of military officials to notify them of the American troops' arrival.

"The Red Cross was requested by the military to meet the returning prisoners of war, but we had not been notified or requested to service the American navy troop train and had no previous knowledge of its arrival," said Russell Winslow, manager of the Chicago chapter.

The Americans booed the canteen workers as they passed packages among the British prisoners of war who were on their way home after being liberated from Jap prison camps. Winslow said six American troop trains were met by the Red Cross in Chicago during the day in addition to the British troop train.

OUSTED UNRRA AID DENOUNCES BRITISH 'RULE'

Charges Tories Dominate Relief in Europe

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—John Beecher, former united nations relief and rehabilitation administration official in Stuttgart, Germany, said today he and six members of his displaced persons team there were relieved of duty Aug. 30 by a British superior "without hearing, charges, or investigation."

He ascribed his removal to what he termed his refusal to let UNRRA operations be used "as an instrument of British foreign policy."

The American army commander in the area, Col. Charles Jackson, and the chief Russian repatriation officer in the American zone, Col. Vlas Gavrilov, interceded for him, Beecher said, but obtained no explanation.

"Controled by Tories"

"We found," Beecher said in an oral statement, "that UNRRA was largely controled by British tories of the most unregenerate stamp." He said A. T. Bernet-Ficklin, the area field supervisor, was responsible for his removal and described him as "a British foreign office employe for 20 years."

Beecher said that the British officials in UNRRA were "the old school tie type, with large numbers of them drawn from the British army and colonial service pension lists."

"Altho supposedly international civil servants," he added, "they went by former military titles, and in some cases they even tried to make us salute them."

Assails London's "Domination"

Beecher said the London office of the UNRRA was in charge of all operations in Europe and was "completely autonomous" and "dominated by the British, and that extends into the field, where the British hold key posts."

He said that representatives of the Polish government in London "got preference over Americans in assignments" and declared "UNRRA hired London Poles by the hundreds."

Beecher is a former New York regional director of the President's committee on fair employment practices and former southern regional chief of the migratory labor program of the farm security administration.

Denial by Headquarters

UNRRA headquarters in Washington, D. C., however, denied that the British "or any one other member government" dominated UNRRA operations in Europe, and expressed surprise that Beecher had made the charge.

Roy F. Hendrickson, UNRRA deputy director general, said UNRRA headquarters knew of only five employes, including Beecher, who had been dismissed in Germany and returned to Washington.

"After their arrival in Washington they were given an extended hearing by myself and other senior officials of UNRRA," Hendrickson said. "We immediately instituted an investigation into the propriety of their dismissal. This investigation has been going on for the past 10 days."

Charge Called Insubordination

Hendrickson declared the charge made against the five was insubordination and that it included no political implications.

Morse Salisbury, UNRRA public relations director, said the dismissal was made by an American UNRRA official, Alex E. Squadrilli of Riverside, Cal.

Salisbury said the European operations are directed from London by British Lt. Gen. Humfrey Gale.

FRENCH PARLEY TO SEEK 3-WAY COALITION RULE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, Oct. 24—Gen. de Gaulle is scheduled to begin consultations tomorrow with leaders of three big parties victorious in Sunday's elections with a view to forming a national union cabinet during the next seven months. During this period the newly elected French constituent assembly is to draft a constitution for France.

The Socialists and allied groups won 151 seats in the assembly; the Communists and allies 152; Popular Republican Movement, 138. Still to be accounted for are 38 seats.

The three groups do not see eye to eye on two points—foreign policy about the formation of a western European bloc of nations and state subsidy of religious [Catholic] schools.

Some observers today thought a solution had been found by uniting the three parties on a program of domestic reform based on the much publicized program of the national council of resistance. A coalition cabinet of the three groups is thus regarded as likely.

WAR POSTSCRIPT ARRIVES IN CITY; IT'S ROCKET SHIP

The medium rocket ship LSM [R]-507 tied up at the Michigan av. bridge yesterday in preparation for the Navy day celebration Saturday. Visitors will be allowed to visit the ship tomorrow, Saturday, and Sunday, from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m.

A new type rocket ship, the 507, has 20 five-inch rocket launches, each capable of firing 24 rounds a minute. The rocket's range is two and a half to five miles. The craft, one of 48 built about the time of the war's end, is superior to the rocket ship type which saw action in that it is able to fire continuously while the old type ship had to withdraw for reloading after one salvo.

Naval Units to Parade

Under command of Lt. Comdr. A. G. Walser of Chicago, the 507 is 203 feet long, has a 34 foot beam, and weighs 1,000 tons. It carries a crew of 137. It also has four 4.2 inch mortars, twin 40 millimeter anti-aircraft guns, and four twin 20 millimeter guns, plus a 5 inch rifle. Rocket launchers and guns are controlled from one central fire control unit.

The 507, the LST 312, and three P-T boats will take part in the Navy day week-end. A parade of 3,000 sailors from Great Lakes, one company of marines, a company of WAVES, and 200 coast guard volunteers will march at 10 a. m. Saturday.

Starting at Monroe st., the parade will move north in Michigan av. to Randolph st., west to State st., south to Jackson blvd., west to La Salle st., and north past the city hall reviewing stand.

Adm. Mitscher to be Guest

Vice Adm. Mitscher, commander of famed task force 58, will be present on the reviewing stand as will Vice Adm. A. S. Carpender, commandant of the 9th naval district.

The LST 312 will be the scene of six pre-Navy day broadcasts today and tomorrow from station W-G-N. These will include the Man on the Street program at 2:15 p. m. today. Country Sheriff will be presented before the 100 man crew tonight and transcribed for broadcast at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

TRUMAN EDICT ENDS MILITARY CONTROL IN HAWAIIAN TERRITORY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—Military control in Hawaii was ordered ended today by President Truman. His action, which suspended an order issued by the late President Roosevelt Oct. 18, 1944, closed the books on a prolonged dispute between the federal courts and military authorities over martial rule on the islands.

President Truman's order said that exercise of military control in Hawaii no longer was necessary in the interest of national defense.

The order of Oct. 18, 1944, which became effective a year ago today, gave the military commander of Hawaii virtually complete control over the territory because it empowered him to prescribe defense regulations, inciding blackouts and curfews, to supervise enemy aliens, to exclude persons from military areas, and to protect shipping.

ALLIES AGREE TO TWO-THIRD VOTE ON PEACE ISSUES

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The executive committee of the united nations' preparatory commission today unanimously approved a rule requiring a two-thirds vote of the general assembly on issues of peace and security. On issues other than peace and security a simple majority will be sufficient.

The committee continued debate on the question of abolition of the nominating committee of the assembly, urged by the Russians. The nominating committee has no functions except to nominate seven vice presidents of the assembly and presidents of the main assembly committees.

POLICE CAPTAIN TOLD WHEN IT'S HOOP-LA TIME

Word to 'Open Up' Passed Along to Each One

(This is the fourth of a series of articles in a survey of the Chicago police department, the things it does well, and the things it does poorly, its make-up and recommendations for its improvement.)

BY ORVILLE DWYER

Here are two examples of the play of machine politics on the police department in Chicago:

Some weeks before the city election in 1943 a political parade was held on Michigan av. Police captains from various districts with contingents of their men were assigned to keep the crowd in order. A high ranking police officer in uniform walked from one end of the parade to the other, approaching captains from sections where gambling and vice usually flourish and where night clubs and "clip" establishments of all categories run wide open.

"In Charge of Hoop-La"

He addressed by first name each captain he buttonholed.

"George," he would say, "you know Commissioner Allman is going out of town. So and so will be in charge of the hoop-la. The city administration was wondering whether you'd throw that district of yours open so they can get some votes."

Half a dozen captains recall this incident and verify it. Their collective comment is: "A word to the wise is sufficient. The districts were tossed up for grabs, until after election day, at least."

A captain in charge of a special detail was told that the "heat" was on and that public opinion had crystalized against the administration in connection with his activities. The city hall needed an "out."

Told He Will Be Fired

A political leader told him:

"We'll have to send you to the trial board—and you'll be fired. But don't worry. We'll get you —— [naming a lawyer] and he'll get a court order to put you back.

But the captain wouldn't have it.

"To h—l with you," he is quoted as raging. "My wife's had a stroke now over what you politicians are doing. If I'm fired, I'll blast the city hall off the map!"

He was sent to the trial board but exonerated.

Hoodlums Among Retainers

Veteran police reporters explain:

"Politics plays a big part in controling the police department. Detection and punishment for murder, robbery, and rape are influenced by political connections. Ward committeemen are surrounded by retainers who help them keep the vote right. Some of the retainers are hoodlums; many are criminals of a worse stripe.

"They deliver votes at the polls. When these vote getters find themselves in trouble with the police, then the politicians have to get them out. This is the way in which crime goes hand in hand with politics and is one of the chief reasons for frequent inefficiency of the police.

"Many of the patrolmen owe their jobs to the ward committeemen. Many of the higher officers owe their rank to the city hall organization.

Taking Orders Long While

"By the time policemen get to be captains with political help they have long been taking orders from politicians.

"A captain may be personally honest. But when he is told to mind his own business and let gambling or vice go in a district or the city hall machine gives orders, the captain does as he is told. He takes the position that such things are up to the mayor and the commissioner to decide, not up to him.

Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, in his 1945 annual report to the commission's members and directors, said:

"In any community perhaps the most powerful political figure is the ward committeeman and next to him the alderman. Sometimes they are one and the same person. The power of the ward committeeman is tremendous. In some instances his strength politically reaches amazing proportions.

"Gives Orders to Police"

"He gives orders to the police. He asks the transfer of police captains who fail to do his bidding. Thru him licenses are arranged and privileges granted. He is the man who has the power to get things done."

The Chicago Crime commission asserts that there are in Chicago a number of communities from which bloc votes are delivered at will by leaders who divide their activities between politics and gambling. Director Peterson, asserts that delivery of bloc votes depends largely on immunity from police interference.

Half in Nine Districts

"Of a total of 39,331 principal crimes committed in Chicago in 1944," he said, "almost half were in nine police districts, the 1st, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 25th, 27th, 35th, and 38th; 85 out of 154 murders were in the 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th, and 22d districts; 197 out of 363 rape offenses [forceable, statutory, and attempted rape] were in the 3d, 4th, 5th, 7th, and 22d districts. I could go on showing that the same districts recur in connection with robbery, assaults to kill, mayhem, bomb explosions, and other crimes of violence. Bloc votes are delivered from such sections."

Another contribution towards the eventual compliance of most policemen is policemen's pay. Captains, who in their residential communities are psychologically placed on a par with $15,000-$20,000 a year professional and business men, are paid only $4,500 a year.

Criminologists, police officers and politicians consider this scale of police salaries a factor in keeping police subjugated and compliant to political orders.

[Another of this series of articles will appear in an early issue.]

Robert Lisiecki, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lisiecki, 8347 Mackinaw av., was shot in the right forearm by his chum, Daniel Szumski, 8, of 8345 Mackinaw av., with a rusty revolver the boys found while playing in a vacant lot at 8344 Mackinaw av. Robert was taken to Jackson Park hospital.

HIRE 200 VETS AS COPS, URGES COUNCIL GROUP

The city council finance committee yesterday approved a recommendation by Mayor Kelly that Police Commissioner Allman be authorized to employ 200 ex-service men as temporary policemen, pending a civil service examination.

The committee also recommended employment by the fire department of 35 men who were on the eligible list when they entered war service. If the men are hired, they will be used to man the fire department's five ambulances, which are now unused. Only one ambulance is now operated by the department.

Both recommendations will be submitted at today's council meeting.

NORWAY KEEPS SECRET DETAILS OF QUISLING END

Firing Squad, Witnesses Whisked to Seclusion

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 24 (AP)—Vidkun Quisling fell before a firing squad in a secret execution in rain swept Akershus fortress early today. Norway calmly accepted the news as the end of the black chapter of her greatest traitor.

Quisling, 58, died at 2:40 a. m. [8:40 p. m. Chicago time, Tuesday]. The people he sought to lead as Hitler's puppet premier were not told until 9 a. m.

Quisling was led from his cell at Moellergaten 19 at 2 a. m. and taken to Akershus, after his Russian born wife's appeal for a reprieve had been rejected by the king and his cabinet. He was led thru a double row of armed guards to the highest wall of the fortress.

Bareheaded and in a pouring rain and lashing wind, he faced his executioners—10 riflemen of the Norwegian military police, youths once forced to flee from the Quisling regime.

Witnesses Anonymous

The final act was so closely veiled in secrecy that tonight Norway's newspapers could disclose little more than the bare official announcement.

Only four persons witnessed the execution besides the firing squad. They were Chief of Police Christian Welhaven and two doctors and one clergyman. Welhaven was in seclusion tonight and the other three witnesses remained anonymous. The firing squad apparently was whisked to different parts of Norway.

The director of Akershus fortress knew nothing of the execution until he was told upon awakening this morning. Military officers in the fortress heard shots during the night, but did not know what was happening.

Not even Quisling's wife knew in advance that the judgment of the country's highest court was to be carried out.

May Take Brain for Study

The death of the most hated man in Norway followed by nine days the execution of France's convicted arch-traitor—Pierre Laval.

It was not disclosed whether Quisling made any last minute statement. During his three-week trial he called himself "the savior of Scandinavia," the "martyr of Norway," and in his final plea called himself "Quisling, the patriot."

Experts examined him and found him sane. A foreign affairs spokesman intimated, after the execution, that his brain would be removed for study. The body presumably will be turned over to relatives for burial in his native province of Telemark.

German Mayor Freed by British Arrested Again

BERLIN, Oct. 24 [Reuters]—Frederich Bachmann, the soviet appointed mayor of Tiergarten, who was arrested on charges of disobeying British military government orders, was freed by a British military court tonight. As he left the courthouse he was rearrested by the German civilian police. Details of the charges against him have not been disclosed.

BRITAIN'S DOORS SHUT TO REFUGEE POLISH CHIDREN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Oct. 24—The British government is reluctant to open its doors to provide temporary refuge for homeless, orphaned Polish children in this country, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin indicated today in the house of commons.

Told by Henderson Steward, Liberal, that many Britons desired to offer hospitality to large numbers of homeless Polish children, Bevin insisted that it was a problem for the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration and the Polish provisional government to solve.

Asked by Kenneth Lindsay, Independent, whether he was satisfied that the UNRRA or any other body was dealing adequately with the problem, Bevin said that in the present political situation in Europe he did not believe that it was possible to devise any organization capable of grappling with it.

Pressed to allow some Polish children to come to Britain, Bevin replied, "If you start opening the door for one there are so many millions in the same position."

Swiss Release Frozen Funds of Soviet Banks

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Swiss political department today announced frozen soviet state bank funds in Switzerland had been released. It said that the soviet bank agreed Swiss credits established in Russia in 1941 for importation of goods into Switzerland were now repayable. The action is one of a series of mutual overtures between the two countries, which maintain no diplomatic relations.

NAVY CITES LST CONVERTED INTO FIRST AID SHIP

BY JOSEPH HEARST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

ABOARD LST 464, Tsingtao Harbar, China, Oct. 24—There was a time when the navy department was pretty put out because this LST had been converted into a first aid ship without express authority, but it was different today when she was cited for operations in the Philippines by Navy Secretatry Forrestal.

Vice Adm. Daniel E. Barbey, commander of the 7th amphibious force, read the citation as the crew and special medical unit stood on deck. Among them were 70 men, including 13 from Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana, who were aboard during the period of Oct. 24 to Dec. 30 last year—the period for which she was cited.

Carried on Gallantly

The citation said that, "operating gallantly despite the blacked out harbor, rough waters, enemy gunfire and repeated dive bombing and suicide attacks," LST 464 carried on her vital service of receiving and caring for casualties prior to their transfer to hospital ships. It added that "she was recognized by the enemy as a potential factor toward the success of our forces and was singled out as a major target for Japanese airmen."

Later Adm. Barbey recalled that when, thru necessity during the New Guinea campaign, he converted the 464 into a first aid ship, someone in Washington, D. C., questioned his authority to do so. Subsequently, he said, hundreds of wounded were cared for aboard the ship.

Chicagoans Aboard Ship

He told the crew that the ship was the first of her kind and the only one of her type to serve thru the war in specialized hospital work and recalled that because her decks bristled with guns she never was allowed safe conduct under the Geneva convention rules.

Men still aboard the ship who served thru the campaign include John Flicker, Springfield, Ill.; Jeremiah J. Gorman, 7017 Fairfield av., Chicago; Homer Jordan, 2161 Monroe st., Granite City, Ill.; Edward J. Motulewicz, 4733 S. Honore st., Chicago; Herman E. Stolte, 1080 N. Oakdale, Decatur, Ill.; Peter S. Zivich, 1604 N. E st., Kewanee, Ill.; Roger C. Bertran, Marengo, Ill.; Marvin A. Fleck, Benoit, Wis.; Joseph W. Reiter, Pickett, Wis.; John R. Postman, 1014 67th, Kenosha, Wis.; Harold R. SINGAPORE GIs SUFFER UNDER BRITISH THUMBS

Told to Do Nothing, Just Wait

BY ALFRED WAGG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlements, Oct. 24—Plans were being made today by the British navy and air forces for extensive entertainment of American navy men on visits here with a view to offsetting the effects of bad treatment of Americans in the last few weeks.

Stressing an expressed desire for coöperation, British authorities announced that the flag officer in Malaya, Rear Adm. J. A. V. Morse, and Brigadier McKerran were organizing parties to which, it was stated, Chinese and Malayan citizens probably will be invited.

Yanks' Morale Suffers

Meantime, the morale of the contingent of fewer than 100 Americans here is suffering, many having been angered by the state department representatives, who isolated themselves as incidents between the Americans and the British mounted.

The old pre-war routine of considering this part of the world strictly a British back yard has forced Americans to beg favors such as simple billets for our men, and led to an announcement among the American colony that it would be best to follow the British policy as our own.

The following recent incidents were typical:

A British officer entered a house to which American flyers were assigned and took over after much ranting. The Americans were advised they should accept the situation, altho they were there under British orders and had fixed up the quarters.

Air Marshal Keith Parks ordered American C-54s to discontinue using the Bangkok and Singapore air fields, saying the planes were breaking up the runways, but the British continue using the fields for their lend-lease B-24s or Liberators.

Flying Schedules Barred

As regards American aircraft flying over what are termed British routes, Marshal Parks said that the Americans could supply their own people with their C-47 aircraft but that the aircraft could not fly schedules.

Street fights and insults are common.

Two problems confront Americans in this area. One is that in Java, where the ability of the united nations to solve an eastern problem is being tested, the United States policy is hands off, do nothing, wait. Many believe America has a right to an interest in the affairs of southeast Asia.

Americans in Singapore have been unofficially advised that the policy of the American government is to do nothing on the settlement of the disputes between the Indonesians and the Dutch and the Annamese and the French, and to do as little as possible elsewhere.

FIRST OF BRITISH TROOPS TO LAND IN JAPAN JAN. 1

To Act as Combat Teams in All Areas

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

TOKYO, Oct. 24.—The first of 40,000 British troops to share the task of occupying Japan will arrive here Jan. 1, it was authoritatively stated today.

The force will consist of Australians, New Zealanders, British, and Indian troops. They will be distributed in all sections of Japan as reenforced regimental combat teams and probably will be under American command.

The Australians, who are expected to be the first to arrive, will be the 6th, 7th, and 9th divisions which fought at Tobruk, in the middle east, and in New Guinea. New recruits will supplement the veterans left in these units. The volunteers will be sent back to Australia in a maximum of 18 months.

Zealanders Coming from Italy

The New Zealand contingent will consist of a brigade or more to be shipped here from Italy. Composition of the British and Indian troops was not disclosed.

A large section of the Australian air force will be assigned to Japan, probably under the command of the American 5th air force. All of the British contingents will furnish their own supplies.

It was learned that plans to carry out Gen. MacArthur's promise that the occupation of Japan will require only 200,000 Americans already have been made. Starting about Jan. 1 Gen. Kruger's 6th army will cease to exist in Japan, with the remaining divisions transferred to Lt. Gen. Eichelberger's 8th army.

These, with Maj. Gen. Chase's 1st cavalry division regulars and Maj. Gen. Swing's 11th air borne units, constitute the American army ground troops who will hold Japan.

Three Divisions for Korea

In addition it was expected that one marine division will remain here—probably the 22d—and two army divisions will occupy Korea, the 6th and 7th.

Air force personnel here number 75,000. The 7th air force is being broken up and the 13th probably will be assigned to act as a token force in the Philippines. The fate of the strategic air force consisting of the 8th and 20th air forces is unsettled.

Thus with more than 100,000 ground troops, 75,000 flyers, port companies, headquarters organizations, and other units the total of 200,000 is about to be reached.

The occupation will center about five major air bases—Tokyo, Osaka, Shimonseki, and Sapporo in the home islands and Seoul in Korea. From these bases it is expected troops can be flown to any necessary area in a brief time, giving a mobility previously unknown in any army.

U. S. CHURCHMEN REACH TOKYO TO BUILD GOOD WILL

TOKYO, Oct. 25 [Thursday]—(AP)—A deputation of American Protestant churchmen has arrived in Tokyo for the declared purpose "of laying the spiritual foundations for an enduring peace between the United States and Japan."

The churchmen explained their visit bore no relation to the occupation administration, but said it had been approved by President Truman, Gen. MacArthur, and the state department.

The deputation included Dr. Douglas Horton, New York, chairman of the American committee for the World Council of Churches; Bishop James C. Baker, Los Angeles, chairman of the international missionary council; Dr. Lyman J. Shaefer, New York, chairman of the Japan committee of the foreign missions conference of North America, and Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, New York, executive secretary of the department of international justice and good will of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Seize Frankfurt Homes to House 1,200 Jews

Sgt. Ayres Home

San Francisco, Oct. 24 (AP)—Sgt. Lew Ayres, who entered World War II. as a conscientious objector, came back from the Pacific war zone today and said that seeing Americans in action made him "see things in a different light." He thinks conscription "might not be a bad idea."

Back from 22 months' overseas' duty which included service in New Guinea, Leyte, and Luzon in the Philippines, Ayres was not sure he would enter the ministry, as he once contemplated, and neither was he sure he would return to pictures. Admittedly bewildered, he said he wants to do "something to teach men to understand one another."

"There are some pictures being made now," he went on, "some documentary and educational films which have almost a spiritual quality. I might go into some of those." He said he had no offers from Hollywood studios.

1,091 CAPTIVES' ASHES LEAVE JAPAN BY PLANE

EN ROUTE FROM TOKYO, JAPAN, TO MANILA, P. I., Oct. 24 (AP)—The ashes of 1,091 persons who died in Japanese captivity are being flown on this plane to Manila. Half the dead were Americans. At Manila the ashes of the Americans will be given No. 1 priority and carried by plane to the United States. Those of the others will be put in a cemetery to remain until their governments claim them.

"This movement of ashes is just the beginning," said 2d Lt. Roy Carter, Port Huron, Mich., in charge of the cargo. "All these earthen jars had been on shelves in one temple at Osaka. There were others over all Japan. The Japanese cremated the bodies and a Buddhist priest prayed over them daily at the temple.

"Most of the victims were captured in the Philippines, East Indies, and Malaya and died long ago, but there were some B-29 flyers who died within the last year."

LAUNDRY DRIVER ROBBED

Philip Damore, a laundry driver, told police yesterday that two Negroes held him up at 52d st. and Wentworth av. and took $30.

JAPAN ORDERED TO RECALL ALL ENVOYS ABROAD

TOKYO, Oct. 25 [Thursday]—(AP)—Gen. MacArthur, acting "at the direction of the allied powers," isolated Japan diplomatically today in one of the most drastic directives yet issued by the supreme allied commander.

Gen. MacArthur ordered the Japanese government to transfer all diplomatic and consular property and archives thruout the world to allied powers and to recall its diplomatic and consular representatives in neutral countries. He also ordered the cessation of all functions with foreign governments except for routine matters.

[The action followed recent criticism from soviet Russia that MacArthur's policy toward Japan was too soft. Russia accompanied the criticism by a recommendation that a four power council government replace the present MacArthur dominated setup.]

The orders were relayed from the joint chiefs of staff in Washington, D. C.

Relayed from Washington

Food and a free press became primary problems today of those running a hungry and ill-informed Japan.

Welfare Minister Hitoshi Ashida scouted estimates that several million Japanese might die of starvation this winter.

Nevertheless, he said, the situation was so serious he was planning to negotiate with the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration [UNRRA] for sufficient food to carry Nippon thru November and December. The newly harvested rice crop should ease the situation after the first of the year.

The welfare ministry began production of prefabricated buildings to house destitutes jammed into 80,000 leaking tin shacks in Tokyo and Yokohama. Ashida predicted 40,000 would be erected by Christmas. Many families are being moved into abandoned military barracks.

Warns Jap Papers

Japanese newspaper proprietors were bluntly told by American occupation authorities to "establish a free and independent press or make way for papers which will."

Col. Kenneth R. Dyke, chief of civil information and education, ordered the press to print more foreign news, explain objectives of occupation forces, and encourage free discussion of all issues including the sacrosanct position of the emperor.

Dyke criticized the newspapers for not telling the people clearly enough that they could at last enjoy "freedom of speech." The press printed Gen. MacArthur's order granting the right. But its meaning was largely lost on a populace whose very thoughts have been subject to police surveillance.

SENTENCE YAMASHITA TO DEATH MARCH ON BATAAN: WERMUTH

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 24 (AP)—Maj. Arthur Wermuth, the "one man army of Bataan," has his own idea of what should be done with Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, awaiting trial in Manila as a war criminal.

"Take Yamashita and make him walk the 160 miles our men walked without water," the Chicago hero told Stars and Stripes, recalling the Bataan death march perpetrated under Yamashita's predecessor, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, now under arrest in Japan.

"If he stops for a drink, jab him with a bayonet. At the end of the march, if he hasn't got dysentery give it to him. And then I would take him to America and hang him in the biggest stadium there."

LAWRENCE O'BRIEN ROBBED

Lawrence J. O'Brien, former Democratic state representative, who said he was the manager of the tavern at 620 N. Clark st., reported to police yesterday burglars stole a steel safe containing personal papers and an undetermined amount of cash and $275 in whisky.

By MARK MERIT

We had a discussion, the conductor of this towerlet of type and a good friend—a hard headed business man. We were enthusiastically explaining to him the unusual Schenley Retirement and Benefit Plan and the security for the future it offers to all of us who derive our livelihood as employees of this widely diversified business. We explained, of course, that our employees make no financial contribution to the retirement pension fund phase of the Plan. "Hmm," said our hard headed friend, "some people might call that benevolent despotism."

And then we read of the passing of Milton Hershey. Thousands will mourn him, all of their lives; and their children and grandchildren will know of his greatness. Here was a man who learned success from his failures. Here was a man who turned a philanthropic desire into practise. The thousands who benefited from the good homes and schools and other boons to humanity his practical idealism made possible, have a name for it—and that name certainly is not Utopia, not paternalism, not benevolent despotism. We'll call it Humanics!

There will be monuments for Milton Hershey. They will arise in the hearts and in the memories of those who found this world a better place in which to live—because he lived.

He was a great American!

NO ONE CAN STOP INDIES FREEDOM MOVE: SOEKARNO

Wants U.S. and Britain to Probe Situation

Urge Recognition

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Fifty-six Laborite members of parliament signed a petition tonight asking the British Labor government to urge France and the Netherlands to recognize the nationalist movements in French Indo-China and Indonesia.

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Soekarno of the "Indonesian republic" declared today that "no power on earth" can stop the independence movement in the Dutch East Indies. He said he would invite committees from the United States congress and British commons to visit Indonesia to see "the true situation."

He promised an "open door policy as far as foreign investors are concerned," adding:

"We don't want to throw the Dutch into the sea. They can maintain their financial holdings here. These things can be arranged by a treaty with the Dutch."

Control Public Services

Soekarno said he had spent the last two weeks in western Java attempting to prevent his people from resorting to violence. He had "great difficulty," he added, trying to restrain "the extremist leaders."

Asked what was the strength of his republican movement and what percentage of Indonesians desired independence, he replied:

"It is not for me to say because I would be accused of making propaganda. I am quite content for impartial observers to come here and see for themselves."

Soekarno said his administration was in complete control of public services in the East Indies and added that the services were running smoothly, "to the wonderment of Dutch colonizers and despite chaotic conditions generally."

He accused the Dutch of flooding the country with newly made Japanese guilders to add to the problem of inflation, but declared his government would take quick action on the monetary situation.

Seek U. S. Aid

"The Dutch have no corner on financial brains," he said. "We can and will employ the best possible financial advisors from abroad. Right now we are seeking the aid of American financiers to advise my financial minister. We need American financial and technical help to develop our country."

Efforts to mediate the conflict were intensified. H. V. Van Mook, acting governor of the East Indies, sent three mediators, all Indonesians, to talk with Foreign Minister Soebardjo and to try to arrange a meeting with the Soekarno cabinet.

TRIBUNE WRITER FINDS ASHES OF CORP. HERBECK

BY DONALD STARR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Oct. 24—Two days ago a letter was delivered at The Tribune office in Tokyo from a Chicagoan seeking trace of a relative captured by the Japanese on Corregidor.

In it Edward Herbeck, an employe of the Chicago Tribune composing room, wrote that his nephew, Corp. Robert M. Herbeck, 34th pursuit squadron, who had been taken prisoner on Corregidor in May, 1942, when last reported by the war department in August this year was in a prison camp near Tokyo. Attempts to trace his nephew since then thru the Red Cross and war department failed, the elder Herbeck wrote, asking that any possible inquiries be pressed.

Upon invitation of an army officer in a chance meeting we entered a one story stone building this morning to inspect a newly established mortuary containing the ashes of 922 prisoners of war who died in Japanese prison camps. Search for the names of Chicagoans led to a little pine box which was placed along with others on neatly arranged shelves. The identification tag read:

"Robert M. Herbeck, P. O. W. 612, American corporal; destination of report, Mr. James A. Herbeck, 6442 S. Washtenaw av., Chicago; date of death unknown."

Other identification tags found on similar boxes were: Sgt. A. R. Martin, died June 8, 1945, next of kin, Mrs. William H. Martin, 303 S. Erie st., Depere, Wis.; Pvt. 1st Class Robert G. Teas, next of kin, Monica P. Teas, Streator, Ill.; Pvt. Guy Baker Virdenill, died Dec. 8, 1943; Pvt. Victor B. Balakas, next of kin, Joseph Balakas, 1414 S. 49th ct., Cicero, Ill., died Nov. 19, 1943; Pvt. 1st Class Ralph H. Grundy, next of kin, Willard G. Goudy, 367 S. Avenue H, Canton, Ill.; Howard E. Huffine, next of kin, Mrs. Hannah Peters, 18 Oaklye av., Elgin, Ill., died Jan., 1943.

ENLISTED IN 1940

Corp. Herbeck, son of James A. Herbeck of the Washtenaw av. address, and nephew of John and Edward Herbeck, Tribune employes, was a mail carrier before enlisting in the army air forces in 1940. He was stationed at Clark field, Manila, when war came. He had been graduated from Harper high school.

'War Is Still On,' So Dutch Continue to Train in U. S.

BY CHARLES GOTTHART

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Camp Lejeune, N. C., Oct. 24—Military security still prevents disclosure of the strength and destination of the royal Netherlands marines being trained at this United States marine base.

"The war is still going on so far as we are concerned," Col. M. R. de Bruyne, their commanding officer, said today in explaining the restrictions which he said were dictated by the combined chiefs of staff in Washington, D. C.

Several thousand Dutch youths, who began training as a unit last December, originally were intended to become part of an allied assault force in the western Pacific, to regain the Dutch East Indies from the Japs. The program was to have been completed and the men debarked for the Pacific as a small division next spring.

Amphibious Training

Their rigorous training in United States marine amphibious landing tactics was cut short when the Japs capitulated under Gen. MacArthur's American drive. Dutch and United States marine officers indicated the secrecy surrounding their destination was made necessary by the above mentioned restrictions, dictated by the combined chiefs of staff.

The Dutch thus far have been unable to get troops and supplies to the East Indies because of the lack of ships. What remains of their own navy and merchant fleet is still under control of joint allied commissions. Neither have they been able to debark several thousand civilian employes trained in Holland for post war government work in the islands.

Father Killed

Vitrually all of the Dutch youths here had harrowing experiences during the German occupation of their homeland before Holland's liberation. Many escaped thru the underground and made their way here.

Typical of the experiences was that of Corp. Franz Daco Henny, who was born at Ponca City, Okla., in 1923, and whose Dutch father was killed during the war after the family had moved to Europe in 1928. Henny was given the Dutch cross of merit yesterday for his heroism in aiding the underground movement. Hounded by secret police who were about to thwart his efforts to deliver important documents to an underground agent in Spain, Henny stabbed himself to gain time, and eventually delivered the papers.

Typical of the experiences of the Dutch officers is that of Maj. R. Hofstra, whose entire family, including brother, sister, and mother, perished in one German bomb raid over Holland. He has had no news of the fate of his wife and children since May, 1942, when he left his home in Soerabaja, Java, where he was an officer at the big Dutch naval base.

Trained Dutch Flyers

Eager to return to Java, Hofstra explained that he was one of the few Dutch military and civilian officials whom his government had evacuated from the islands. After Jap operations had made training of Dutch airmen in Australia impossible, Hofstra moved to Jackson, Miss., in May, 1942, and helped to train 800 Dutch air personnel who later operated bombers and fighters against the Japs.

The several thousand Dutch marines occupy Camp Davis, a former army establishment now a part of Camp Lejeune. Altho the Dutch marine corps is older than that of the United States, having been established in 1665, the corps borrowed American tactics and receives identical United States training. A Dutch shoulder patch distinguishes the men from American marines. Camp Davis is scheduled to be closed soon.

Came via Scotland

Most of the Dutch youths came to this country via Scotland, where they were given preliminary physical rehabilitation to overcome their years of malnutrition under German oppression. Otherwise, their officers explained, they would have been unable to handle a rifle or go thru any other rigorous marine training.

Many of them are homesick, and altho they like the United States, had visions of being quartered closer to their movie version of America, inspired by views of life in the big city. Altho this is one of the finest marine establishments in the country, it is in the wilderness and bus transportation to any of the reasonably close towns is nearly as rugged as an amphibious landing.

Peru Army Chief Duels Senator; Neither Is Hurt

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 24 [Reuters]—Gen. Federico Hurtado, inspector general of the Peruvian army, and Sen. Cesar Pardo Mansebo of the American Revolutionay party, today fought a duel with pistols in one of the main boulevards of the capital. Each fired three shots. Neither combatant was wounded. The duel arose out of comments made by Sen. Pardo on officers of the Peruvian army, which led to an exchange of blows.

USE LEND-LEASE GUNS TO COMBAT NATIVE REVOLTS

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—Billions of dollars worth of American lend-lease arms and other munitions are being employed by the allied countries in combating independence movements and in other repressions of freedom and democracy, it was disclosed today.

The only step taken by the Truman administration to deter the prostitution to this purpose of America's contribution of the arms that defeated despotism in the late war and saved the allies from destruction is a request that the United States emblem and other insignia be removed from lend-lease equipment.

Asks Emblem Be Removed

State Secretary Byrnes said at a press conference today that in the case of the revolt of the natives in Java the British and Dutch governments were specifically requested to remove the American emblem from the military equipment they had received from the United States. This, however, he added, is a general policy adopted some time ago and applying to post-war use of American lend-lease arms by all countries.

The object is to disassociate the United States from responsibility for the use of such equipment in internal disturbances or any other situation bearing a political connotation. It is in pursuance of the administration policy to keep hands off and take no sides in the revolutions and brewing revolutions in various parts of the world.

Whether anything more could be done to curb such use of lend-lease arms depends, said Mr. Byrnes, on the existing lend-lease contracts for disposal of the equipment. Under most of these contracts the allies are using remaining arms already in hand for any purposes they wish and are continuing to receive purportedly nonmilitary equipment under order when the war ended.

Reds Still Get Equipment

The latest contract entered into is with Moscow, enabling the Russians to obtain lend-lease equipment in process of production for which they are to pay 400 million dollars in 30 years at 2⅜ per cent interest. A similar contract has been made with France for more than 1 billion dollars and contracts with other allies are under negotiation.

Also under negotiation is a 1 billion dollar loan to Russia by the Export-Import bank, which is entirely unrelated to a further loan of 6½ billions requested by Dictator Stalin. Byrnes denied reports that the 1 billion dollar loan had been pigeonholed pending an improvement in Russo-American relations.

The Russians are reported to be using vast amounts of American lend-lease arms and other equipment in their repressions of the Poles and other peoples being sovietized in eastern Europe.

Almost all the Russian trucks and other automotive equipment used to transport dissident Poles, Balts, and other eastern Europeans to the Russian prison and forced labor camps are American lend-leased.

Agreed on Policy

Whether the British and Dutch have complied with the American request is not known. The British asserted that lend-lease arms were being used to put down the Indonesian rebellion in strict accord with the allied occupation policy to which the United States had agreed.

In India, which is seething with independence sentiment, the British are controling the situation with a large army and enormous quantities of lend-lease arms. Up to July 1 last, 1¼ billion dollars worth of American aircraft, tanks, motor vehicles, ordnance, and ammunition had been shipped to India.

Lend-lease arms are also being used by the French against the native revolutionists in Indo-China. In China the Chungking government thruout the war used lend-lease equipment against the Communists but little has been heard of that since the Chinese factions composed their differences.

In Venezuela both the Medina government and the revolutionists used lend-lease aircraft and arms. The revolutionists appear to have won and probably will be recognized by the United States as the lawful government. Being labeled liberals, they enjoy the favor of the Truman administration, altho Medina had been sufficiently liberal to restore the Communist party to legality, to give women the vote, to legalize trade unions, and attack the feudal system of land tenure. The backbone of the revolution was the army group which considered Medina not conservative enough.

ONE CAR GARAGE HOME FOR FIVE IN GERMAN FAMILY

Tells of Housing Chaos in Bremen Area

BY LARRY RUE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, Oct. 24—Dislocation, confusion, and disorganization, commonly associated with war's aftermath, appear to have become chronic in the Bremen district of Germany.

I have been billeted in Bremerhaven in one of a series of apartment houses. These houses, extending several blocks, are requisitioned for our troops. The few remaining apartments still occupied by Germans are crowded to an unhealthy degree.

In my apartment—normally a four family house—there are now living 12 families of 18 adults and 14 children ranging in age from 1 to 15 years. Next door a family evicted from its home to make room for the military is living in two rooms. It numbers two adults and five children. Next door, too, a woman lives with her small son in a small room without gas or water. The boy sleeps in a deck chair.

Five in One Car Garage

Compared with others in the neighborhood, these people are fortunate. I formerly parked my automobile in a one car garage. A German asked me if I would mind if he moved in. I consented. I later went to Paris and when I returned two weeks later I discovered the German, his wife—she is 23—and three children, the oldest of whom is 5, all living in the small garage.

There was no water, gas, or electric light, no sanitary facilities whatsoever and no appliances for cooking, but it was a home for five weeks. The family has since moved into two small attic rooms and seemed very happy about it. They have a make-shift stove.

In my house, four families depend upon a gas stove with only four burners. Gas is available only three hours daily, one hour each at 6 a. m., noon, and night. Even with limited rations it requires great ingenuity to get a warm meal ready. Often food from one meal is wrapped to keep it warm for the next.

German Woman's View

Mrs. Rouits, who owns the five room apartment in which her family, another family, and I are billeted, was reluctant at first to discuss her difficulties.

"Why do you want to know them?" she asked. "Is it that you want to gloat over our miseries and sorrow? Our impression is that the more we German women and children suffer the more happy the American people will be."

"We are not getting much food," she continued. "We are allowed 500 grams [about 10 ounces] of fat per person for four weeks—300 grams of butter and 200 of margarine, and there are hardly any vegetables or fruits, which are the most vital for children. Children over six do not get a drop of milk except skimmed, which is needed so much in their years of growth.

"In the six years of war we never suffered the shortage of vegetables and fruit we have now. We are sincerely worried over our daily bread. How it is going to be this winter is the question all the women in Germany are asking today."

Bremen and Bremerhaven are more than half destroyed from the bombing raids, so that the housing conditions described are not exceptional in either city.

Reds Slip; Dresden Hungers

BERLIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Red army's official newspaper today declared a failure in the denazification program in the Russian occupation zone had brought Dresden, once Germany's eighth largest city, to the verge of famine last month. It charged that 43 Nazi party members—since dismissed—conspired to sabotage the collection and distribution of supplies.

Homes for 3,000

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Herman Goering housing development at Regensburg, built in 1938 to house airplane factory workers, has been cleared of its German occupants and will be used to house 3,000 displaced persons, the United States military government said today.

Tuberculosis Cases Multiply

WIESBADEN, Germany, Oct. 24 (AP)—The military government said today that tuberculosis had increased three-fold among German civilians and was second only to venereal diseases as a menace to United States occupation troops. From 300 to 500 new cases have been reported each week and deaths may reach 250 per 100,000 population this year, eight times the pre-war German rate, the announcement said.

SEES U.S., BRITAIN FIGHTING RUSSIA IN FRANCE IN '64

BY HENRY WALES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

IN THE AMERICAN HOSPITAL, Paris, Oct. 24—"The results of the French elections on Sunday disclose how the United States and Britain will be able to fight Russia in the inevitable war about 20 years hence," said a veteran member of the French ministry of foreign affairs today.

This diplomat, whom I have known for 20 years, called on me here today after I had telephoned him. He prudently remained gloved as a precaution against catching the itch that I picked up while investigating conditions in central Europe and came here to have treated.

"If the Communists had won a clear cut majority," he said, "you Anglo-Saxons would have had no bridgehead on the continent in about 1964 on which to come to grips with the Red army. The Russians learned much about defending a shore line from the Normandy operations last year.

France to Be Cockpit, He Says

"With France remaining a bourgeois state, you Anglo-Saxons now are assured of finding a battlefield for the Russian conflict, and it is my country again which must suffer."

My friend is no Red-baiter; Aristide Briand frequently called him a bolshevik when he urged closer collaboration with the soviets in the '20s. He went on:

"Gen. de Gaulle now has two solid blocs of equal strength, the Communists and the Socialists, with the Catholic Popular Republican Movement [PRM] to balance against them. Time will weaker the Red faction as long as France remains primarily an agricultural nation with the ownership of land divided so evenly among the peasants.

"Even if De Gaulle maintains what you call a cocky attitude toward Washington, D. C., and London, President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee of Britain are obligated to support France and create in her the strongest possible bulwark in Europe against the time when they will clash with the soviets and require an area in which to stage the struggle."

Reads Europe's Future

The future of the continent, the diplomat said, is plain to discern.

"The Red army will control the elections in central European lands and the Balkan countries which they occupy," he continued, "securing strongly communist elements in the new governments. Eventually these satellite governments will propose plebiscites for federating with the soviet union and pressure will enforce a merger.

"Britain accepted a mandate to safeguard Norway, Denmark, Holland, and Belgium from Red influence and it will be the task of the United States to boster France and Italy. The American policy in Rome is apparent already and will emerge toward France without undue delay."

The security league planned at the San Francisco, Cal., conference was mentioned. The diplomat asked:

"Does the American-British plan for enormous peace time military establishments indicate the leaders place any real faith in that organization? What possible potential enemy exists on the globe today save one?"

Says Stalin Had Stroke

He said he had learned that Generalissimo Stalin of Russia had suffered another stroke.

"He had one several years ago that paralyzed his arm,' he added, "and I believe his activity as chief of the soviet state is virtually ended. He might have averted or postponed the inevitable struggle [the predicted war] because he has accomplished much, raising his country from the chaos of revolution to a rank with yours. But his successor will be impelled to achieve something to justify his accession to leadership, and that will bring conflict.

"Your country should be sympathetic, generous with mine, doomed to become the cockpit for the struggle."

A-bomb May Be Outlawed

It was suggested that America's atomic bomb might prevent wars. This was the diplomat's comment:

"Did the invention of armor, gun powder, artillery, poison gas, tanks, or airplanes prevent war? Do you believe it is your invention exclusively? History proves inventions are the culmination of a series of widely scattered research. And in the next war a gentlemen's agreement, like the one that forbade the use of gas in World War II., may prevent employment of the atomic bomb."

Navy Develops a Powder to Prevent Athlete's Foot

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—A new treatment for "athlete's foot" and other fungus infections was announced today by the research division of the navy's bureau of medicine and surgery. Known as "undecylenic powder," the new preparation was tested by Comdr. Henry C. Shaw, medical corps, in a study involving more than 5,600 navy men at Fort Pierce, Vero Beach, and Melbourne, Fla. "Athlete's foot" developed in 28 per cent of the trainees who used no prevention, and regular dusting with the new powder cut infections to 4 per cent.

DANES EXPECT SWING TO LEFT IN ELECTIONS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Oct. 24—Denmark's political campaign for the parliamentary election next Tuesday was in full swing today.

It is generally believed that the country will move a step toward the left. As the Communist party was illegal in the 1943 election, because of pressure by the Germans, the party at present is not represented in parliament. Recent negotiations aimed at an amalgamation of the Communists and the Labor party were unsuccessful and it is now estimated that from 10 to 15 Communists will be seated.

Most of the Communist votes are expected to be garnered at the expense of the Labor party altho some intellectuals are likely to be attracted to the communist side by Prof. Mogens Fogh, one of the representatives of the resistance movement in the present government which consists of members of the old parties and of the resistance movement, equally divided.

The left wing, composed mostly of farmers, undoubtedly will win a larger number of votes because of its policy of free trade and strict economy in the country's finances.

BELIEVES POLES WILL PROLONG STAY IN ITALY

60,000 Are Natives of Area Taken by Reds

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

ROME, Oct. 24—There is little likelihood that the Polish soldiers in Italy will be reutrned to their own country in the near future, it was indicated today by Stanislaw Kot, ambassador to Rome from the Russian sponsored Warsaw government. Kot said his government will not use force to compel Polish troops to leave Italy but will welcome any who do decide to return to Poland.

There are 113,000 Polish soldiers in Italy, most of them on the Adriatic coast below Ancona. A poll conducted by allied headquarters several months ago showed that 14,000 desired to return to Poland but that the other 99,000 didn't. Of the latter, 60,000 are natives of that eastern area of Poland which has been taken by Russia.

Report Polish-Italian Clashes

Clashes between Poles and Italian citizens have been reported in the Adriatic coastal area. The Poles contend they are molested by Italian left wing elements and the latter assert the unwelcome foreign elements are distributing anti-communist literature. Ambassador Kot said this friction "may be the same as differences between troops and civilians all over Europe."

Kot disclosed that next week he will visit the Poles who have decided to return to their homeland and who have now been segregated and are quartered near Naples. He was then asked whether he planned to visit some of the other 99,000.

"Not in the near future," he replied. "They are still under allied jurisdiction and not that of my government."

Kot would not comment on reports that the allies have indicated it would be "inopportune" for him or other representatives of the Warsaw government to visit Poles who voted against returning home.

Not a Russian Occupation

Kot asserted that the presence of Russian troops in Poland was not a military occupation but was intended to speed supply and transport movement between Russia and Germany. He said also that Polish colonization in East Prussia is progressing.

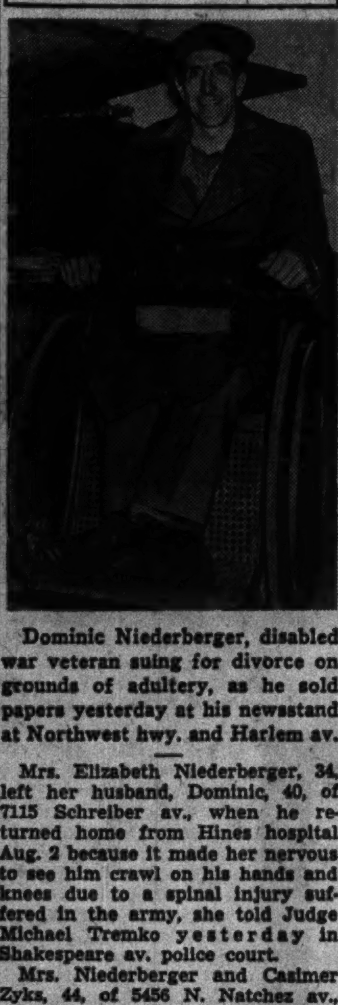
Poland has contracted to supply Italy with 720,000 tons of coal a year from Silesian mines, Kot said. The coal will be moved as soon as the Italians can provide the necessary trains. In return, Poland expects machines and tools from Italy. This transaction is apparently Italy's first post-war barter.

Kot said production in the Silesian mines had increased from 1,300,000 tons in May to 2,457,000 in September.

Guns Turn Up as Tramps; Card Players Lose $2,155

Henry Block, owner of a furniture store at 3341 Ogden av., and six friends were robbed of $1,255 and jewelry valued at $900 by two gunmen Tuesday night while playing cards in a back room of the store, Block reported to police. The other victims were Albert A. Stone, 117 N. Cicero av.; Al Davis, 3423 Douglas blvd.; Newton Myers, 1820 S. Christiana av.; Harry Paul, 1830 S. Spaulding av.; Barney Paul, 3329 Ogden av., and Julius Sagalow, 3147 W. 16th st.

Vet Asks Divorce



Dominic Niederberger, disabled war veteran suing for divorce on grounds of adultery, as he sold papers yesterday at his newsstand at Northwest hwy. and Harlem av.

Mrs. Elizabeth Niederberger, 34, left her husband, Dominic, 40, of 7115 Schreiber av., when he returned home from Hines hospital Aug. 2 because it made her nervous to see him crawl on his hands and knees due to a spinal injury suffered in the army, she told Judge Michael Tremko yesterday in Shakespeare av. police court.

Mrs. Niederberger and Casimer Zyks, 44, of 5456 N. Natchez av., were arrested in Zyks' home on charges of disorderly conduct at 2 a. m. Oct. 10 when police found Niederberger on his knees in front of the house, knocking on the door and pleading to be let in. Now Niederberger has sued for divorce on the ground of adultery.

Judge Tremko deferred action against Mrs. Niederberger and Zyks to Dec. 21. "I want to give each of you a sentence for a Christmas present," he told them. Niederberger said he was an engineer for 18 years before he entered the army, but now sells newspapers on a street corner.

TRIES TO SAVE A SPENT BUCK; FINDS HE CAN'T

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 24 (AP)—Police Sergeant Nicholas Kindl got his limit, a 250 pound, five-point buck, today a week before the state's deer season opens.

Kindl and another scout car officer first flushed the deer from a vacant lot on the edge of the city and a few hours later saw it hanging from a six-foot cemetery fence, one foreleg impaled on a fence spike. Kindl shot the fatigued animal with his revolver after all efforts to release it failed.

Officers said the meat would be given to a charitable institution.

NAZIS TELL HUGE DEATH TOLL IN RED CAPTIVITY

BERLIN, Oct. 24—(AP)—British authorities today quoted German war prisoners liberated by the Russians as saying that of approximately 100,000 Nazi troops captured at Stalingrad barely 6,000 are still alive.

The others have died in soviet prison work camps or in transit home on trains which have 200 to 300 corpses aboard when they arrive at Frankfurt-on-Oder, the prisoners were quoted as saying.

Capt. J. G. Johnson of Oxford, commandant of the Invaliden Strasse transit camp where the bulk of these discharged war prisoners from the east are received, said he believed their reports are "not exaggerated."

"One can well believe that death rate when one sees the miserable wrecks coming thru here at the rate of 2,000 per day," Johnson said.

CHARGE BELSEN WOMAN WITNESS WAS 'BRIEFED'

LUENEBURG, Germany, Oct. 24—(AP)—A red-haired former SS woman, brought from internment to testify for the defense in the Belsen war crimes trial, was declared by Prosecutor T. M. Backhouse today to have been "briefed" before entering court.

The witness, Gertrude Naumann, appeared in defense of Wilhelm Dorr and Franz Starfle, who had charge of 600 prisoners on a six-day forced march last April between the Dora and Belsen concentration camps. Twenty prisoners were missing at the end of the march, and Dorr is accused of shooting them as they lagged behind.

The Naumann woman said she accompanied the prisoners, and that none was killed by Dorr. She was searched during the lunch hour by military police, who found in her pockets a list of the defendants, their identifying numbers, and some notes regarding Klara Opitz, one of the 45 defendants.

GERMAN CHURCH LEADERS ADMIT GUILT OF NATION

BUNDE, Germany, Oct. 24 [Reuters]—Germany's war guilt has been admitted by the German evangelical congress, which met at Stuttgart last week, the British control commission announced tonight.

The British statement disclosed that the admission was made in a declaration, representing the unanimous opinion of all prominent church leaders attending the congress. It was signed by all, including the president, Rev. Martin Niemoeller, who was put into a concentration camp by the nazis.

"We know ourselves to be not only in a great company of suffering, but also in a solidarity of guilt," the declaration said. "With great pain, we say that thru us, endless suffering has been brought to many people and countries."

6 POLES SENTENCED TO DIE FOR ROBBING AND KILLING GERMANS

LONDON, Oct. 24 [Reuters]—Six Poles were today sentenced to death by a British military court in Flensburg, on the German-Danish border, for murder and robbery, the Allied Press Service in Germany reported today.

One was Jan Stanisz, a Polish civilian laborer, who, at the head of a gang of Poles, entered a German farm in Sillerup and threatened the farmer with his gun and then robbed him.

The others attacked a German farm, killing two German sentries.

WORK ON TROOP CARS STOPPED BY CIO STRIKE

1,000 Men Are Out at Hammond Plant

A strike that started at the Hammond plant of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company paralyzed the completion of troop train sleepers for the government yesterday. Two hundred employes left the plant Tuesday night and more than 1,000 failed to report for work yesterday.

"Despite the fact that the company and local 2534, United Steelworkers union [CIO], signed a contract several weeks ago," a company statement said, "this is the second time the union has repudiated it. The strike was reportedly called because the workers are again demanding more money, altho their demands were granted in the signed contract."

Company Has New Order

On Oct. 10, the plant closed down for two days because of a strike of the same workers. The plant finishes the interiors of the three decker troop sleepers, which are fabricated at the Michigan City [Ind.] plant of the company. The company recently received a new contract for 1,200 sleepers.

Another strike was averted and a strike vote was called off when the independent Progressive Steelworkers union accepted a 10 per cent wage increase for 4,000 employes of the Wisconsin Steel company, subsidiary of the International Harvester company.

Dollar a Day Boost

The 10 per cent increase equals 12½ cents an hour, or $1 a day for each employe, the union leader disclosed.

The increase was the seventh 10 per cent boost in individual plants of the International Harvester company over the last two weeks, a company spokesman said.

A strike of 21 manicures and 33 barbers of the Terminal Barber Shops, Inc., in the Palmer House, was settled, Capt. George Barnes of the police labor detail reported, after the employes had received an increase in wages.

GARY PRINCIPAL REINSTATED AT FROEBEL SCHOOL

In accordance with the recommendations of a group of educators who conducted a survey of conditions in the Froebel High school in Gary, Ind., Richard A. Nuzum was reinstated yesterday as principal. He had been on two weeks' leave as the result of a strike of 300 students from Sept. 16 to Oct. 1. The educators reported they could find no evidence to justify Nuzum's dismissal.

Another recommendation of the committee was that the organization of the school be returned to its status preceding the strike of the students. This, it was explained, meant that Nuzum should also be returned to his post of dean of boys.

The group recommended also that the board of education should heed complaints lodged by parents of the students. The board should, the group said, provide 24 hour policing of the school grounds, increase playground supervision, and enlarge the teaching staff.

LONGSHOREMEN VOTE TO REJECT CONTRACT TERMS

New York, Oct. 24 [Special]—Members of the AFL International Longshoremen's association have voted overwhelmingly to reject contract terms offered by the New York Shipping association, Joseph P. Ryan, union president, said tonight. Only 800 of 35,000 ILA men voted to accept the proposals, he added.

The high controversial union request for limitation of sling loads, principal cause of a recent strike, was denied by the association in the terms submitted, but with a provision for arbitration, Ryan said. A union demand for double time for work during lunch periods was countered with an offer of a $1 bonus for lunch periods worked in any trick of six hours or more.

Ryan said the ship owners are drafting a reply to the union's rejection and that depending on the nature of this reply he is prepared to suggest that both sides go before an appropriate government agency. Operations along the New York City waterfront were normal during the day.

Inquest Is Continued in Hit-Run Auto Deaths

An inquest into the death of two women struck by a hit and run car while standing on a safety island a week ago was continued yesterday until Nov. 16 at the request of Atty. Daniel Covelli, representing Sgt. William H. Gray, 33, of 7750 May st., overseas veteran charged with driving the car. The victims were Mrs. Lillian Emond, 30, of 1630 N. Merrimac av., and Mrs. Martha Goldsmith, 30, of the same address. Pvt. Edgar L. Emond, husband of Lillian, arrived yesterday in Chicago from Europe, but did not appear at the inquest.

who paid her fare shortly after 1 p. m. at the Randolph and Wells st. station and then couldn't get her dime back agreed on the effectiveness, but was bitter about the "dignity."

The cause of the dignity strike was a retroactive pay increase won by the company's employes last August after a year of negotiation. The company was faced with the problem of figuring more than a year's back pay for its 4,300 operational employes, who work on an hourly basis, and for 450 white collar workers, who are paid by the month.

Long Bookkeeping Task

A company official explained that it was simple to figure the office workers' pay and so that was done. An extra force of from 30 to 60 workers was added to the night staff to compute the pay of the operational employes, but the task is not scheduled for completion until early November.

"The company is interested in getting the books in order as quickly as possible," he said. "We have nothing to gain by a delay. No, this strike didn't hurry us any. We can't hurry. We'll pay them off as scheduled."

Piqued by the payment to the white collar workers, the union voted for the work stoppage. About 300 trains, scheduled to leave terminals during the two hours, were stopped.

The last elevated train northbound thru the loop left Randolph st. for Linden av., Wilmette, at 1:43 p. m., to finish a circuit started at 12:59, one minute before the strike. The last subway train thru was a Jackson Park at 1:28 p. m.

Many Keep Working

While all elevated and subway trains were halted, the towermen—members of the same union—remained at their posts, elevated crews took over their regular chores on loop bound and outbound North Shore trains to Howard st., and some crews moved their trains around in the terminals to make room for others.

Levander said the men will expect to be paid for the two hour layoff if at any time they moved their trains. The company said that point hadn't been raised and that it would be dealt with when it was.

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 24 [Special]—Burglars last night stole between $250 and $300 from a safe in the Freeport High school. Assistant Principal George Kloos reported to police today.

BISHOP SHEIL URGES A WORLD BOARD FOR CONTROL OF A-BOMB

The secret of the atomic bomb should be given to an international committee, with proper safeguards for the peace of the world, Bishop Bernard J. Sheil told delegates to the ninth convention of the Building Service Employes International union [AFL] yesterday in the Morrison hotel.

Bishop Sheil maintained that the yielding of the atomic secret is the most practical way of arriving at at international harmony, and said that "if we choose secrecy, the results are foregone."

"A mad race for atomic control will ensue, and all the recent suffering and tribulation will have been in vain," the bishop said. "We shall not have another chance. World unity must be achieved now or never."

To obtain all the objectives of the working man, Bishop Sheil said, organized labor must lead the way.

"I believe," he said, "that most of labor's present complaints are justified. But I believe that interlabor disputes only weaken the cause of the laboring man and strengthen the powerful and highly organized labor baiters."

BAPTIZE SERB CROWN PRINCE IN LONDON ABBEY

LONDON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Naked and yelling, the infant crown prince of Yugoslavia was baptized in Westminster abbey today before kings, queens, princesses, and patriarchs. Princess Elizabeth, heir apparent to the British throne, was his godmother and King George VI. was his godfather.

The 3 month old son of King Peter and Queen Alexandria, barred from their Balkan thrones by the displeasure of Marshal Tito, was immersed three times in warm water and he did not like it. His lusty cries rang thru the ancient cathedral until Princess Elizabeth took him in her arms and quieted him. He slept thru most of the orthodox ceremony in the arms of the princess, but awakened with a yell when Elizabeth handed him to King George.

The child was named Alexander for his grandfather, Alexander I., who was assassinated at Marseilles in one of the aftermaths of the last World war. Among those in the cathedral was King George of Greece.

CIO UNION SUED FOR 2 MILLION AS STRIKE LOSS

Ball Bearing Firm Takes Fight to Court

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—Charging violence in picketing, SKF Industries, Inc., today filed suit for 2 million dollars damages against local 2898, CIO United Steel Workers of America, and seven of its officials.

It also asked the Common Pleas court to grant an injunction against the union, prohibiting mass picketing of the three strikebound SKF plants.

The move into court was made after SKF strikers and police clashed. The pickets, reinforced by helmeted ship yard workers and carrying American flags, turned back automobiles of company officials trying to enter the plant.

Plan Labor Holiday

Harry Block, president of the Philadelphia CIO Industrial Union council, said the council would meet to discuss a proposal for a general labor holiday in Philadelphia in sympathy with SKF strikers.

CIO spokesmen said such a holiday would make 250,000 idle in Philadelphia and adjacent counties, including Camden, N. J.

Atty. Frank B. Murdoch Jr., who filed the suit for the company, said police were unable to control the strikers who, he said, refused "even to let the people in to maintain the heat."

Employs 3,000 Persons

SKF employs about 3,000 persons in the three plants. It manufactures ball bearings.

Murdoch said a hearing on the suit will be held Monday before Judge Frank Smith of Common Pleas court.

The complaint contends the strike is a violation of the no strike and no lockout provisions of the union-company contract expiring Dec. 2.

Union spokesmen said the dispute arose over the company's failure to observe seniority rights.

RICE MAY SPOIL

Houston, Tex., Oct. 24 (AP)—A strike of members of the AFL International Longshoremen's association continued to tie up port facilities at Houston today and Port Director J. R. Wait described the shipping loss as "terrific."

He said an immediate problem is the moving out of 300,000 bushels of rice, which "must be taken care of at once" or spoilage will cause a $500,000 loss.

Approximately 500 warehousemen, clerks, and checkers of the association are striking for higher wages, and 2,500 longshoremen refuse to cross their picket lines.

PLAN OIL WAGE TALKS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—The navy tonight announced that 10 oil companies and the CIO Oil Workers' union have agreed to resume negotiations on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

The wage demand earlier resulted in a strike and government seizure of 53 refineries and pipe lines which the navy is operating.

H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of the navy, said the navy was "anxious to turn the properties back" to the companies after operating them for two weeks.

AIR BRAKE PLANTS CLOSED

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP) — A walkout involving 6,000 production workers today closed the Wilmerding plant of the Westinghouse Air Brake company and the Swissvale plant of a subsidiary, the Union Switch and Signal company.

A spokesman for the company said it was unaware of any grievance. Officials of the CIO United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers, local 610, were unavailable for comment, but some of the Wilmerding workers said they were protesting disciplinary action taken against a union steward.

CANTON STRIKE ENDS

Canton, O., Oct. 24 (AP)—A CIO strike that kept 5,000 workers idle for four days at the Canton alloy division of the Republic Steel corporation ended today.

In calling off the strike, union leaders of CIO railroad employes agreed the strikers would go back to work and submit their dispute over one man operation of a diesel engine in the alloy division to grievance procedure.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY MARYON ZYLSTRA

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by David Deutsch, Brooklyn, N. Y.]

THE QUESTION

Have you ever seen something that happens once in a lifetime?

WHERE ASKED

Show Folks of America, Inc., 1839 Monroe st.

THE ANSWERS

Warren L. Warren, clerk, 536 Rush st.—While manager of a road show that made jumps from one town to another I received a lot of grumbling from the actors about the cold depots. I started a fire in the stove of one, not knowing part of the chimney had been removed. The depot burned to the ground.

Morton Schaeffer, lawyer, 6110 St. Louis av.—While waiting for the birth of my youngest daughter I slipped on a surgeon's gown and mask and entered the delivery room. Every one was quite busy and, thinking I was a doctor or intern, paid no attention to my presence. So I was able to watch her entrance into the world.

Nellie Barlow Grosch, 1546 N. La Salle st.—In June of 1904 I saw Will H. Hill, a daredevil, walk a tight wire across Niagara Falls, a performance that was a featured headline in all the newspapers. I shall never forget it! He stopped several times, and I felt each time that he would fall into the great falls below.

Jack Lamey, salesman, 2444 Leland av.—Baseball is a hobby of mine. In fact, I'm a red hot Cub fan, and I had the pleasure of seeing Claude Passeau pitch a one hit game in the world series this year. This has happened once before in the history of baseball, but it happened only once when I could witness it.

Rose H. Page, manager, Show Folks home, 1839 Monroe st.—I saw a great comedian, Eddie Foy, valiantly try to quiet a matinee audience of children during the tragic Iroquois theater fire. This was years before they had fire curtains, and Eddie stepped out onto the stage and talked calmly while the theater burned.

Violet Pearson, recording secretary, 1839 Monroe st.—Most people today in their teens or older saw this same phenomenon take place. I saw the same man elected four times to the Presidency of the United States. This had never happened before in this nation's history, and I'm certain in my mind it will not occur again.

House Group O. K.'s Navy of 500,000 Enlisted Men

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—The house naval committee today approved legislation to fix the strength of the post-war navy at 500,000 enlisted men. It provides for a marine corps of 100,000 enlisted men and 9,200 officers. Officer strength of the navy would be approximately 40,000. The plan has been endorsed by the navy department.

HOLD AUTO WAGE TALKS AS UNION VOTES ON STRIKE

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 24 (AP)—Hourly rated employes of General Motors corporation cast ballots today in the biggest strike referendum yet conducted under government auspices as corporation and worker representatives continued negotiations over a demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase.

First returns tonight showed the workers voted heavily in favor of a strike.

G. M. employes in Buffalo, Lockport, and Syracuse voted 3,038 to 589 to strike, the NLRB reported.

Of the 4,000 eligible to vote at the St. Louis Chevrolet and Fisher body plants 2,010 voted, with 1,899 favoring a strike and 94 against. Seventeen ballots were voided.

In Cleveland, United Automobile Workers [CIO] members in three plants voted 2,248 to 229 for a strike. The vote at Baltimore was 447 to 55 for a strike. Altho 4,470 workers are eligible, most of the workers had been laid off while the plant was undergoing reconversion.

At Toledo G. M. workers in the Chevrolet plant voted 747 to 45 for a strike.

No Progress Reported

The negotiators apparently made no progress in breaking the stalemate between the corporation and the CIO United Automobile Workers. The union delegation, headed by red haired Walter P. Reuther, a UAW-CIO vice president, has contended a 30 per cent increase can be paid and the corporation can boost its profits by "at least 100 million dollars" a year out of post-war earnings.

The corporation has asserted no pay increase can be given without an increase in the cost of its products.

The strike vote among G. M.'s more than 300,000 wage earners was being cast in union halls, schoolhouses, and other places in cities thruout the country where the corporation has plants.

Chrysler Vote Next

The national labor relations board will take another strike vote tomorrow among the 150,000 Chrysler corporation employes.

H. W. Anderson, GM vice president in charge of personnel, told newsmen at a conference today that the corporation's formal reply to the union would be made in a week or 10 days following conclusion of the wage conferences.

Profits and prices, he said, were not a fit subject for collective bargaining.

"If prices were too high, competition would take care of that, and we would run out of customers," Anderson said. "Under the present OPA formula for automobiles, it is impossible to give wage increases."

UNION LEADER ACTS TODAY TO QUASH MAYHEM CHARGE

Frank Carroll, business agent of local 701, Auto Mechanics union [AFL], accused of slugging a member who repudiated the union as his bargaining agent, will appear before Judge Leonard Reid in Criminal court today on a motion to quash an indictment charging him with conspiracy to commit mayhem. Atty. George R. Bieber, retained by the union to defend Carroll, said he will ask the dismissal of the indictment on the ground that there is no proof of mayhem. Carroll was arrested on charges brought by Carter Olsen, 30, of 2500 N. Washtenaw av., a member of the union, who said Carroll and three unidentified men attacked him in an alley at Augusta blvd. and Kostner av. Sept. 8.

SAILOR, NEARLY BLIND, HOPES TO SEE HIS FAMILY

Atlanta, Oct. 24 (AP)—A sailor lies in a naval hospital fearing that he may go blind before he can take a last look at his wife and two children, one of whom he has never seen.

The veteran of Okinawa, William P. Bingham, 24, ship's cook 2d class, is a patient in the naval hospital in Charleston, S. C. He is being treated for an eye disease that has taken the sight of his left eye and soon may blot out the other.

His wife and children—Jessie Diane, 2, and Iris Jennifer, 10 months, are in New Zealand and have been unable to get permission to come to the United States. Bingham was married in February, 1943, in Wellington, New Zealand, where he was stationed.

CHICAGO MAY BE LEAGUE CAPITAL, SEN. LUCAS SAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24—Sen. Lucas, who talked to President Truman yesterday, said today that he is optimistic about Chicago's chances of becoming the headquarters of the allied nations' security organization.

Truman wants the headquarters to be in the United States, Lucas said, and Chicago's only competitors are Philadelphia and San Francisco. Chicago will get it, he said, if Canada, Mexico, and some of the South American countries support it.

The Chicago Association of Commerce will put out a brochure listing Chicago's advantages and Lucas said he will present copies of it to the foreign embassies.

OPA GETS $926 JUDGMENT

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday granted the office of price administration a consent judgment for $926.12 against Wallace Peterson, a meat dealer at 4720 N. Kenneth av., for violations of price regulations.

FREEDOM EBBS, REDS ON GAIN, DIRKSEN WARNS

Rep. Dirksen

Americans were told they were fighting a war for freedom, but, with communism on the march everywhere, there is little freedom in the world today, Rep. Dirksen [R., Ill.] told the Bakers Club of Chicago in Hotel Sherman last night. He said he based his comment on observations made in a 32,000 mile trip to 21 countries early this year.

The advance of communism, he said, is reflected in elections in France, Italy, and Great Britain. The absence of freedom, he asserted, strikes the eye in India, Egypt, Palestine, Syria, and other countries.

Cites French in Syria

When he visited Syria, Dirksen reported, the president of that country told him of the nation's desire for freedom. "Three weeks later," he said, "the hotel in Damascus in which we had talked was demolished by French artillery."

Wherever Dirksen went, he said, he found people talking about the next war, even American generals with the army in Europe;

"The United States," he emphasized, "should adopt a defined policy and let the world know we will back it up. It should be a Yankee policy."

Tells of Trade Barrier

While in Egypt, the congressman talked with an American aircraft salesman who was trying to sell some planes to an Egyptian air line. Tho the air line wanted the planes, the salesman experienced considerable difficulty, he said. It first was necessary to obtain an import license "from the country that dominates Egypt," and then to obtain the necessary exchange.

"It took many months before these hurdles were cleared," Dirksen went on. "If we are going to continue to pay billions of dollars into the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration, we should insist upon abolition of some trade barriers."

NO 'KICKBACKS' ON FUND DRIVES, RED CROSS SAYS

Only Union Solicitation Expenses Paid

BY ROBERT YOUNG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—An official of the American Red Cross said today the organization will not make a formal reply to charges that since 1942 it has "kicked back" several hundred thousand dollars to the AFL and CIO labor unions for the privilege of soliciting funds among their members.

Instead, the Red Cross national headquarters opened its records and correspondence on labor union solicitations. They were made available to show that there were no "kickbacks," but merely reimbursement for expenses.

The correspondence showed that the plan of having permanent AFL and CIO war relief committees reimbursed for their expenses in soliciting Red Cross funds among 15 million members was approved by the late Norman H. Davis, former Red Cross chairman. It was recommended by Guy Emerson, volunteer vice chairman and vice president of the Bankers Trust company in New York City.

Records Made Public

Other records included the soliciting and reimbursement agreements from 1942 thru the current fiscal year, which extends to April 30, 1946. These agreements, signed by union and Red Cross officials, were made public and sent to the 3,754 Red Cross chapters in the United States each year.

The national war fund has an identical arrangement with the war relief committees of the two unions.

An explanatory letter sent from national Red Cross headquarters Oct. 18 to chapter chairmen stated: "The essence of our arrangement with the labor groups was to utilize a means of reaching speedily and effectively the millions of constituents of organized labor who had established special committees for the purpose of stimulating the participation of their members in war time charitable undertakings.

Reimbursed for Expenses

"Every dollar contributed [by labor union members and their families] was paid in full to recognized war charities without deductions for any purpose whatsoever and the committees were reimbursed only for their actual expenses incident to the fund raising efforts involved. The staffs of the labor committees served as the organizing nucleus for thousands of labor union members who gave their time as volunteers in soliciting millions of their fellow workers."

Red Cross accounts disclosed that in the year ended last April 30, the AFL and CIO relief committees received $251,365 from the Red Cross and $466,872 from the national war fund for their soliciting expenses. These amounts were divided about equally between the two committees.

The Red Cross and national war fund expense budgets for the current year allow $367,536 to the CIO and $330,677 to the AFL. Under the agreement with the unions, this represents the maximum that may be claimed as expenses and is to be borne two-thirds by the national war fund and one-third by the Red Cross.

MOVIES OF BABY SHOWN IN FIGHT TO DODGE CHAIR

Boston, Mass., Oct. 24 (AP)—Moving pictures of a baby, taken by the family a few months before he died of electrocution, have been introduced in evidence before the Massachusetts Supreme court in an effort to save the child's father from the electric chair.

The high court, in an unprecedented action, allowed counsel for John L. Noxon Jr., prominent Pittsfield corporation attorney, to show the film yesterday. Noxon is under sentence of death, charged with having killed his 6 months old son, Lawrence, described in court as a "mongoloid," by tying an electric light cord around his arm in the Noxon home Sept. 22, 1943.

Noxon has contended the child accidentally touched the wire while the father was repairing the family radio. The state contended the baby could not move about sufficiently to have reached the wire. The movies were introduced by defense counsel in an effort to prove otherwise. The five justices watched in the darkened courtroom as the baby, on the screen, moved his arms and grasped objects placed near him.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By GAIL COMPTON

Oct. 24, 1945.

CITY people wondered why there was a meat and poultry shortage last year. It can be understood—if they take this case of an average farmer in Illinois.

Last year, this farmer lost one dollar on every hundred pounds of pork he produced and his total output was 26,201 pounds. With his dairy cattle, it cost him $4.75 to produce a hundred pounds of milk, which he sold for $3.23. When he had finished fattening his beef steers and sent them to market, he realized 68 cents a bushel for all the corn he fed them. He could have sold that corn for one dollar a bushel.

Chickens and Sheep Lose

For the labor expended taking care of his flock, the chickens returned only 8 cents for each hour of labor expended and he lost $126.99 on the flock. His sheep netted a loss of $115.38.

These figures are taken from cost account records of 23 farms under the supervision of the college of agriculture at the University of Illinois. They are based on an hourly wage rate of 55.4 cents an hour for hired help and market prices for feed.

Farms used in the tests are located in Champaign and Piatt counties. The results clearly show that last year live stock on the farms was not able to convert farm grown grains and roughages into meat and by-products at a profit.

Milk Unprofitable

For these farms, last year was the most unprofitable milk producing year since 1931. The net cost of maintaining a cow was $303.19, but the value of the milk produced was only $206.54.

In feeder cattle enterprises, the farms lost an average of $22.02 on each head. This compared with an average loss of $5.35 a head in 1943 and a profit of $7.75 a head in 1942. This is why so many farmers failed to refill their feedlots or cut operations extensively last year.

With the chicken flock, it cost 44 cents to produce a dozen eggs against only 35 cents in 1943. Every hundred hens in the flock showed a net loss of $122.11.

Altho the farmers lost money in their live stock enterprises, they did make money on their grains; they charged the live stock operations market price for the grains farm grown for considerably less than market price.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

FALL plowing or spading is recommended for most garden plots in this area, especially those having a high clay content. There are three reasons for this recommendation, the most important being that fall plowing permits earlier planting in the spring. Thaws and rains in March usually leave clay plots so soaked that spring plowing often is delayed until late April or May. By plowing this fall, and leaving the heavy soil "in the rough" all winter, the only step preparatory to spring planting is a thoro raking.

Another benefit of fall plowing is that it leaves heavy soil in a more friable condition in the spring. alternate winter frosts and thaws serving to disintegrate the heavy soil particles.

The third advantage is ease of turning the soil if a hand spade is used. The clods should not be broken during fall spading, inasmuch as the surface should be left as rough as possible to expose a maximum amount of soil to the beneficial action of frosts and thaws.

HOUSING GROUP FINDS 4,609 BEDS FOR SERVICE MEN

Sleeping accommodations for 4,609 soldiers and sailors were announced yesterday by Mrs. Aneita L. Tidball, chairman of the Chicago emergency housing committee and executive secretary of the Travelers Aid society.

The housing committee has been attempting for the last two weeks to solve the sleeping facility shortage here which, in recent week-ends, has forced hundreds of soldiers and sailors to sleep on floors, in building lobbies, and railroad stations.

The emergency housing committee is composed of representatives of the service men's centers, the Council of Social Agencies, the United Service organizations, and affiliated agencies—the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Salvation Army, and Travelers Aid—and the army, navy, and federal security council.

BANISH UNEMPLOYMENT

The title of the Full Employment bill now before Congress is misleading. It will not result in full employment. It is just another proposal to cure unemployment by Government spending.

We had 10 years of that before the war and only the war ended our unemployment.

Every wage earner should oppose this bill because it will not save him or her from the hazards and consequences of unemployment. Every wage payer should oppose it because he cannot prosper unless the Nation's wage earners do.

Instead of trying to cure unemployment by Government spending, we should prevent it from ever getting started.

To do this we must have a running inventory or census of unemployment so that at all times we may know how we stand on this vital problem.

On a date to be set by Congress, we should establish a National Work Week of 40 hours at not less than the full 40-hour wages then in force in each establishment.

Then we should advance wages from time to time, to provide the purchasing power to support the ever increasing value of our production. Continuous employment depends on this. As a beginning advance wages 1¢ per hour every four months. For fifty million wage earners this would amount to about two billion dollars a year. To assure continuous employment without causing higher prices or inflation, the time between wage advances to be reduced or extended according to need, as reflected by the unemployment census.

Whenever these 1¢ per hour wage advances prove inadequate to prevent unemployment in the United States from seriously exceeding 3,500,000* persons, the hours in the work week should be reduced, and as many times as necessary, without reducing the weekly pay, until the excess unemployment is absorbed.

Administration by a "Full Employment Commission," to be established by Congress.

SAILOR ADMITS RAPING WOMEN IN TWO SUBURBS

Ernest Hubert Pugh, 18, of 1610 N. Mason av., a sailor stationed at Great Lakes, who confessed the raping of a 56 year old woman in Oak Park Monday night, yesterday admitted to State's Atty. Hall of Lake county that he raped a student nurse in Waukegan the night of Aug. 10.

Ernest H. Pugh

The similarity of the two attacks, in which both women were stripped, aroused the suspicions of Chief of Police Bart Tyrrell of Waukegan and led to the second confession.

Victim Confronts Sailor

Pugh was traced thru his muddy clothing which he had sent to a cleaning shop and was seized on his return home Tuesday evening. Confronted with his Oak Park victim, he admitted the attack, but said he had been drinking and was hazy about what happened after he left a movie.

The Waukegan attack occurred on Aug. 10 when the student nurse was seized during a rainstorm as she waited for a bus and dragged into the grounds of the Holy Child convent, a high school at 1201 Sheridan rd., Waukegan. Afterward the nurse fled to near-by Victory Memorial hospital and collapsed.

Others Held in Sex Cases

In another sex case, Nicholas Conlias, 36, of 5317 Glenwood av., a former dancing instructor, was held to the grand jury by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court on a charge of attempted rape preferred by a waitress.

Ben Cuttler, 18, Negro, 4340 Langley av., was held to the grand jury on a rape charge of Judge J. M. Braude in Boys' court after he was identified by a Negro woman, 23, as the man who dragged her into an alley last August.

$100,000 GRANTED TO ERECT 1,000 LIGHTS IN CITY

The city council finance committee yesterday authorized the release of $100,000 from a million dollar street lighting bond issue voted last November for immediate erection of 1,000 new street lights. The lights will be allotted to areas where they are most needed under a plan worked out by Lloyd M. Johnson, superintendent of streets and electricity. Materials for the lights, Johnson said, have just been made available.

REVEAL 2 NAVY OFFICERS DIED IN A 'FLYING BOMB'

Kennedy's Son Victim of Premature Blast

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 [Special]—The navy disclosed today that Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., son of the former United States ambassador to Great Britain, and Lt. Wilford J. Willy of Fort Worth, Tex., were killed Aug. 12, 1944, over southern England by the premature explosion of a "flying bomb."

The navy previously had announced the deaths of the two flyers and last February posthumously awarded them navy crosses. The manner in which they were killed, however, as well as the fact the navy was experimenting with radio controled weapons in combating German V-2 bombs, remained secrets until today.

Crammed with Explosives

Kennedy and Willy were pilot and co-pilot respectively of a PB4Y Liberator rigged as a "drone" or radio-control plane and crammed with nearly 11 tons of explosives.

[The navy named its pilotless planes "drones" after drones in the bee family—the nonworking ones who ultimately are killed off.]

Their assignment, for which they had volunteered, was to take the plane aloft and remain at the controls until two escorting Vega Ventura patrol bombers were able to achieve radio control.

The plan called for the flyers to bail out of the "flying bomb" while it was still over England, and for the escort planes then to guide it across the channel and crash it into a German V-2 launching site on the Normandy coast.

The navy said the drone was carrying about three times the tonnage of normal missions, 600 pounds of the load consisting of TNT and 20,570 pounds consisting of a secret preparation more powerful but less stable than TNT.

All Well at First

Lt. Kennedy took his hazardous and heavy load aloft without incident. One minute before the drone was to arrive over the first control point, a village called Famingham, Kennedy and Willy reported by code they were ready to begin the final check of the control equipment. One of the escort planes thereupon used its secret mechanism to steer the drone toward the next control point, a place called Beccles.

The Ventura pilots said that at this point they heard two explosions, about a second apart, and that the drone burst into fragments, none larger than 12 inches in diameter.

Navy inquiry failed to establish the cause of the explosion, it was said.

Some Possible Causes

Possible causes which were inquired into were listed as static electricity, sabotage, a hit by friendly flak, instability of the secret explosive, accidental arming of electric fuses, and spark ignition of a gas leak.

Subsequently, the navy said, a second drone, similarly equipped, was flown successfully against the submarine pens at Helgoland. The navy eventually produced a "ghost Hellcat," a high powered fighter flown by radio control. The latest drones were equipped with television, enabling the pilot in the control plane to see the target as if he were sitting in the cockpit of the drone.

Drone development was a joint army air force and navy project, it was said, and under the code name of "anvil" was one of the most closely guarded secrets of the war.

WIRE PROTESTS ON CONCESSIONS TO BULGARIANS

Eleven chapters of the Order of Ahepa in Chicago, taking simultaneous action last night with the order's 400 chapters thruout the nation, sent telegrams to President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes protesting the reported state department concessions to Bulgaria on the Bulgarian-Greek frontier and guaranteeing Bulgaria commercial outlets on the Aegean sea. "The unfair, unjust and unbelievable proposals to Bulgaria, if true, have shocked us and at a special meeting we raise our voice in protest and appeal to you to rectify this situation so that justice may prevail and Greece be equitably, adequately, and honorably protected and recognized," the telegram said.

Actress in City

ANITA LOUISE

Anita Louise, film star, stopped briefly in Chicago yesterday en route to Hollywood, Cal. She took time between trains to speak briefly at the second report meeting of the Community and War Fund campaign at the Hotel Sherman.

STANDARD TIME CHANGE IN CITY SET FOR SUNDAY

Chicago will return next Sunday to central standard time, abandoning war time, which is one hour ahead of standard, for the first time since Feb. 9, 1942.

While the official change-over hour is 2 a. m., most business houses will set their clocks back one hour at the close of business on Saturday. Railroads changed over to standard time on Oct. 1 under a decree issued by President Truman. The street car company, elevated lines, and others operating during the night will make the change at 2 o'clock.

Chicago maintained its war time for an additional month because a city ordinance passed in May, 1941, provided for daylight saving time from the last Sunday in May to the last Sunday in October, and a poll of Chicago newspapers showed most citizens favored the additional month of daylight saving.

A YEAR IN THE ARMY

President Truman has recommended to congress the enactment of a law requiring every American boy to undergo a year's military training. He says he hopes that the united nations organization devised at San Francisco will assure the safety of the country without resort to force, but for the present he believes it is imprudent to repose too much confidence in the league. Now, while the memory of our lack of preparation for war is fresh, he contends, we should adopt a universal training plan.

It should be said at once that Mr. Truman's views on military matters carry little weight. His opinions seem to have been derived pretty largely from persons in the military hierarchy which has much to gain from the proposed expansion. That doesn't prove that the ideas are unsound, but it does justify examining them with a measure of skepticism.

There can, of course, be no quarrel with Mr. Truman when he says that San Francisco has not removed the likelihood of wars in the future. On the contrary, as Mr. Truman did not say, it has made American participation in all wars as nearly certain as a document can. Moreover, as the United States is now the strongest of all nations, the probability is that the next war will be directed in the first instance against us as the nation which must be knocked out first if the warmaker is to have any chance of success.

All of this does point to the increased danger in which this country now finds itself as a result of the foreign policy it has pursued and is pursuing. Mr. Truman's speech would have been a good deal more impressive, however, if he had been a little more specific in pointing to the direction from which he thinks danger threatens.

A candid survey of the world today reveals only Russia as strong enough to dare challenge America to war and ideologically prepared to do so. England couldn't risk it even if we stood in the way of her ambitions. The rest of them—France, China, Germany, Italy, Japan—are no present menace, nor is there any likelihood that they can become menacing for a generation. Mr. Truman must be thinking of Russia. It would be instructive to know how his diplomatic course toward Russia fits into his plan for training the young men of the nation for a war against Russia. What is his Russian policy, if he has one?

There are two significant dates that Mr. Truman could well have stressed in his message. One of them is Aug. 27, 1940, the day on which the national guard was summoned into federal service. A little more than two weeks later, on Sept. 16, 1940, the draft act was signed. That is to say, 15 months before Pearl Harbor arrangements were completed to train very large numbers of men for war and a good many hundreds of thousands of them were well advanced toward a year's service when the war began. It wasn't so much the lack of men with preliminary training that delayed our participation in the fighting as the lack of ships to carry them in and, more especially, of guns for them to shoot.

We now have a very large accumulation of weapons, but some of them already are obsolete and it safely can be assumed that nearly all of them will be obsolete when the next war comes. Accordingly, we may discover again that it takes longer to equip an army than to raise and train it.

The whole question raised by Mr. Truman's message is one which must be examined with the utmost care. We must face the fact that the policy of one-worldism and international meddling which we have been pursuing has exposed us to attack as we never were exposed before. Quite probably, some measure of conscription is indicated. [Incidentally, it will not help clarify thinking to avoid the use in the discussion of the words "draft" and "conscription" because these are the proper words for what is in contemplation and it is childish to seek to hide the fact.]

Serious consideration, as was said here the other day, should be given to the recent proposal of Sen. Knowland of California. He suggested that, thru military studies and drill in high school and college, thru the national guard and the organized reserves, the young men of the country could be given preliminary military experience without the disorganization of their lives and the public expense of sending them to camp for a year. He suggested that only those boys be sent to camp who had not received the equivalent training elsewhere.

One great advantage of this proposal is that it would deprive the federal government of immediate control over a very large body of soldiers. The country thereby would avoid the danger of giving an administration in Washington the power to impose its will dictatorially, by force of arms. The control of the nation's reserve of military strength in peace time would remain where it was placed by the Constitution, with the states.

THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR TRAFFIC DEATHS

There were nine deaths on Sunday from automobile accidents in the Chicago area.

During the years of gasoline rationing the toll from traffic accidents was reduced to less than half the pre-war figures. Now, with more and older cars on the roads and especially with speeds greatly increased, the toll is rising again and rising rapidly.

The primary blame rests, of course, on the speeders and the other lawless drivers, but to say that is not to absolve the public officials who ought to be enforcing the traffic laws but aren't doing so. The police of Chicago and the neighboring cities and towns, the county police, the coroner, and the state's attorney are all guilty of gross neglect of duty.

The police ought to be patroling the streets and highways day and night. The coroner ought to be far more insistent than he has been on fixing the blame for fatal accidents. The state's attorney ought to be indicting and sending to the penitentiary the reckless fools who are responsible for taking human lives.

Instead, all these officials are behaving as if they had a financial interest in the undertaking business. They are all flagrantly at fault for permitting and condoning the slaughter of the innocent, and it's a pity they can't be tried for murder themselves.

COVERING UP

Rep. Dirksen has announced his resolve to fight the administration bill, already passed by the senate, which prevents any disclosure of information obtained from codes or ciphers, either ours or those of our former enemies. Penal confinement for 10 years and a fine up to $10,000 are specified for violations. To Mr. Dirksen it appears that the bill is intended to make a permanent secret of some of the most vitally important phases of the situation leading up to the Pearl Harbor debacle, and so it seems to us.

The senate injected a minor amendment providing that the bill should not be construed to prohibit submission of information to congressional committees "upon lawful demand," but Mr. Dirksen points out that, inasmuch as a New Deal majority controls the joint congressional committee investigating Pearl Harbor, the Republican minority's request for information might not be interpreted as a "lawful demand." The bill, under these circumstances, could be invoked by the administration as a gag upon any uncomfortable disclosures.

The source of this bill alone would make it suspect. It was submitted to the senate committee on military affairs last March by Secretary of War Stimson, who has been wriggling to evade responsibility for his part in the disaster for four years, and by H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of the navy.

There may have been some justification for such legislation on the ground of national security as long as the war was going on, but Sen. Thomas, presumably after consultation with Mr. Stimson, informed the senate that the preservation of secrets gained from intercepted and decoded enemy messages was just as essential in time of peace as in time of war.

The position of Mr. Stimson and Sen. Thomas completely collapses when it is known that the knowledge of code cracking, which they argue must be withheld from the enemy, has already been given away. The army Pearl Harbor board of inquiry repeatedly discusses Jap secret messages which were decoded and which were in the hands of the American government and the war department before the attack on Oahu, Dec. 7, 1941. The board's report also mentions words and phrases in our own military code, such as "Orange" for Japan, and "Rainbow No. 5," the plan for offensive or defensive action of our army.

The crux of the Pearl Harbor mystery is whether there was a conspiracy among Mr. Roosevelt, his cabinet associates, and certain highly placed men in the war and navy departments to invite a Japanese attack, which would force the nation into war, and to permit that attack to occur without warning to the responsible commanders in Hawaii, even after the cracking of the Japanese code had clearly disclosed its imminence to such an extent that a shrewd naval officer could even prophesy the time and place.

It is fully admitted that Washington, thru possession of decoded Jap messages, was aware that relations between the United States and Japan were to be ruptured 16½ hours before the hour set for the break, but that this information was withheld from naval and military leaders in Washington, who were charged with responsibility for putting the commanders in Hawaii on guard. The fumbling that went on in the war department after receipt of such vital intelligence cannot be rationally explained on any other ground than that it was done deliberately and for the purpose of obtaining the casus belli so urgently desired.

What is the code message they want to hide? Did it say the attack was to be made on Pearl Harbor?

FOOTBALL AND DRINKING

[Memphis Commercial Appeal]

With the football season still young, widespread and energetic protests against drinking at the games have already been registered from several sections of the midsouth. Judging from our own observation, which has been confined to one college contest staged at night here in Memphis, the protests are timely and well justified. The tendency appears to call for immediate curbing by whatever means are necessary. It is to be hoped that football fans will regulate themselves, in the face of well-grounded complaints already registered. Otherwise it will be up to school authorities, as well as to law enforcement officials, to take necessary measures.

As a general rule, drinking in public places is against the law, and in any case football games are attended by young and old, men and women, boys and girls, some of whom find the business of open swigging highly distasteful. They certainly have every right to be relieved of what they find offensive. Good taste and ordinary consideration for the feelings of other people demand that those who drink shall confine it to places where it is neither against the law nor a violation of the rules of courtesy.

MEDITATION ON THE MOON

Into the discussions and proceedings regarding the atomic bomb, whether in legislative halls, council chambers, or scientists' assemblies, this column proposes the reading of a few words written by H. G. Wells in 1901. He puts them in the mouth of an eminent physicist who has invented a method of reaching the moon. Surveying the bleak but gold-bearing lunar landscape, where the strange, insectlike inhabitants live underground, the man of mundane science meditates.

* * *

"If I take my secret back to earth, what will happen? I do not see how I can keep my secret for a year, for even part of a year. Sooner or later it must come out, even if other men rediscover it. And then . . .

* * *

"Governments and powers will struggle to get hither, they will fight against one another, and against these moon people; it will only spread warfare and multiply the occasions of war. In a little while, in a very little while, if I tell my secret, this planet, to its deepest galleries, will be strewn with human dead. Other things are doubtful, but that is certain.

* * *

"It is not as tho man had any use for the moon. What good would the moon be to men? Even of their own planet, what have they made but a battlefield and a theater of infinite folly? Small as his world is and short as his time, he has still in his little life down there far more than he can do. No! Science has toiled too long, forging weapons for fools to use. It is time she held her hand."

See "The First Men in the Moon," in "Novels of Science" [Viking Portable], for the rest of a fine, fantastic, and philosophical yarn.

YOU CAME HOME

I was lonelier
Than a blue flower in the dusk;
Lonelier
Than the first star new-risen

Lonelier

Against the wind.

Then you came home.

And a thousand stars shone forth!
The blue flower danced
In the dusk,
And the tired gull
Folded its wings.

"Certificates of Visitation"

To a small town boy, like myself in 1893, a job at the Columbian exposition was a gift straight from the Arabian Nights. I didn't mind when I was shunted to the Administration building, considered a dud because it contained no exhibits and wouldn't attract possible customers for our hand-lettered "Certificates of Visitation."

The rurals and small towners were not interested in these souvenirs, but foreign dignitaries, news correspondents, exhibitors, commissioners, etc., went for them in a big way. Infanta Eulalia's secretary watched my work one day, and then ordered certificates for the princess, her husband, and each member of her suite—about 16 in all. Boy, what a job! Señorita this and señor that, with their court titles in full!

However, I was able to engross them decently in the limited space left on the certificate for that purpose. The infanta's equerry scrutinized the work carefully, nodded approval, and paid, with the addition of a surprising bonus. After that superb inflation it was necessary to take a couple of hours off to visit my competitors in the other buildings. Chiggers

The meadow sleeps, its tawny, sunburned cheek
Is dimpling in the wind as tho it dreams
Of larks and clover, or perhaps the creek
Still singing choruses of summer themes.
The meadow sleeps where not so long ago
The frogs were loud and crickets fiddled thru
The moon-white hours, when stars were thick and low,
Confused by fireflies surging up the blue.
Time sent the fledglings south and set aflame
The wooded slopes, and now the meadow grass
Slumbers within its roots, and shadows claim
The silence of the listless clouds that pass.
Meadow, do you remember in your sleep,
Bare-footed children, tumbling, daisy-deep?

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0200, gives personal interviews.]

F. J. asks: "When uncovered and indoors does a soldier salute an officer upon addressing him? What is the custom in the navy? If a soldier saluted a naval officer indoors and it was not the naval custom to salute, would the officer return the salute notwithstanding?"

Soldiers should uncover upon entering a room or office where officers are present and should salute an officer before addressing him. The officer must return the salute. The navy does not salute when uncovered indoors and if a soldier did salute a navy officer the officer should nod and bid the soldier the time of day.

N. L. asks: "Does a soldier's pay from the army, continue when he is absent without leave? If he is absent for a month or more is his allotment to his wife stopped? Does the government pay his insurance?"

No money accrues to a soldier during the time he is absent from duty without proper authority and if payment is made from any sum credited to his account during the period of absence he becomes indebted to the government for the full amount. After he is restored to pay status monthly deductions are made from his pay roll account until the debt is paid. If a soldier is absent for a month or more his company commander must cancel his insurance and in order to be insured again the soldier must make a new application. If a man's allotment to dependents is not canceled the $22 which he must contribute toward family allowance becomes part of his debt.

THE PLIGHT OF THE CHRONIC ALCOHOLIC

THE chronic alcoholic is a pathetic figure who finds it more convenient to indulge than to face reality. The habit is often an escape mechanism for maladjusted personalities. It is not easy to say when a tippler reaches the boozer stage but I have always defined an inebriate as one who imbibes frequently during the day and evening and on awakening in the morning, must have his "shot" before he can get going. The worst offenders may consume more in 24 hours than the average man does in a year.

In the early stages the victim resents any suggestion that he might be tipping the bottle too much. He is put on the defensive and becomes irritable, quick tempered, and difficult to live with. To outsiders he may be alert and well behaved but in time he becomes unstable and irresponsible generally. Judgment is impaired and the will enfeebled. Charles Lamb aptly described the consequences in "Confessions of a Drunkard."

Eventually social and business failures follow, which only serve to add kindling to the fires of remorse. This calls for more of the same and, because of the mounting cost, cheaper and inferior brands are resorted to. Altho the word "he" has been used, the fair sex is by no means exempt.

These individuals are in a state of constant intoxication and the large amount of ethyl alcohol harms the body. The tissues may be poisoned, leading to degeneration and atrophy of the heart, stomach, kidneys, and various glands. Cirrhosis of the liver is not uncommon. These changes cannot be blamed entirely upon liquor itself. Topers neglect to eat properly and the resulting nutritional deficiencies aid in the breakdown of the organs. Many subsist on little more than coffee and whisky—one to keep them awake when the other makes them drowsy.

The nervous system is involved frequently. Mental deterioration to the point of stupidity may occur. Many become suspicious of every one and develop a sense of persecution. Increasing nervousness, unsteadiness, and tremors of the hand and tongue are not unusual. Alcoholic neuritis may be extremely distressing and in some cases is associated with pellagra.

Should the drug be withdrawn suddenly, particularly in the presence of pneumonia or an accident, delirium tremens may set in. The patient becomes more and more excited, shakes like a leaf, and is markedly apprehensive. The face is flushed and the tongue furred. At first insomnia is the rule but eventually sleep comes, only to be disturbed by terrifying dreams and hallucinations. This is when pink elephants or other monsters appear. After a few days these vanish and the sufferer is able to slumber naturally.

Once the acute episode has been dispelled with sedatives, good food, and vitamins [especially B], the question of prevention of recurrences comes to the fore. Most sufferers require institutional care in the beginning as treatment must be aimed at improvement of the physical condition and the mental factors leading to habituation.

The problem has been referred to as "omnipresent" and numerous state, city, and national organizations are devoting their entire research to rehabilitation of victims.

SHOPPING FATIGUE

Mrs. C. V. writes: Every time I go downtown to shop I become very tired in a short time. Does this mean I should see a doctor?

REPLY

This is a common complaint. The chances are that if this is the only chore which causes fatigue, nothing is wrong and you need not consult a physician. On the other hand, if exhaustion is out of proportion to exertion, then a checkup is in order.

CHEST PAIN

Mrs. R. E. writes: Can gallstones cause pain similar to angina pectoris?

REPLY

There may be a relationship between the gall bladder and the heart. Disease of the gall bladder may influence the coronary circulation to such an extent that a true angina exists. Acute attacks in either of these organs occasionally are difficult to distinguish.

ANOTHER TOMATO FALLACY

Mrs. M. writes: A friend tells me that fall tomatoes are hard on the kidneys. Is this true?

No. The poor tomato certainly takes a beating, doesn't it?

Hangover at Sea

Word is still drifting back to land of the manner in which the men in the Pacific celebrated V-J day. A navy man reports that there isn't a torpedo in the Pacific with a drop of juice left in it. One hundred and fifty proof torpedo juice makes an exhilarating highball. The men on Iwo had a hoard of sulphur-aged saki which had been dug out of an old Japanese cave a few weeks before. The saddest celebrant of all, however, was a P-61 pilot who spent V-J night in a corner holding his head and moaning softly. This gentleman had brought a large bottle of bonded bourbon from the United States long before. Once in the Pacific, he realized the value of his possession and decided to save it. His friends constantly urged him to deviate from this stern path, but he was adamant. In the course of a year he went to Saipan, back to Hawaii, back to the Marianas, up to Iwo and back, and on to Okinawa. With him everywhere he carried his bottle. V-J found him back in Hawaii with 25,000 miles to his credit. That day, he decided, was the day. That evening he unearthed his liquor and ran to get into a friend's car headed for a party. He propped the bottle on the shelf behind the seat. The car started up. From behind came a splintering crash. There had been no window behind the shelf.

So, What?

Quote from Hitler's dietitian, Maria Exner, who is in a prisoner-of-war camp somewhere in Germany: "Adolph ate beans."

No Misunderstanding

Some young gentleman on the staff of Thunderbolt, weekly publication of the 83d infantry division in Germany, is having a fine time as pin-up editor. Each week a succulent photograph of a Hollywood beauty, usually scantily attired, appears on the back page. The name of the girl is beneath the picture, but to one side, in tiny letters. Beneath that, in larger type, is a helpful caption, always a quotation. A sulking pose of Lauren Bacall carries a quotation from the chairman of the N. C. A. A. track and field committee: "There is a universal appeal to any boy in his desire to match his ability against his comrades! We owe it to the youth of America to provide as much of this competition as we can." Ruth Romano, twisting her torso in as brief a bathing suit as possible, is described in an excerpt from the war department manual on elementary photography: ". . . The object distance is measured from the so-called nodal point of entrance, and the image distance and the focal distance are measured from the nodal point of emergence." Carole Landis, in bathing suit and high heeled bedroom slippers, elicits a bit from page 401 of the 1944 World Almanac: "Spring comes early to Mississippi. While golfers in the north are snowbound, young grass carpets the greens of Mississippi's courses and midwinter tournaments attract special trainloads of players." Eugenie Baird, who is laced into a dress, is explained by a few lines from the 1944 official football rules: "Markers shall be placed at the four intersections of the goal lines and side lines."

Object Lesson

A corporal in the Pacific sends a word of caution to home front motorists who are enjoying the plentiful gasoline of peace: The next time a filling station attendant puts too much gasoline in your tank, be patient with the noble fellow; he is putting the wretched stuff where it belongs. The corporal is anchored on an island where a bulldozer accidentally gored a 12 inch pipe line while clearing a jungle area three months ago. Thousands of gallons of gasoline gushed forth, but the pipe line was immediately repaired. Not until a month ago did it begin to seep into wells of the GI's drinking water. The corporal says he is now looking for some one on a peanut and beer diet who will stand at a safe distance from him and light his cigaret.

THEY CAN'T STRIKE

Camp Crowder, Mo., Oct. 19—I am wondering what the President and congress would do if every married man in the armed forces went on a strike for higher allotments for their families. We should have just as much right to strike as any union. Our families live in the same communities and pay the same prices for food, clothing, and shelter as union men.

Yet you know as well as we do what would happen if we struck. The brass would throw the "book" at us and the President and congress would stand by and let them do it, the same way they stand by and let strikers "snafu" reconversion. They are good at standing by.

If labor deserves a 15 to 30 per cent raise in wages, our families deserve a 100 per cent raise. Those of us who had savings before we went into the service have now spent most of it so that our families could live. Families of those who didn't have savings didn't live, they just existed. We didn't say much about it while the war was on because we realized we all had to make sacrifices. But now, with the government winking at strikes and advocating higher wages for strikers, we say either raise the allotments to our families or get us out of the service. SOLDIER

SHANGHAIED

GUAM, Oct. 17—Our camp, as well as other camps here, are filled with shanghaied sailors. A lot of them had enough points for discharge, but because the camps on the west coast were too loaded with men, they were sent out here before they had a chance to file a request for discharge. The only consolation the men got was that they were told they could request it when they hit Guam. They have been here for two weeks already, not doing anything, and still have not heard anything about getting it.

PHYSICALS FOR CIVILIAN JOBS

Chicago, Oct. 11—The army welcomed me with open arms in June, 1942, in spite of little or no vision in my right eye. I was overseas for two years and on the front lines for six months, doing what was required of me. There were no complaints, anyway.

Last Saturday I was given my honorable discharge and have been looking for work ever since. I cannot pass the physical examination on any of these jobs. And now the army won't take me back in, thank the Lord, for their peace time requirements are always higher.

If a man can go thru the army with no consideration given because of a physical defect and do his job well, then I can't see why he is disqualified for a civilian job. THOMAS J. MARTIN

OPA HELPS MAKE SLUMS

Chicago, Oct. 21—In a recent issue of your paper John Joseph Ryan, the O. P. A. area rent director, is quoted as saying, "The Chicago Real Estate board was told that if members could not control rents the government would step in. They failed and it did."

This goes back to our school days when, if one boy threw a spit ball in class, the entire class had to stay after school. Because a small percentage of property owners attempted to get unreasonable rents every owner of rental property was made to suffer.

The O. P. A. in its attempts to control rent prices has been a miserable failure.

It has contributed to a great extent to the run-down condition of much of our rental property. The legitimate landlord could not realize enough from his property to make the repairs necessary to keep his property from deteriorating and has had to let ruin take its course.

Now the war is over and our service men are returning to civilian life. Among them are carpenters, painters, plumbers, and many other craftsmen whom the landlord would be more than glad to employ to make repairs on his property. He cannot do this as his income from rents is such that after his fixed expenses are paid he has nothing left. LANDLORD

MEDDLING WITH THANKSGIVING

Chicago, Oct. 19—I was astonished to hear over the radio last night that Gov. Green has proclaimed Nov. 22 as Thanksgiving day. Today's TRIBUNE confirms it. Does the governor know that Thanksgiving is a day, not days, set apart each year for thanksgiving and praise to God thruout our nation, and that his Roosevelt New Deal proclamation only makes mockery and confusion of the day and divides the nation? The states with real American governors will observe the traditional last Thursday of November, and our own state the phoney one.

YANKS CAPTURE 2 GUN KILLER OF MANILA, 'THE BOY'

Rockford Cop Nabs Youth of 17 in Bed

BY ROBERT CROMIE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 24—Meet "The Boy." He is Angel Zapanta, 17 years old, 5 feet 2 inches tall, and 110 pounds. Until his recent capture by Lt. John F. Pelgen, former Rockford, Ill., police lieutenant, "The Boy" was public enemy No. 1—the most sought after criminal in the Philippines.

Lt. Pelgen, assigned to the crime investigation department [CID] of the Manila police, heard of Zapanta a few weeks ago when his Filipino policemen said "The Boy" had been seen in various spots around town, always carrying two guns. Pelgen asked why he was not brought in and was told with some surprise: "But he's armed and crazy!"

Wage a Gun Battle

So Pelgen and Lt. Dan Lomaton, a Filipino police officer, went looking for Zapanta. Zapanta heard of this and boastfully sent word he intended to shoot Lomaton on sight. The search was intensified. Four detectives picked up the trail and caught up with "The Boy."

In a gun battle they wounded one of his companions, but Zapanta escaped. A few days later "The Boy" and his companions were spotted in a public market place and another battle took place. Police killed Antero Gomes, said to have been a member of the gang. One Filipino detective found five bullet holes in his shirt and trousers but was untouched. Again "The Boy" escaped. Witnesses said Zapanta used two guns, firing expertly with either hand.

The grapevine whispered that "The Boy" had gone to the provinces to let Manila cool off. Then Lomaton got a tip that the juvenile badman was at Subic bay with his common law wife. Pelgen, Lomaton and Detective Santos Basilio arrived by car at 6 a. m. Searching a house Pelgen burst into one room and found "The Boy" in bed.

Bought from Yank Soldiers

Pelgen grabbed Zapanta who surrendered without a struggle. One .45 was found hidden in the room. "The Boy" said he had lost the other. Both were bought from American soldiers.

Zapanta confessed to two murders and complicity in a third and 12 armed robberies. He claimed that during the Jap occupation he was with a guerrilla band and killed seven Japs.

"The Boy," mild appearing and wearing a gay, sleeveless jacket, a bandana around his head, talked with quiet boastfulness yesterday of his murders:

A. "We have a grudge because in our meeting place I used to have money. He is jealous of me and notified the police. He is 36 years old and I killed him in August."

B. "This one is 21. He knows me as a trigger man and wants to kill me to have his name famous."

C. "This man is 25 or 28 but I was not alone who killed. We are three. He is a Filipino M. P. who arrested one of the others, so we decided to kill him."

Money for "Good Time"

Zapanta said the 12 robberies which he and his comrades pulled brought his share alone to about $100,000. This seems high, but Pelgen said it was quite possible since four robberies were for large sums. "The Boy" and his fellows specialized in holding up black marketeers with plenty of cash on hand.

Asked what he did with the booty, the boy shrugged and said: "Good time. Night clubs, bars, gambling, women."

He said that he had no money left when caught. He had spent at least 40,000 pesos [$20,000] in the same night club—the Blue Eagle—of which 15,000 pesos went on a single party at which Zapanta was host to 16 others whom he describes as "gangsters."

"The Boy" does not drink, but he gave his waitress 500 pesos as a tip.

"I am the big shot. I am the boss that night," he said.

Zapanta said he bought lots of clothes, including perhaps 100 suits, nearly all of which he gave away as he grew tired of them.

The gang used to rent cars, often paying 20 pesos per hour.

Zapanta went to school, as far as the third grade. He blames his venture into crime on resentment over his arrest and imprisonment when falsely accused of stealing a carabao [water buffalo].

Well, there's "The Boy." He is a symbol of the times. Of possible interest to America is Pelgen's remark that there are plenty of American soldiers roaming Manila with guns who are just as tough as or tougher than Zapanta.

BOWLES URGES PRICE CEILING ON EXISTING HOUSES

Asks Congress to Prevent Price Boom

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—Price Administrator Bowles proposed today that congress set a price ceiling on existing houses amounting to the sum brought in the first sale after enactment of the law.

This would prevent speculative buying and reselling of such homes and curb a dangerous price boom, Bowles told a senate small business subcommittee investigating complaints from small businesses.

His proposal brought immediate objections from Chairman Stewart [D., Tenn.] and Sen. Wherry [R., Neb.]. Wherry said it would be administratively impossible to check on every house sale.

Calls It Unfair

Stewart said it would be unfair to a man who bought a house, improved it, and then could get no higher price to cover the cost of improvement.

Bowles said provision would have to be made for adjustments in cases of improvements. But Wherry argued it would take an army of government agents to rule on every case. He also suggested a chance of side payments which, he said, were flagrant in the case of used automobile ceilings.

In the case of new homes, Bowles suggested a price to cover costs of production, not to exceed legal price ceilings for materials, "plus a generous profit margin to the builder or developer."

"Sure of a Profit"

He would have the price ceiling applied only in those areas where investigation showed they were needed to keep prices within reasonable bounds.

Wherry asked whether Bowles thought the construction industry would go for his plan.

"I would be delighted to go into the construction business on such a basis, where you are sure of a profit," he replied.

JOHN E. HAYES SR. DIES AT 80 OF HEART ATTACK

John E. Hayes Sr., 80, of 1548 Park av., North Chicago, died yesterday of a heart attack in his home. Mr. Hayes, a Democrat, was postmaster of North Chicago from 1914 to 1922; city water commissioner, a nonpartisan appointment, from 1922 to 1927, and was a member of the Lake county board of review in 1936 and 1937, and 1942 and 1943. He was one of the original members of the Lake county selective service board No. 3.

John E. Hayes Sr.

Mr. Hayes was born in Chicago Aug. 7, 1865, on Illinois st. near Michigan av., son of a pioneer couple who lost their new home in the fire of 1871. Mr. Hayes moved to Waukegan in 1902 and to North Chicago in 1907. He frequently was sought as a candidate for mayor but always refused. For many years he was a member of the Lake county Democratic central committee. He was chief ranger of St. William court, Catholic Order of Foresters.

He is survived by two sons, Frank L. and John E. Jr., a reporter for THE TRIBUNE; a daughter, Mrs. Edmund V. Driscoll; seven grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mary Lester, with whom Mr. Hayes had made his home since the death of his wife, Mary, in 1902. Solemn requiem mass will be sung at 10:30 a. m. Saturday at Holy Family church, North Chicago.

PHILIPPINES GIs FAR BEHIND IN MOVEMENT HOME

October Sailings 50 Pct. Below Schedule

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 24—The demobilization of American soldiers in the Philippines is far behind schedule. Only about 37,000 men are expected to be sent home this month instead of the 77,000 previously scheduled by Gen. MacArthur. Approximately 34,000 wait in replacement depots in the Manila area, of which only 7,000 have much hope of leaving before Nov. 10.

Between Oct. 1 and 20, 31,647 soldiers and Wacs started homeward from Manila. Of these, more than half comprised the 38th division which moved to the United States as a unit. This incensed thousands of soldiers with more points who were left behind.

Few Being Accepted

The army newspaper "Pacifican" today said the four big replacement depots in Manila are accepting only a few returnees, most of these being men over 38 years or with more than 90 points. However, the paper said the men in the replacement centers will leave for home not in point order but on a "first in, first out" basis.

High point soldiers are chafing at continued service in the tropics long after the war's end. They are especially incensed that some men with as few as 60 points already are homeward bound; and, that Liberty ships have not been made available as transports.

The Pacifican daily publishes three columns of letters from soldiers; most are devoted to GI gripes on demobilization. Hundreds declared their willingness to leave the theater "on any kind of an old tub," many asserting that the army was none too particular about the soldiers' comfort when they were shifted from island to island during the shooting war. The general tenor of these letters was "just get us home."

Thousands Volunteer

When a colonel in the transportation command said that a crew of 50 men could convert a Liberty ship into a transport in two days, thousands of soldiers volunteered for this work in letters to the Pacifican. Now the war department has granted permission to convert Liberty ships into carriers for 500 to 700 men. But requirements for comfort are strict. The transportation corps is experimenting with the plan, but so far nothing concrete has come out of it.

Last week the army hospital ship Mercy put into Manila to repatriate ailing Japanese. There was an immediate howl from the stranded GIs. They were joined by the high-pointers among the ship's personnel, who said they were willing to remain in the service to take the soldiers home, but not the Japs. The war department immediately ordered the Mercy put on other duty and have the Japs await a Japanese hospital ship.

The division originally was made up of men from Indiana and Kentucky National Guard units.

DEFINES STAND OF SOUTH AFRICA TOWARD EMPIRE

LONDON, Oct. 24 [Reuters]—J. H. Hofmeyer, South Africa's deputy prime minister, today defined his country's attitude to the British empire as a free association of autonomous peoples.

"Imperialism had come to be regarded in South Africa as being synonymous with domination" Hofmeyr said.

"That means South Africa is willing to regard herself as a member of the partnership of the British commonwealth, but not if it meant any impairment of liberty. She is prepared to accept the obligations of partnership but only so far as they might be considered as having been imposed by herself."

SUDDEN ATTACK ON AMERICANISM BODY REPELLED

Leftist Congressmen Fail in Quick Move

BY WILLARD EDWARDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—A sudden floor attack upon the house committee on un-American activities by a group of left wing members ended in failure today after the chamber had resounded for two hours to impassioned oratory over communistic and fascistic trends in the nation.

Calling for abolition of the committee, which has recently been questioning William Z. Foster, head of the Communist party of the United States, were eight Democrats and an American Laborite. Three of these have been associated with communist front organizations, according to committee records.

"America's Grand Jury"

Replying in defense of the committee, Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.], ranking majority member, said the verbal assault was reminiscent of the Communist party line. The committee was "the grand jury of America," he asserted, seeking to ferret out those subversive elements "stirring up strife, promoting race hatred, fostering strikes, and threatening the overthrow of the government."

"They want to get rid of our committee because our investigators are checking up on them and exposing their activities to the world," he said, adding dryly: "This little group which has just spoken has about as much chance of abolishing the committee as an elephant would have hanging by its eyebrows from a horizontal bar."

Opponents of the communistic investigation centered their fire upon a recent committee request for the radio scripts of several commentators classified as "liberal," including Cecil Brown, Johannes Steel, Raymond Gram Swing, and William S. Gailmor. The purpose, it was announced, was to examine the broadcasts for evidence of communistic propaganda.

Celler Opens Attack

"This is an attempt to frighten liberals off the air," declared Rep. Celler [D., N. Y.], who began the attack.

Rep. Coffey [D., Wash.] was next, assailing the "monopoly of the air" which, he said, was held by 46 prominent advertisers,

With all the appearance of a rehearsed act, the following arose to read prepared statements:

REP. BIEMILLER [D., Wis.]—Let the committee leave the radio alone and investigate the fascist veterans' groups which are being organized.

REP. PATTERSON [D., Cal.] — The committee is resuming the tactics of the old Dies committee. Let the FBI investigate subversive acts.

REP. HOOK [D., Mich.]—We don't need a permanent standing committee to investigate un-American acts. The committee should be wiped out.

REP. DE LACY [D., Wash.]—Reviewing radio scripts is the smear and fear method and the way Hitler started. This committee must be abolished.

"All Fearless Patriots"

REP. DOYLE [D., Cal.]—The commentators whose scripts were requested for review are all fearless patriots.

REP. JACKSON [D., Wash.]—Let the committee investigate the numerous fascists in the nation.

REP. MARCANTONIO [A. L., N. Y.]—The D. A. R. should be investigated for denying Constitution hall to two Negro artists.

Of the speakers, Patterson, De Lacy and Marcantonio have been cited in testimony before the committee for membership in communist front organizations.

MERRILL K. WOLF

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 24 (AP)—Among the 53 who received bachelor's degrees from Yale university today was Merrill Kenneth Wolf of Cleveland, O., who, at 14 years and 2 months, became the youngest student ever to be graduated from the university.

Wolf came to Yale from Western Reserve university in March, 1944. Today he completed five terms, normally the work of two and a half years, in a year and a half.

Wolf majored in the theory and composition of music at Yale under Prof. Paul Hendemith. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris H. Wolf, Cleveland lawyers, said the youth would continue advanced musical study under Arthur Schnabel, New York pianist and composer.

RED PEACE IDEA: FEEBLE U. S. AND MIGHTY RUSSIA

Communists Condemn Truman Plan

BY WALTER TROHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—The Communist party today launched a campaign to reduce the American army and navy.

The Daily Worker, official organ of the American Communist party which gets its orders from the Kremlin proposed a small volunteer army and navy in its denunciation of President Truman's plan for universal military training for young American men. It asserted that a large military establishment would put America on the road to aggression aimed at world domination.

At the same time the Communists were campaigning for the return of American soldiers. They are said to want American soldiers out of Europe where they might block soviet imperialism.

The Daily Worker held that collaboration among the United States, Britain, and Russia is more important than preparedness for the United States. This policy, however, was not urged for Russia.

Red Army Intact

Nothing was said about the fact that the soviet army is not being demobilized. It is being kept at full strength. During the occupations in eastern Europe and Asia, the Reds are pillaging industrial plants and seizing raw materials while soldiers loot civilians.

The Daily Worker campaign, which observers assert was inspired by Moscow, marks a return to prewar Red policy. For years American Communists favored a small American army and a formidable Red machine.

In the early days of the war, Communists picketed the White House for peace. At that time Hitler and Stalin were allies, having concluded a nonaggression pact in August, 1939, that made it possible for Hitler to attack Poland. When Hitler attacked Russia, the White House picket line vanished.

Aggression Charged

The communist publication expressed opposition to a large American military establishment because, it said, "it is the inevitable instrument of an aggressive American imperialism bound on the course of world domination."

The Daily Worker also hit at the American decision to keep the atom bomb as an American monopoly, saying the proposal for a large peace time force comes on top of the atom bomb decision.

The publication denounced President Truman's statement that military force is needed to execute American obligations to the allied nations. It held that the coalition with Britain and Russia was the guarantee of national survival.

Asks Pressure on Spain

"If President Truman were to return to this policy [of collaboration] advocated by his great predecessor and stop using the atomic bludgeon of American military might, the fever chart of international relations would quickly subside.

"The United States would then coöperate with the soviet union in wiping out potential sources of fascist aggression in Germany and Japan. It would crack down on Spain and Argentina. It would welcome the growth of democratic governments in eastern Europe instead of encouraging anti-soviet intrigues.

"But if all this were done, the President would not be sending messages to congress about maintaining the greatest army in the world."

ARABS THREATEN U.S. OIL FIRMS OVER ZIONISM

American Backing of Jews Causes Reaction

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 24 — The threat of economic sanctions against American commercial interests, especially oil companies, is being used by Arab politicians in their campaign against Zionism.

American support of Zionism was reported from Beirut, Lebanon, today to have been advanced in discussions of the Lebanese parliamentary subcommittee as one reason for disapproving a proposed concession for two American companies to establish refineries at the terminus of the pipeline from Iraq.

Opposition to the concession for Standard Oil of New Jersey and Socony Vacuum to erect refining facilities is so great, it was reported, that the parliamentary subcommittee will refer the proposed agreement back to the governmnt for rvision. The two companies jointly own some 24 per cent interest in the Iraq Petroleum company in which British interests predominate.

Ibn Saud May Act

King Ibn Saud, who has assumed new stature as the champion of Arab nationalism as a result of the publication of his exchange of letters with President Roosevelt, has been described by Egyptians as prepared to terminate American oil concessions in Saudi Arabia if the United States persists in its pro-Zionist policy.

The Transarabian Pipeline company is planning to build a line across Palestine from American operated oil fields in Saudi Arabia.

The Transarabian line, which would be about the same size and length as the famous Big Inch in the United States and which would cost over $75,000,000, was originally projected by the United States government during the war. The Transarabian company is a subsidiary of the Arabian-American Oil company owned jointly by Standard Oil of California and the Texas company.

British Irked by United States

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

LONDON, Oct. 24—The exchange of messages about Palestine between President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee is continuing, it was learned here today, but the atmosphere remains pessimistic and members in the house of commons showed their restiveness this afternoon by peppering Colonial Secretary George Hall with questions.

However, no definite statement of the Labor government's position is to be expected until the negotiations with Mr. Truman end.

While the British are critical about the handling of the Palestine situation they unite in sympathizing with the government in their irritation against the United States, which, it is felt, offers warm advice but refuses to accept any responsibilities.

Jews Land Illegally

JERUSALEM, Oct. 24 [Reuters]—After a six day voyage from Italy in a 250 ton sailing schooner, 173 Jewish illegal immigrants were landed by row boat "somewhere" on the coast of Palestine Monday night, Jewish sources reported today.

Syria to Bare Letters

DAMASCUS, Syria, Oct. 24 [Reuters]—Texts of letters on the subject of Palestine, exchanged between the late President Roosevelt and Shukbi Kouatly, president of the Syrian republic, will be published Friday, it was stated today.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Oct. 25—Defeat of British Frigate

The dawn was clear, the wind fresh, the sea boistrous. It was a great day for a chase.

The American 44 gun frigate United States, Capt. Stephen Decatur commanding, crowded on sail and made off in pursuit of the strange ship which had appeared on the horizon in mid-Atlantic early on that morning of Oct. 25, 1812.

The stranger was no match for the United States in sailing qualities and soon was within spy glass range of the American. Her men could be seen at quarters, ready for the inevitable battle. The stranger had already been recognized as a British ship of war.

As the ships drew together their batteries showered flame and hot metal at each other. The United States had some of the best guns and gunners in the world, and the English ship was being literally blown to pieces while the American remained relatively unscathed. So fast and furious was the fire from the United States that the British thought the ship was aflame and began cheering their victory.

It was to be no victory but a decisive defeat. The British ship was soon battered and unmanageable. Her colors were hauled down.

"What ship is that?" Decatur shouted at his defeated adversary.

"His majesty's frigate Macedonian, 38, John S. Carden," came the reply.

Capt. Carden was rowed to the United States. As he stepped onto the deck he offered his sword to Capt. Decatur. "No, sir," the latter said. "I cannot receive the sword of a man who has so bravely defended his ship, but I will receive your hand."

The courtly drama then moved to the captain's cabin. The two commanders, who so recently had been hurling broadsides at each other, ate and drank together amicably.

Casualties on the United States totaled 11, on the Macedonian 104.

BLAMES OIL MEN AND ARABS FOR PALESTINE WOES

Sen. Brewster [R., Me.], addressing a Hadassah convention session here last night, assailed British and American oil interests in the near east and the Arab rulers from whom they hold their concessions as the fomenters of the unquiet situation between Arabs and Jews in Palestine.

Sen. Brewster

The convention, attended by 1,000 delegates and hundreds of guests, opened Monday in the Stevens hotel, where it will continue thru today.

Termed Test of Integrity

"Time for consultation is past," Sen. Brewster asserted. "All the major powers, for the last quarter century, have promised Palestine as a homeland for the Jews. Palestine is a test of American intelligence and integrity. The question is not what is hostile to the Arab but what was promised to the Jew."

Declaring the threat of Arab force to halt Jewish immigration as a "myth," he ridiculed the picture of an America and Britain that, "having conquered Hitler and Hirohito, quail before Ibn Saud—a synthetic sheik created solely by British and American benevolence . . .

"The world must see to it," he said, "that Great Britain does not continue its policy of refusing to permit Jews to enter Palestine."

Viewed as Listening Post

It would be to America's self-interest, apart from her commitment to the Palestine mandate, he said, to "consider the potentialities of Palestine as a listening post in the troubled Middle East.

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, co-chairman of the American Zionist Emergency council, and Miss Dorothy Thompson, newspaper columnist, also spoke.

BRITAIN URGED TO RETRACT ITS POLICY ON JEWS

New York, Oct. 24 [Special]—Before an estimated 150,000 persons in Madison Square park, speakers today at a protest demonstration for a Jewish commonwealth in Palestine called on the British labor government to abrogate the white paper of 1939, which restricts immigration into Palestine.

Asserting the British have imposed a "black-out" on Palestine and are expelling journalists for reporting the presence there of tanks and troops, Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the Zionist Organization of America, warned that a resistance movement would go "underground" unless Britain's policy is relaxed.

Thomas Murray, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, pledged that the AFL would not "stand idly by."

"We are not an inconsequential force," he said. "We warn our friends in the British government: You cannot do what you propose to do. We are in this fight to the end."

4 CONGRESSMEN SEEK ACTION ON PALESTINE ISSUE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—Four congressmen demanded today that the United States take "interim international action" on the issue of free Palestine immigration.

In a statement Senators Tobey [R., N. H.] and Myers [D., Pa.] and Representatives Somers [D., N. Y.] and Gearhart [R., Cal.] said America "cannot afford to be a party to brutal, unilateral breaches of faith and violation of solemn obligations."

"We must not forget," the statement said, "that because after the first World war the Hebrews were naive enough to build their future on mere promises, they paid with millions of needless casualties and endless sufferings."

G. F. Hagenauer Elected County Employes' Trustee

George F. Hagenauer, chief auditor in the county treasurer's office, defeated Ernest J. Camit, incumbent, for trustee of the retirement board of the Cook county employes annuity and benefit fund, election returns from 12 polling places thruout the county disclosed last night. The vote was 3,205 to 1,232, and was cast by county and forest preserve employes. Hagenauer will begin his three year term, for which no remuneration is paid, on Dec. 1.

Smarten Up on Athletics, Girl Is Told

BY SHEILA DALY

[Copyright: 1945: By The Chicago Tribune]

"I'm one of those gals who's hopelessly crazy about a fellow who's hopelessly crazy about sports, and it's a wearing business. He's constantly talking about football, basketball, or whatever happens to be in season at the time. It's not that I don't appreciate a rugged, athletic fellow, but you can't have much fun if the dating conversation is limited strictly to a detailed discussion of the previous day's game. What chance does a gal have against a football?"

on the SOLID side

The only advantage a gal has over a football in the life of a male who eats, drinks, and sleeps sports is that she is the more ideal partner to waltz around at the senior prom. The best way to have fun with a fellow who's sports mad is to be a bit that way yourself.

Find out enough about the rules to be an intelligent listener and to answer back a few times, too. Learn the basic points of the contests so that you'll be able to watch them with him instead of grabbing his sleeve at the most exciting moments to find out what's going on. Of course, you have to like a fellow pretty well to cater to his tastes that completely. But eventually he's bound to run out of sport talk and that's when you want to be around.

"This is the same old question, but every time I ask it I get a different answer. My mother says I shouldn't date until I'm 17 and I'm only 13½ now. My girl friends, who are almost 14, too, think we should start almost any time now. And some of the girls at school who started dating when they were 14 or 15 say they wish they had waited at least another year. What do you think?"

Let's get a new answer for that old question and set this gal straight. Is 14 time for a girl to start dating, or should she nix the offers till she's pushing 18? If you'll tell us we'll tell her. So how about giving the little girl the good word?

Thru the Looking Glass

Is your skin looking somewhat woebegone and something less than soft and silky? Then it's time to get busy giving it regular treatments with a rich emollient cream, particularly if it's naturally inclined to dryness. Thin, dry skin that isn't given the lubricating treatments it needs crinkles and flakes early in the season, and unless you start in right now to give it care it's going to cause increasing trouble as the days progress.

One exceptionally good cream concocted for the single purpose of lubrication is the special standby of many women whose skins are thin and sensitive to weather. It's packed with efficient emollient substances which soothe and soften the skin to a satiny smoothness and rid it of that taut, brittle feeling. You can feel the richness of it when you dip the fingers in the jar, and you will like the heavy but not sticky consistency which makes it pleasant and easy to use.

As with any similar preparation the cream must be used regularly to effect any really lasting results. That means it must be used at least once a day, preferably at night when a thin film can be left on to do its work while you sleep. Apply it rather generously, and with upward and outward motions massage it in lightly and leisurely. The skin will lap it up and feel relaxed and supple after the treatment.

You'll want to use the cream, too, when you're soaking in the tub, letting the combination of cream and steam work together to give the skin a nice, moist freshness.

Smart Gloves of Wool Jersey Are Attractive

BY REA SEEGER

Smart new street gloves of wool jersey, extremely well made, are important because of the colors, the fabric, and the fact that they complement tweeds, jersey dresses, and all the casual type clothes worn in the country and street clothes for town. Emphasis on smooth fit augurs well for sales, for these handsome jersey gloves are the last word in finger distinction. You really must see them to believe their fitted silhouette. Effective visible seaming adds the swank seldom obtained in any other kind of materials than suede or kid or pigskin. Prices, too, are easy on any clothes allowance.

Most of the gloves are of the long slipon variety, the kind that crush smartly and thickly around the wrists with suit or coat sleeves, or that can be worn pulled up over the sleeves of a dress almost to the elbows. Contrast is achieved with two colors in the street gloves, the gloves themselves of such shades as black or brown with the finger gussets of scarlet or vivid green. Stunning neutrals of beige with brown gussets and similar combinations offer a good choice for giddy, bright tweed suits and costumes.

More dress parade jersey gloves come in colors, and are made with deep cavalier cuffs. A pair of brilliant emerald green jerseys are elaborately detailed with black embroidery. Deft shirrings on the cuffs are added detail. A pair of copper tones are trimmed with winking detail of black sequins, and this pair has a sequin trimmed ascot to match. Soft beige beauties and those of an effective oatmeal shade assure the same contrast as gloves of costly suede and rival these suedes in workmanship and fit.

For further information call Rea Seeger, Superior 0200.

Music Superior to All Else in Gershwin Film

"RHAPSODY IN BLUE"

By Mae Tinée

As a review of many of George Gershwin's memorable musical successes, "Rhapsody in Blue" is first rate. The forceful composition for piano and orchestra from which the film takes its title is ably presented under the baton of Paul Whiteman, along with the languorous "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess," the "Concerto in F," and about 16 of the lighter and widely popular numbers—"Embraceable You," "Somebody Loves Me," "Lady Be Good," and many other tunes the American public sang, whistled, and danced to are all there. In fact, it's a solid two and a quarter hours of Gershwin music.

However, music alone cannot make a movie, and as a biography or as a story this film has definite shortcomings. A newcomer, Robert Alda, plays the part of the young composer, and I do not think he is entirely at fault for the fact that his Gershwin emerges as a face and form, rather than a man of flesh and blood. The entire script treats him with a sympathetic awe and produces a pleasant, rather ineffective man, living only for his music and dominated by his ambitions, surrounded by an adoring family and friends, making a swift and easy climb to fame, but quite incapable of reaching important decisions as to his way of life.

Even the two women whom he loves at different periods of his life are made to worship him from afar. They each arrive at the self-effacing conclusion that such genius must not be disturbed by the fetters of matrimony, altho the hero is unaggressively willing to risk it. Why the ladies were so humble or just how they thought marriage would detract from his abundant talent was never quite clear to me.

A large and lavish cast, led by several celebrities playing themselves, surrounds Mr. Alda—with Oscar Levant providing the humor in his accustomed role as a bumptious wit when not occupied in performing capably at the piano; George White plotting bigger and better "Scandals"; Al Jolson in blackface reviving "Swanee"; Tom Patricola contributing a neat song and dance number, and Hazel Scott doing wonderful things with "The Man I Love."

Both Joan Leslie and Alexis Smith are rather pallid as the ladies who love George from a respectful distance, but Albert Basserman gives a warm and likable performance as a fond professor who tries to steer the young musician toward the generally unremunerative heights of unadulterated art. The roles of the devoted members of the Gershwin family—momma, poppa, and Ira—are sufficiently unpretentious and human as portrayed by Rosemary de Camp, Morris Carnovsky, and Herbert Rudley. The photography thruout is excellent and occasionally superior.

Without the music, the plot would be tiresome, indeed, and even with such a sparkling and vigorous boost, much of the dialog and the story are a hindrance rather than a help.

Convalescent Child Should Not Overdo

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Donnie was so cross tonight and he wouldn't eat his supper," said his mother.

"He's been very ill," answered his grandmother. "What kind of a day did he have?"

"Well, he begged so hard to get up and he seemed so fine, I dressed him and let him play about upstairs all this afternoon."

Even adults who know the meaning of their symptoms and sensations are apt to overdo during convalescence.

It's a common thing to hear some one who has been ill remark, "I thought I was able to go for a walk, but I soon realized I hadn't regained my strength sufficiently;" or "I'm so tired all the time; my recuperation seems very slow."

Children don't know the significance of the unaccustomed feeling that comes after a period of sickness. Their spirits revive, their desire to get up and play is intense, and that as a rule is all that they think of. Their spirit outstrips their bodies.

The importance of the time of convalescence is one that I think many an inexperienced mother discounts. She will be vigilant and untiring in nursing her child, and in following the doctor's instructions. But when the illness, whatever it may be, is gone and convalescence begins, she has nothing very definite to guide her, and she is apt to let her young patient overtax himself.

I'm not thinking now especially of illnesses of a serious nature, but of those minor ones children often have in which fever usually is present.

Fever is wearing on a child, especially if it is continuous, and its aftermath must be taken into account. Days on a much diminished diet are weakening, too. Often mothers with their first child learn only from sad experience how slowly the convalescent child must be made to take things.

After a serious illness the period of convalescence must be even longer, altho I know how difficult it is to restrain a child when the desire for activity returns. Gently does it, however.

As a general proposition it is true that a partnership should select for trumps that suit in which it holds the greater number. An exception of somewhat frequent occurrence is observed in cases where the partnership chooses to play for game in a major suit with eight trumps rather than try for the longer minor suit game in which nine trumps may be held. This one thought should be borne in mind constantly: Eight trumps are a convenient working majority, and where the proper values are held, are sufficient to form the basis for a game contract. Game contracts with only seven trumps, however, should, as a rule, be avoided.

You have many times heard it said that where eight trumps are held the ideal division is for dummy and declarer each to have four. This is usually more advantageous than having five in one hand and three in the other. Failure to grasp this principle proved very costly to the South of today's hand. The bidding progressed with clock-like precision up till the final bid. At the slam contract in spades, there was no way to avoid the loss of a heart and a club.

South was ill advised to return to six spades after his partner had gone to six diamonds. He did so, he explained, because he was afraid to play a slam with such an anemic four card suit. North's bidding definitely guaranteed a holding of four good trumps. This becomes clear both from the jump raise and the subsequent return to diamonds after South supports spades. South should have been concerned about a possible losing heart since North's ace could take care of only one of them. With diamonds as trump, one of these hearts could be discarded on North's fifth spade.

The advantage of the four opposite four trump holding is that after three rounds of trumps clear the suit [provided the normal break occurs] there is a trump left in each hand. Any five card suit held by either hand now provides discards of losers from the others. A five card holding as a side suit is an enormous advantage in the play of a hand.

To Get Better Cough Syrup, Mix It at Home

So Easy! No Cooking. Real Saving.

To get quick relief from coughs due to colds, you should make sure by mixing your own cough syrup at home. It's no trouble at all, and you know it's pure and good. It needs no cooking, and it's so easy to make that a child could do it.

From your druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add enough plain syrup to fill up the pint. To make syrup, stir two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, if desired. The full pint thus made should last a family a long time, and gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick results, you've never seen its superior. It seems to take hold instantly, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritated membranes, and helping to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Tribune's Annual Style Show Will Attract Smart Audience

BY JUDITH CASS

ALL seats to the four performances of the sixth annual Chicago Tribune American Fashions show today and tomorrow were sold weeks ago, but a number of fashion wise women were forehanded enough to obtain their tickets early. Consequently, the W-G-N studio theater will be the after luncheon destination of several small groups of well known Chicagoans this afternoon.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, who is in the midst of completing her work as general chairman of the huge St. Luke's benefit fashion show held last week and of launching the participation of the women's division of the war finance committee of Chicago and Cook county in the Victory loan drive, will entertain some of her St. Luke's co-workers at luncheon in the Casino today before attending the fashion show's first matinee performance. A pleasant topic of conversation among them will be the mounting profits from the St. Luke's show. The total sum earned for the hospital will be announced shortly and is expected to pass last year's $26,000 by many hundreds.

Fashion Show Notes

The glamorous models, and their easy, graceful manners on the runway; a historical pageant depicting fashion changes of every hundred years since 1545, plus a 2045 ensemble envisioned by the artist, Salvador Dali, and teen-age clothes, an innovation this year, are some of the interesting features of the show in addition to the costumes themselves.

Each designer represented already has been awarded $50 and will be eligible for the grand prizes of $2,000, $1,000 and $500, which will be awarded to the three ensembles which place highest in the audience balloting at each performance. A second $500 prize will go to the most popular costume in the teen-age group.

Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Mrs. Frank Hibbard, Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy, and Mrs. Watson McLallen will be among Mrs. Wolf's luncheon guests. Mrs. Wayne Wills is entertaining several friends at luncheon in the Arts club before today's matinee, among them Mrs. Alfred O'Gara, Mrs. Charles Borland, and Mrs. Waldo Logan. Mrs. E. Cummings Parker, Mrs. Hugo C. Vogel, Mrs. Abner J. Stilwell, and Mrs. Bradley Eben will have luncheon together in the Woman's Athletic club before the show.

Others with tickets to one of the performances are Mrs. Walter H. Kirk, Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, who will arrive tomorrow with Mr. Carpenter from their summer home in Beverly, Mass.; Mrs. R. Winfield Ellis, Mrs. John W. Root, Mrs. Robert Cavenaugh, and Mrs. R. Neil Cowham.

Wedding News

Mrs. Potter Palmer and her daughter, Miss Pauline Palmer, who arrived several days ago from the east, are completing plans for Miss Palmer's marriage Nov. 17 to Lt. Col. Arthur MacDougal Wood. The ceremony will be a small one at 4:30 p. m. in the Astor st. apartment of the bride's mother, and a few more close friends will be invited to a reception following. Miss Palmer's brother-in-law and sister, the Oakleigh L. Thornes, will be here for the wedding, and one of their brothers, Lt. Comdr. Gordon Palmer, who recently was promoted to that rank, will arrive from Washington, D. C., where he shared bachelor quarters for a while with Col. Wood.

Col. Wood arrived Sunday in the Highland Park home of his parents, the R. Arthur Woods. He received his release from the army air forces at a separation center in Washington and now is on terminal leave.

Miss Nancy Hoffman, daughter of Mrs. Richard Yates Hoffman of Winnetka, and Capt. William J. Brown Jr. of the army air forces, will be married at 8 p. m. tomorrow in Christ church, Winnetka, with a reception following in the Hoffman home. Mrs. David Hoffman will be her sister-in-law's matron of honor, and her husband, Capt. Hoffman, also of the army air forces, will be among the ushers.

Miss Susan Brown, sister of the bridegroom, will be maid of honor. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and several Cedar Rapids friends, all will be here for the ceremony. Miss Ruth Thomason, Miss Priscilla Korrady, and Mrs. Ezra Pugh will be bridesmaids. David Brown of Baton Rouge, La., will be his brother's best man, and also ushering will be Kenneth H. Bastian and Robert H. O'Meara of Cedar Rapids and Sgt. Joseph C. Ross Jr. of Chicago, who served in Burma in the Mars task force with the bridegroom. The bridal dinner will be given tonight in the Lake Shore club.

Miss Hoffman will wear the wedding gown worn by one of her good friends, Mrs. James Stanton, who will not be in the wedding party, however, because she and her husband are in Florida. The dress will be trimmed with rose point lace from the gown of the bride's great-grandmother. Capt. Brown and his bride will have a three week wedding trip before he reports for orders.

Engagement News

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stewart of Ithaca, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Lt. Charles Wesley Roberts of the naval reserve, son of Mrs. Lafe L. Clore of Evanston. The wedding will take place Nov. 10 in the Bethlehem chapel of the Washington cathedral in Washington, D. C., where both young persons are stationed, Miss Stewart as a lieutenant [j. g.] in the WAVES.

Miss Stewart was graduated from Cornell university and received her

Salutation

Phyllis, the secretary, wanted to know the salutation used in addressing a letter to two different people —one male and one female. The case we had was a mother and son, and we used, "Dear Madam and Sir." If it is a father and daughter combination, "Dear Sir and Madam" gives the father recognition as senior partner. In cases where the seniority is not known, the "ladies first" rule would apply. [I learned this 20 years ago at dear old Central High in St. Paul, Minn.]

Announce Retirement of Dr. Tom P. Cross from U. of C. Faculty

The retirement of Dr. Tom Peete Cross with the rank of professor emeritus from the faculty of the University of Chicago was announced yesterday by President Ernest C. Colwell. Dr. Cross is an authority on Celtic literature, Irish medieval culture and the legends of King Arthur and the Round Table.

As a tribute to his scholarship, particularly in the discovery of Gaelic manuscripts, the current issue of the Journal of Modern Philology, of which he was a former editor, was dedicated in his honor. Dr. and Mrs. Cross are now living in Aylett, Va.

President Colwell also announced the retirement of Dr. Dudley Billings Reed as professor emeritus of hygiene in the department of medicine. Dr. Reed, director of the university's health service, retires under the age limit after 34 years service. He and Mrs. Billings have moved to Oberlin, O.

Rare Gems Set Off Gowns in Fashions Show

A magnificent collection of gems, valued at approximately $350,000, will be exhibited with the winning costumes of the sixth American Fashions show, the first performance of which will be given this afternoon in W-G-N's studio theater. There will be other performances this evening, tomorrow afternoon, and tomorrow evening.

Many of the pieces are priceless because of the war-caused inability of jewelry creators to obtain materials to replace or duplicate them. Others are antique and have been worn by America's smartest women at celebrity studded gatherings.

High in popularity are the diamond and diamond and ruby studded platinum bracelets, which add even more luster to the exquisite gowns in the show.

These, with wide gold link bracelets, sapphire sprinkled sunburst earrings, and pins, and other jeweled pieces were lent to THE TRIBUNE for the American Fashions show by the American Gem society. Other pieces are from private collections.

Another luxurious note is struck in the show by the handsome furs worn by the mannequins. Among those to be shown are baum martin and sable scarves.

The highlight of the fur pieces is the glamorous silver fox jacket, which lends its subtle beauty to show off to best advantage the costume with which it is worn.

Altho all seats for the four public presentations of the American Fashions show have been sold out for several weeks, calls still continue to flood THE TRIBUNE with requests for tickets.

Designers of the prolog costumes, which will depict women's costumes from 1545 thru 2045, were selected from the best and most famous in their field. Salvador Dali, who designed the 2045 costume, is a Spaniard who lived much of his life in Paris. He came to the United States a decade ago.

His work has caused much controversy, but his skill at designing costumes, jewelry, stage settings, etc., remains unquestioned.

The 1945 costume, a glamorous bare midriff gown, was designed by J. Terry Wilson of New York. He carried off first honors with one of his designs in the 1944 show, becoming the only entrant ever to win two first prizes in American Fashions shows. He had won first place in the 1942 show.

This young designer lived half of his life in Paris, where he worked for leading couturiers. In the United States he has fast become one of the nation's most popular designers.

The 1845 costume, designed by Norman Edwards of New York, recalls Johann Strauss melodies. Edwards first achieved fame in London, England, where he wrought designs for the costumes of royalty. In the United States his work for Myrna Loy and other cinema stars, as well as for prominent women the country over, has made him a leader in his field.

The 1645 costume, designed by Mrs. J. Turner Wilcox, was taken from the designer's book on the history of women's apparel. Mrs. Wilcox recently completed a book which describes hats, hair-dresses, and wigs as they were worn thru the ages.

Ladislas Czettel, designer of the 1545 and 1745 costumes, was famous in Europe for his stage designs. He designed the settings for Max Reinhardt productions and for many Metropolitan opera productions.

Five hundred and fifty Chicago style leaders last night witnessed the gala preview of the American Fashions contest. Their enthusiastic applause indicated that once more the collection is a triumph of fine designing and dressmaking. They should know.

Manufacturers and dress designers, executives, and merchandising heads of prominent retail establishments were the guests of THE TRIBUNE at a cocktail party and dinner in the Continental hotel prior to the showing. Among those present were Hughston McBain, president of Marshall Field's; Bruce MacLeish, general manager of Carson Pirie Scott; Davis Mayer, president of Rothschild's; Hector Sector, president of the Fair; Edward Knarr, executive vice president of Netcher's Boston store, and Sidney Natkin, vice president of Mandel Brothers.

Others were Willard Cole, executive vice president of Henry C. Lytton; Joel and Louis Goldblatt, president and vice president of Goldblatt's; William T. White of Wieboldt's; William Nugent of Sears, and George Benson, president of Benson & Rixon.

Col. and Mrs. Robert R. McCormick had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. John Farwell and Mrs. William M. Scudder.

Margery Mayer Sings Chicago Opera "Carmen" When Gladys Swarthout Is Reported Ill

"CARMEN"

Opera with music by Georges Bizet, book by Meilhac and Halevy from the novel by Prosper Merimee. Presented in French by the Chicago Opera company in the Civic Opera house Wednesday evening, Oct. 24, 1945.

THE CAST

Carmen	Margery Mayer
Don Jose	Giovanni Martinelli
Escamillo	Richard Bonelli
Micaela	Elvira Helal
Zuniga	Ralph Telasko
Frasquita	Inge Manski
Mercedes	Rosalind Nadell
Dancairo	Wilfred Engelman
Remendado	Lodovico Oliviero
Conductor	Fausto Cleva

Margery Mayer seems to have turned into the Chicago Opera's mezzo soprano trouble shooter. She substituted twice as Azucena in "Il Trovatore" when Bruna Castagna was reported ill, and last night at the Civic Opera house she sang "Carmen" on 24 hours' notice, altho the audience that came to hear Gladys Swarthout had no warning of the change until confronted by a sign in the foyer. Fausto Cleva, general director of the opera, explained that Miss Swarthout is speechless with a cold at her New York home, and that he had hoped until this morning she could fly here to keep the engagement. He scouted the idea that Miss Swarthout might still be unhappy about the first "Carmen," in which she had a brilliant success despite the fact that when she arrived the rehearsal had been held without her.

However, the one unmistakable fact was that Miss Swarthout was absent and Miss Mayer was present. The Chicago girl has sung Carmen many times with the San Carlo Opera, but never before in her home town. The role suits her far better than Azucena, which is too heavy for her voice and a libel on her good looks. For Miss Mayer is a dusky brunette with bold features that carry well in a big theater, and her voice is an opulent mezzo with a deep streak of seduction in its timbre. She needs vocal agility to match that lovely legato, and she needs dramatic fire to rout any suggestion of the placid. But on the whole hers is a Carmen worth knowing more about. The best thing in its favor, beyond that natural voice, is that it has disdained the cheap tricks of the second rate actress.

The cast was otherwise the same as at the first "Carmen," except that Wilfred Engelman doubled as Morales and Dancairo. Richard Bonelli repeated his original success with the Toreador Song, but Giovanni Martinelli sounded tired, tho there was no mistaking the line of style acquired in topflight opera days with Toscanini. Mr. Cleva conducted with his usual gift for making scores sound fresh, but to say that this was a first class "Carmen" would be to give undue ammunition to those who insist it ought to be junked in favor of "Carmen Jones."

Notes

Gene Raymond, until yesterday a major in the air forces, will be here Saturday afternoon to hear his wife, Jeanette MacDonald, as Marguerite in the Chicago Opera's "Faust." . . . "The Late George Apley" starts its tour soon but doesn't get here until March 4. . . . Brock Pemberton signed Joe E. Brown for the second "Harvey." It opens in San Francisco, tours, and has a summer vacation before arriving here next fall. By that time we could get Frank Fay. . . . Buddy Ebsen will play the Sammy White role in the revival of "Show Boat." . . . Spencer Tracy is sticking with "The Rugged Path" now that Robert Sherwood's rewriting is smoothing out some of the bumps. . . . Edmund Kurtz has acquired the "Hausmann" violoncello, a Stradivarius, from the Chicago collector, Max Adler. It is said to have been appraised at $85,000, and Mr. Kurtz adds it to his Montagnana cello, dated 1738.

Missionaries Told New Conditions for Work Among Japs

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS

Alice E. Cary of Boston, Mass., former Congregational missionary to Japan, yesterday told the 136th annual meeting of the American [Congregational] board of foreign missions the conditions on which American churches again may send missionaries to Japan. A foremost condition was that they "leave their denominational labels at home." The board is meeting in the First Congregational church, La Grange.

The conditions were sent to her as secretary for Japan of the American board by a chaplain who sought out Japan's most famous Christian leader, Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, and found that Dr. Kagawa's secretary is a Congregational minister. This secretary challenged American denominationalism and added that "Christianity must be back of democracy if that is to be workable."

Dr. Kagawa is said to have told the chaplain that "missionaries will be welcome if they help," but that "the future of [Japanese] Christianity depends upon us, the Japanese, and what we do in the crisis. It will take more than sermons to win people to our faith. We must, as best we can, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and lose ourselves in their welfare."

Miss Cary told the board that, while the number of the church's institutions still standing in Japan is unknown, "many of the former staffs which have been carrying on thru the war years give us a starting point."

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin

By George Rector
Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

A Hallowe'en Treat!

Witches on broomsticks are ready to ride once more so accent the Hallowe'en spirit with a delicious old favorite dressed up in the holiday spirit. A meat vegetable pie baked in a Jack O'Lantern oven dish, as the one pictured below, will be right in tune for the festive occasion and will delight the younger set of your family no end.

Delicious Meat Vegetable Pie . . . dressed for a party

Cut into inch cubes
1 lb. lean beef and brown
in ¼ cup WILSON'S BAKE-RITE
Add 3 cups of water, cover and simmer 1½ hours or until tender.
Add 1 cup diced potatoes
1 cup sliced celery
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup peas
1 tbsp. grated onion
Continue cooking until vegetables are just tender. Measure liquid, add water to make up to 3 cups and thicken with a paste made of 6 tbsp. flour
¼ cup water
Add 1 tsp. WILSON'S B-V dissolved in a small amount of the hot gravy. Add meat and vegetables, mix carefully and transfer to a casserole. Top with pastry made of ¾ cup flour
¼ cup WILSON'S BAKE-RITE
¼ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. water (about)
Bake in a hot oven, 425° F., for 20 to 25 minutes. Serves 6.

Clip Recipe Here

Surprise . . .

A double feature for the evening! This attractive dish boosts the holiday spirit as well as the nutritional value of the meal. It's chock-full of wholesome vegetables and appetizing bits of Wilson's beef all simmered in a delicious gravy made extra tasty with Wilson's B-V.

Hallowe'en Frills

Surround the Jack O'Lantern meat pie with simple extras for the table. A novel salad, in keeping with the Hallowe'en theme, is an orange cup filled with fruit salad and trimmed as a Jack O'Lantern with raisins for eyes and nose—whole cloves for mouth. Serve with Wilson's Mayonnaise. Round out the meal with a luscious baked custard made with temptingly fresh Clear Brook Eggs and topped with maple syrup.

Tips to Remember

Dip strips of bacon in cold water before frying; prevents curled edges.

Pep up an "every-day" dinner with steaming bouillon. A tsp. of Wilson's B-V to 1 cup of water does the trick.

Sincerely,
George Rector

Committee Seeks to Erase Faults in Adoption Law

Charges that racketeering still is practiced occasionally by adoption agencies were aired yesterday at a meeting between a judiciary advisory committee and County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki in the latter's chambers. It was the second of a series of meetings planned to iron out difficulties arising from the new adoption act passed by the state legislature in July.

In a recent adoption case, it was brought out at the meeting, the natural mother, who dealt with the foster parents without the intervention of an agency, had attempted to obtain large sums of money from the man and his wife to cover alleged "expenses" of the child. She also gave them false information concerning the baby's parenthood.

Edward J. McGinnis, an attorney who has handled numerous adoption cases, told the gathering that most of the racketeering has been eliminated by a provision of the new law that the child must live with the foster parents six months before a decree may be entered.

He said he approved a suggestion by Judge Jarecki that the six months probationary period be extended to 18 months, with a provision that the decree should prohibit further court action to contest the adoption's validity.

As an added bulwark against fraud, Judge Jarecki suggested that a representative from the Illinois bureau of public welfare be assigned to his court. The representative, he said, would accept the consent papers signed by the natural mother and thus make sure that she understood her legal rights.

The next meeting of the advisory committee with Judge Jarecki was scheduled for Nov. 14 in the judge's chambers.

INSTALMENT XL.

THREATENED

Lt. French was now stiff with attention. Miss Frobisher's eyes gleamed. "I told Lucianna to go to the police and tell them instead of me. I said it was her duty. I explained once she had told she would no longer be in danger. But the moment I mentioned police she began to freeze up. I couldn't tell why. She was a tricky one. I couldn't be sure she wasn't trying to work something on me. But, anyway, she refused, and she said she wouldn't tell me what it was unless I promised not to tell you. Well, I couldn't do that. I'd previously committed myself to you, and I told her so.

"She was very provoked. At last she said she would tell me this much. She had bumped into a certain party coming away from Westerly the night Letty was killed . . . and she knew this person did the crime, because they were threatening her if she told."

"The reason she knew is that probably she tried to blackmail the person," French said sharply. "Miss Frobisher, do you mean to tell me you didn't find out whom she meant? Couldn't you guess? Wasn't there an inkling?"

"Not a breath!" Miss Frobisher wailed. "Can't you imagine what it would mean to me for a person to tell just that much and then stop? I tried everything to get her to tell, but she wouldn't. She said by the time the police had got around to proving what she said was true, she would have been killed for telling."

"But couldn't you have called me, Miss Frobisher, and told me this much as soon as you heard it?"

She sighed. "I've worried a lot about that. Maybe I should have done it. She said if the guilty person even suspected she'd talked to me, she'd be killed . . . and I'm afraid he did suspect and kill her."

It seemed fairly likely that Lucianna was the woman Hester Duke had seen her husband meet at the north end of Westerly on the night of the crime. That is, of course, assuming that her story to Miss Frobisher was the truth.

But whether it was Harry Duke or some one else whom she accused of killing Mrs. Pomeroy, was anybody's guess.

The hunt for Bennet Pomeroy was now in full swing. Wednesday was a muggy gray day.

The police radios and teletypes blared and clicked with Bennet's description. Many friends and acquaintances had been contacted by wire or telephone. It was strange that as conspicuous a car as his would not be noticed by some gas station attendant. But hours slid gloomily by, and nothing was heard.

Mr. Izenga paced his garden restlessly. He was glad when the telephone rang and Erica begged him to come over to talk to her. She was being kept a prisoner in her own room. French had assured Mr. Izenga it was more for her own safety than anything else. There was a guard in the house.

Pliny met him at the door.

"Bad news, Mr. Izenga. All de time nuthin' but bad news round dis fam'ly."

"Dear me, what's the matter now?"

Mr. Izenga could hear heavy footsteps and much activity overhead, and the sound of men's voices.

"A bunch of dem troopers come heah dis mawnin' and dey been searchin' Mr. Bennet's rooms and I speck dey found some'n dey shouldn't. Mr. Bennet don't kill his mama and I know it. Don't care what dey find."

Some one ran downstairs. Mr. Izenga looked up anxiously.

Ridge Dawson serious, worried, important, came very close. "Cornelius, what do you think has happened now? Those blasted troopers have found Newcomb's own ring in Bennet's room. At least Newcomb and Erica both claim it is his. It was hidden in a pocket of the wainscoting. Can you beat it?"

"It looks bad."

"You can say that again. Either Bennet must be guilty, or he's been framed by an expert. But blast it, I can't see him committing those crimes. It just isn't in him. The call is still going out over the police radio. I don't like it, Cornelius. I'm afraid something's happened to him."

Mr. Izenga wretchedly agreed.

Ridge clapped him soothing on the back. "Well, I've got a good criminal lawyer lined up. Friend of mine. He'll move right in if they get Bennet. You go up and talk to poor Erica."

Mr. Izenga started upstairs and to his amazement met Huntley coming down. Mr. Izenga had never seen him look handsomer.

And he seemed so composed, so at ease. Mr. Izenga couldn't help gaping. Huntley smiled at him affectionately.

"I've been up to see Erica. Took her some roses and the morning paper. The poor kid's so bored." Huntley laughed softly. "Don't worry, Mr. Izenga, it's all right. Erica's the grandest girl in the world. She says we'll just forget that little . . . uh . . . rumpus the other Sunday. And at least I can have her friendship if I can't have her."

Mr. Izenga was sorry he'd ever bothered with Huntley.

He went on up the stairs. A trooper sat in the hall.

Mr. Izenga walked in. Lt. French was there, and Toby Newcomb. Erica sat on a sofa in the bay window, holding a ring in her fingers. A heavy gold ring set with an engraved chrysoprase stone. She held it out toward him.

"This really is Toby's ring, Mr. Izenga."

He stared at coldly. Well, was it? There was nothing to prevent Newcomb from buying another ring and hiding it in Bennet's room. When it was found Newcomb would only have to claim it was his to have Erica echo it. She was notoriously unobservant and loyal.

Mr. Izenga glanced toward Lt. French. It was impossible to tell whether he was accepting this story or not.

The morning paper was lying on the bed. Mr. Izenga morosely inspected a picture of Bennet Pomeroy with the caption: "WANTED BY STATE POLICE." A Pomeroy! That he should live to see this day!

Pliny came quietly into the room and sidled up to Mr. Izenga. "You're wanted on de phone, Mr. Izenga. It's long distance and kinda conferential, I spec'. Yo' housemaid got the operator to call you heah. I took de call on my kitchen line, cause dem troopers is in de library."

Mr. Izenga followed Pliny out of the room. In the hall they met the lieutenant talking to a trooper. Mr. Izenga caught his eye and transmitted a message without words. He heard footsteps following him down the back stairs.

"Who's the call from, Pliny?"

"Dey wouldn't say, cepten it from Annisburg."

Much puzzled, Mr. Izenga took up the waiting telephone. A strange masculine voice spoke.

"You the party interested in the Pomeroy case?"

"I am, yes. Who is speaking?"

"Is there a reward for the whereabouts of this here Bennet Pomeroy?"

Mr. Izenga's breath sucked in. "What? Have you really found him? Dead or alive?"

"I said how much?"

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 24—Geraldine Fitzgerald arrived in New York from Ireland with her son, Michael. So far she hasn't made up her mind whether to stay there and do a play or come west and make a picture. . . . Joe Pasternak's making 'em bigger and better. Now he's planning a musical based on Mackinac, the famous island in the Great Lakes. How big can you get? . . . "Bob, Son of Battle," gets the technicolor treatment at Twentieth Century with Bob Bassler throwing it on. . . . "Wild Bill" Donovan has offered to play himself on the screen in "The Cloak and Dagger." He wants Jimmy Cagney for the lead, and so do I. How about it, Jimmy? . . . Bob Leonard gets "Lucky Baldwin" and Clark Gable for his next. . . . I'm told Elliott Roosevelt, who was with his father at Yalta, is about to write a book titled "The Truth About Yalta." It's time somebody did. Faye Emerson will help him.

Fair Enough, Isn't It, Pola?

Since Pola Negri is devoting eight chapters of her book to the life of Rudolph Valentino, I wonder if she'll add the little touch about doing retakes for the newsreels before attending his funeral. She didn't like the first take, so asked the boys if they'd do it again. . . . Irving Cummings, one of our best loved directors, is ailing. . . . The Louis Lightons both are in the Hollywood hospital. . . . Alex Korda is leaving for a quick trip to England, then on to the West Indies for six months of being lazy. I asked, "Why there?" He replied, "It's the only place I can afford to go. An Englishman can still take only ten pounds out of his own country, but since some of the West Indies are British I can pay my bills there."

His Way Wins for the Gals

James Cain, a rugged individualist, sure has been lucky for our stars. His "Double Indemnity" gave Barbara Stanwyck a boost. Look what "Mildred Pierce" did for Joan Crawford. And now Ann Sheridan gets his "Serenade." . . . Joe E. Brown will play "Harvey" on the west coast. . . . Reggie Denny, who's been commended for his contribution to the war—he worked on model planes for army training—returned to Universal, and what they gave him to do shouldn't happen to a dog. He'll play a nazi spy in "Tangiers." . . . Al Martin, who wrote "Standing Room Only," is taking a dog's eye view of our town in a book he's doing called "Doggone Hollywood." Lassie's writing the foreword. . . . I doubt if Director George Sidney will wind up "Holiday in Mexico" in time to make Kansas City for the premiere of "Harvey Girls" by Christmas, but he'll try. . . . Peggy Ryan says she won't marry a Detroit business man Nov. 5. Somebody's been looking into a cracked crystal ball again.

Soft Soap—and a Lot of It

Keenan Wynn did a scene in "No Leave, No Love" that'll have you giggling. He returns from the South Pacific, gets a room and bath, and fulfills a lifelong ambition—takes a bubble bath. Instead of pouring a little into the tub, he dumps in the whole bottle. With so many bubbles, you can't even see Wynn. . . . Which reminds me of this story. There was a line in a trade paper here which read, "Bill Smith, ex-husband of Ethel Merman, is turning heads at Twentieth Fox." That gave Bill Grady [M. G. M.'s talent head] a "Bo" idea. He called dozens of Bill's friends and had them phone him and say, "Why don't you take a bath?" Then Grady forgot all about it. But not Smith, who'd found out who started the gag. When Grady went home that night to bathe and dress for dinner, there was Smith in his wife's bubble bath.

Arline Will Be Back

Arline Judge is back in New York with her husband, Morgan Ryan, but comes west for another picture in January. . . . John Garfield takes another suspension at Warners 'til the end of his contract. He's the champion—this is suspension No. 11 for him. Dane Clark plays the part Garfield turned down in "Humoresque." . . . Angelita Menendes of Havana, Cuba, arrived here the other day with but one desire—to meet Van Johnson. She did—on the set of his picture. She got to dance with him, then exclaimed, "Isn't life wonderful?" . . . June Allyson got a set of royal Copenhagen china as a wedding gift from her boss. . . . In Mexico City it's Dolores Del Rio and Arturo De Cordova nightly.

SWISS TRY OUT ADAGE: IT PAYS TO HELP OTHERS

Offers Long Term Credits to Boost Exports

BY P. E. BRIQUET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 24—Some of the smaller European states, especially Switzerland, which were spared by the war, are starting a long term credit policy for European reconstruction.

Switzerland has signed several economic and financial agreements in recent months as part of a campaign to keep her position in world trade. She has granted favorable terms to her neighbors. This allows the Swiss to use their industrial equipment. It also serves as insurance against unemployment.

Satisfy Own Needs

The economic situation is bad everywhere with the exception of Sweden, Spain, and Portugal. Delivery of goods will be very limited for a long time, as the devastated countries must satisfy their own needs. At the same time all countries have great need for Swiss goods.

Switzerland has had to consent to long term credits in economic and financial agreements with customer countries. In the case of Belgium the Swiss agree to deliver goods against Belgian notes covered by a Swiss loan up to 50 million Swiss francs. [The Swiss franc is quoted at 23.35 American cents.] Beyond that figure Belgium must pay in gold or its equivalent.

The Swiss have granted France a loan of 250 million Swiss francs, half of which is already spent on Swiss goods. The use of the second half is still being negotiated.

Italy Receives Credit

Thus there is no free choice for the buyer, who is pledged to buy Swiss goods.

An exception is the Swiss-Czechoslovak treaty, stipulating equality in exchange of goods. A credit of 80 million Swiss francs has been granted by Switzerland to Italy. The Swiss exporter is guaranteed against the risk of slow settlements.

These agreements are a significant step toward rehabilitation of commercial relations in Europe. Besides relief efforts, the Swiss government seeks to help rebuild customers' buying power, and to uphold foreign exchange, which would suffer a severe decline if immediate payment were demanded for Swiss exports.

The agreements represent an "experiment." The Swiss hope for a fairly quick recovery of the foreign market and for quick absorption of Swiss exports. Switzerland also needs a great supply of goods and is granting favorable exchange rates.

Rate with France High

The rate with France is very high—100 French francs for 8.68 Swiss francs, a great incentive to buying in Switzerland, the making buying practically impossible for Swiss importers. The rate is 800 per cent above the free market.

With Italy the rate is 100 lire for 4.30 Swiss francs, tho the free market rate is 100 lire for 80 Swiss centimes. This figure was imposed by the allies which are not allowing Italy to export goods before Britain regains her place in the European market.

French and Italian traders are looking for loopholes thru which to jump the export barrier, the French using part of the Swiss loan to do so. Italy is loaded with arrears in settlements, but the German arrears are enormous—2 billion Swiss francs, which are never expected to be paid. The Czechs, too, do not recognize commitments made after the Munich agreement of September, 1939.

Driver of Stolen Auto Convicted of Robbery

Samuel Franzese, 30, of 1108 N. Dearborn st., arrested Sept. 4 while driving a car which had been stolen from Henry Sonnenschein, clerk of the Superior court, was found guilty in Criminal court yesterday of grand larceny, armed robbery, and larceny of an automobile, and was sentenced to one to three years in the penitentiary by Chief Justice Harold G. Ward.

COUPLE'S THIRD SON GIVES LIFE TO HIS COUNTRY

Marion, Ill., Oct. 24 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Wilson said today they had been informed by the war department of the death of Maj. Jack Wilson—their third son to be killed in the war.

All the victims were air corpsmen. The youngest son, Lt. Lowell Wilson, was killed on his first solo flight in Texas three years ago. The second to die was Maj. Gen. Russell Wilson who, as a brigadier general, was killed in one of the first bombing raids over Berlin. Maj. Jack Wilson long had been reported missing in Pacific action until confirmation of his death.

A fourth son, Ronald, is an Annapolis graduate still serving as a navy officer, and a daughter, Louise, has been discharged after military service.

REPORT ARMOUR TO BE SUBPENAED IN DEATH PROBE

Philip D. Armour Jr., 27, of 1500 Lake Shore dr., member of the packing family, will be subpenaed to appear before the grand jury today for questioning concerning the automobile collision in which Mrs. Myrtle Cooper, 49, of Evanston, was killed Oct. 7 on Skokie rd. in Northbrook, it was reported yesterday.

Assistant State's Atty. James A. Brown, directing the investigation, also was reported to have subpenas for nine other witnesses, including David J. Bryan, 18, of 621 College rd., Lake Forest, a passenger in Armour's car, and Deputy Coroner Edward Edelstein, who conducted the inquest at which Armour was exonerated in 10 minutes Oct. 18. Police Chief John C. Clausen of Northbrook appeared before the grand jury Tuesday.

Armour is scheduled to be arraigned in a Northbrook justice of the peace court tomorrow on a charge of passing in the third lane of a highway without due caution. A charge of reckless driving was dropped on the recommendation of the coroner's jury foreman, Harry Hoffman, of 1785 Glenview rd., Glenview.

RICKEY CALLS ROBINSON TOP BALL PROSPECT

But Doesn't Think He's Big Leaguer

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Branch Rickey thinks Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to crash the portals of modern organized baseball, is an outstanding prospect who should make the big league grade in Brooklyn after a period of orientation on the Montreal farm.

"I've never seen the boy play," admitted the Dodgers' president. "But the reports from my scouts indicate he should be able to play for Brooklyn after the proper schooling. He isn't ready right now and I don't think there is a Negro player anywhere who is ready.

"If I thought he was ripe for the majors, I would have signed him to a Dodger contract. Does that answer your question as to whether I was hedging on sending him to the minor leagues? He's no Babe Ruth but he's a good hitter. It's all up to him from now on."

Negro Played in 1887

For 24 hours after signing with Montreal, Robinson was tagged as the first Negro ever to enter organized ball. However, Fred Bendel, veteran baseball writer of the Newark News, and secretary Bill Manley of the International league recalled a Negro star hurler at Newark in 1887.

Bendel said he was George Stovey who pitched for the Little Giants and earned 35 victories, still the high water mark for the circuit.

Asked what would happen if Robinson, former U. C. L. A. football star, failed to make the grade in double A ball, Rickey observed: "We will make such adjustments as meet the requirements of the club and player. He has told me he doesn't want to go any place he won't be welcome."

Will Train with Team

"Robinson will train with Montreal at Daytona Beach, Fla.," the executive said. "I hope he will not have to undergo undue pressure that might harm his future. As far as any trouble with his own teammates and hotel and travel problems, and I feel all have been overstressed. If any cliques should develop in the club, we will take steps."

Commenting on reports that the Kansas City Monarchs, with whom Robinson played last summer, were threatening to protest to Commissioner A. B. Chandler the signing of one of their stars, Rickey blasted, "There is no Negro league as such as far as I am concerned. Negro baseball is in the zone of a racket and there is not a circuit that could be admitted to organized ball, Clark Griffith of Washington to the contrary.

"Eventually I hope the Negroes will have their own league under the administrative setup that governs all baseball. I hope to own a club in such a league."

"SHOULD PAY"—GRIFFITH

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, took a critical look today at the signing of Jackie Robinson and asserted: If the Brooklyn Dodgers want Robinson, star shortstop of the Kansas City Monarchs, "they should pay for him."

Major league clubs "can't act like outlaws" in taking players from Negro leagues. Baseball Commissioner Chandler "should have something to say" about the signing of Robinson by Montreal of the International league, a Brooklyn farm."

LEAGUE OFFICERS PLEASED

Dr. J. B. Martin and Frank Young of Chicago, president and secretary of the Negro American league, respectively, issued a statement late yesterday that the club owners in the league and the officers were highly elated over the signing of Jackie Robinson, Kansas City Monarchs shortstop, by the Montreal Royals.

"We feel that it is an elevation to Negro baseball," the statement said, "and that there will be an increase in attendance at our games when player prospects for major league clubs are on any of our teams. On the other hand, we believe that the major and minor leagues are operated by men who are too big to take a player under contract without dealing with the club or the league to which he belongs. The signing of Robinson is a step forward toward the goal and the introduction of a broader spirit of democracy in baseball and will do much to promote a friendlier feeling between the races."

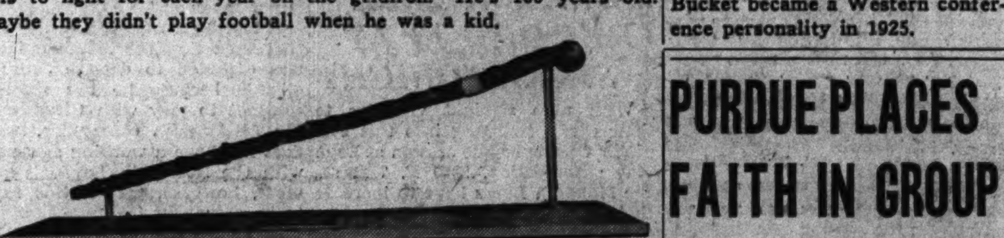
THE CHIEF JOINS SOME SELECT COMPANY!

NORTHWESTERN

Chief What's-His-Name looks like anything but a victorious candidate as he poses with Northwestern Co-Eds Lois Marsh (left) of Plymouth, Ind., and Marilyn Sutherland of Lake Forest. Yesterday the glum Injun was selected as the trophy for the Wildcats and Illinois to fight for each year on the gridiron. He's 100 years old. Maybe they didn't play football when he was a kid.

The Little Brown Jug over which Minnesota and Michigan annually battle. It has been in circulation 42 years. The Gophers play at Michigan Nov. 3.

This is the Old Oaken Bucket which makes the Purdue and Indiana players exert extra effort in their annual games and will serve the purpose again Nov. 24. The Bucket became a Western conference personality in 1925.



Since 1930, Notre Dame and Northwestern have battled annually for possession of this shillelah, presented to the late Knute Rockne in 1930 by Ireland's President Cosgrave. It'll be at stake Nov. 17.

Weary Wooden Injun Regains Youth as Football Trophy

BY EDWARD PRELL

A six and a half foot wooden Indian, which weathered the Chicago fire as a youngster of 25, yesterday was selected as a perpetual trophy to give visual tradition to the annual Northwestern-Illinois football series which will be renewed in Dyche stadium on Nov. 24.

The Purdue-Indiana Old Oaken Bucket and the Michigan-Minnesota Little Brown Jug thus will have to make a place for this rookie in Western conference trophy rooms—not to mention the Shillelah, symbol of gridiron superiority between Northwestern and Notre Dame.

N. U.'s Injun, an Arapahoe model, has been places. For 30 years he graced the front of a cigar store in the west. His youthful vigor diminishing as he reached five score, Chief Arapahoe couldn't find a steady job. He drifted from cigar store to cigar store. Then Mrs. Mary Dicke purchased the weary traveler for display in her antique shop at 922 Chicago av., Evanston.

The Chief Is Rescued

It was here that Bill Brown, member of the Acacia fraternity and a journalism student, discovered the chief and rescued him from his anonymity. The fraternity entered its discovery in Northwestern's wooden Indian contest. The trophy committee yesterday adjudged the chief the winner from a field of 22 poplar Pawnees. An all-campus contest will be held to select a suitable name for the old newcomer.

"This Indian was chosen because of the splendid condition, fine paint job, and historic back ground," said Tom Koch, sports editor of the Daily Northwestern, campus newspaper which sponsored the search.

In moccasined feet, he will stand on a large base on which silver plates giving the score of each year's game will be fastened.

Live One Fails to Show

Some one wrote in from South Dakota offering to produce a live Indian who was in retirement. However, he did not show up for yesterday's competition.

When Indiana and Purdue decided they wanted something as a symbol of their football feuding, some one produced an old oaken bucket in 1925, in a fine state of preservation. It had been found on a farm in southern Indiana, near Hanover. This is the genuine article, insists Bob Woodworth, athletic publicity director at Purdue.

It's Now at Indiana

"As I understand it," he says, "the good German people in that part of the state used the bucket to draw water from the well to use as a chaser for whisky."

George Ade represented Purdue and Harry Kurrie stood up for Indiana when the bucket was officially adopted by alumni of the rival schools. Each year the initial letter of the winning team is attached to the handle. It now is at Indiana, but Purdue, Woodworth pointed out, has had it most of the time. It will be up for grabs on Nov. 24 when Purdue plays at Indiana.

A Janitor Gains Fame

A Minnesota janitor is responsible for the original Little Brown Jug, but since 1931, and perhaps before then, the rivals have been competing for a spurious counterpart. Oscar Munson, the janitor, discovered that the Michigan team had left behind an earthen jug after its 6 to 6 tie with the Gophers in 1903. He took his find to the athletic offices and on it was inscribed the score of the game and the date.

Six years later Michigan came to Minnesota. The Gophers' captain, Johnny McGovern, told the Michigan captain his team could have the jug by winning. That the Wolverines did. Michigan had it for seven consecutive years thru 1926, and when Minnesota won in 1927 Munson was sure another piece of crockery had been substituted. The jug disappeared in 1931, but a sub-

PURDUE PLACES FAITH IN GROUP OF 18 YEAR OLDS

BY WILFRID SMITH
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 24—The 50th anniversary of the Northwestern-Purdue football rivalry will be celebrated Saturday in Dyche stadium, and if the Boilermakers continue their undefeated record it will be largely because of Bob De Moss and three other Boilermaker backs who qualify as the youngest of all participants in the ancient feud. De Moss, Bill Canfield, Norbert Adams, and Dave Shaw were born in 1927, the year Pest Welch led Purdue to an 18 to 6 victory over the Wildcats.

Youth was served last Saturday at Ohio State as Purdue ran up 22 points before the Buckeyes accomplished a first down and then proceeded to win convincingly, 35 to 13.

Handles Team Like Veteran

De Moss, playing his fifth college game since graduation from Dayton, Ky., High school, and his second as field general for the Boilermakers, was the youngster who did most of the serving. It is true that substitutions and some plays were dictated by Cecil Isbell, himself the youngest head coach in the Western conference, but De Moss demonstrated the ball handling technique of the T formation with the precision of a Luckman and completed 9 or 13 forward passes.

"When De Moss finished with Ohio State," Bob Woodworth, Purdue's publicist [and alumnus] said today, "the Buckeye guards didn't know whether he was throwing or Ed Cody was plunging for first downs. Our boys were red hot. They were so hepped up they floated out to the field for the kickoff. "Isbell's worry for this week," Woodworth said, "is that the team won't quit playing Ohio State and get ready for Northwestern."

Canfield Veteran at 18

Canfield is a second year man altho he's only 18. He finished high school in a few months more than three years and now is a distinguished student, an honor reserved for less than 8 per cent of Purdue's undergraduates. He has gained 328 yards in 81 plays, more plays from scrimmage than old man Cody [he's 22] has had.

Adams, from Hammond, another of the 18 year old freshmen, also went to town at Ohio State.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 24 (AP)—A pair of unassisted goals by Capt. Red Hamill during the last seven minutes of play gave the Chicago Blackhawks a 5 to 4 victory over the Boston Bruins in the National Hockey league's 1945-'46 opener tonight in Boston Garden.

The Hawks had rallied twice to wipe out Boston leads before Hammill, who put on impressive performances, shot the Hawks into a 4 to 4 tie by driving a 40-foot shot past Goalie Paul Bibeault from the left sideboards.

Dramatic Finish

With only 45 seconds to go, Hammill worked his way to the side of the rink and drove in a 30-foot angle shot to clinch the game.

Max Bentley also put in two unassisted goals for the Chicagoans, who were first to score, during the seventh minute of play, when Clint Smith, after taking a pass from Alex Kaleta, saw his rebound deflected into a goal by one of the Boston defensemen.

The veteran Bill Cowley scored twice for the Bruins. Don Gallinger and Jack Shill got the other Boston goals.

13,901 Watch Battle

The game, a benefit for a wounded veterans' fund, attracted an overflow crowd of 13,901.

Bentley scored each of his unassisted goals while the Bruins were short handed with a man in the penalty box. His first, in the second period, wiped out a 2 to 1 lead which Cowley had given the Bruins, and his second, early in the third period, pulled the Hawks up on even terms again after Shill had shot Boston into a 3 to 2 advantage near the second period's close.

Mariucci Misses Chance

Hamill's second and game winning goal came shortly after Johnny Mariucci, assisted by Don Grosso, had muffed a chance to clinch a Chicago victory. After feinting Goalie Biebault out of position, Mariucci lifted the puck over the Boston net.

Young Doug Stevenson, making his debut as Chicago's goalie, gave a highly satisfactory exhibition in the Hawks' net, and the starting front line of Max and Doug Bentley and Bill Mosienko displayed plenty of just what had been expected of it—speed.

The Blackhawks will meet the Canadiens, league champions, in Montreal Saturday night, and then return to Chicago to open their home season next Wednesday night against the New York Rangers in Chicago Stadium.

3 KNOCKOUTS MARK RING SHOW AT AUDITORIUM

Three knockouts marked Mique Malloy's opening show in Ashland auditorium last night before a crowd of 1,500.

Robert Satterfield, 1941 city Golden Gloves welterweight winner, floored twice in the first round and saved by the bell once, came back to knock out Charley Polk, Chicago, in the second round. Talmadge Bussy of Detroit knocked out Roy Lewis of Muncie, Ind., in the second round, and Mansfield Driskell of Detroit knocked out Tony Reno of Chicago in the third.

In other bouts of four rounds each Jim Carroll of Detroit beat Pete Serrand of Chicago; Willard Coffey, Chicago, won over Joe Nelson, Detroit, and Jack Conway of Buffalo, N. Y., beat Leroy Thompson, Chicago.

Crosby Enlists Racing's $500,000 Aid in Polio Fight

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 24 [Special]—Plans for raising a minimum of $500,000 from racing associations in 22 states for the Sister Kenny Foundation to fight infantile paralysis were discussed here today by Bing Crosby, national chairman of the fund raising campaign, and Maj. Ednyfed Williams, president of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners.

Williams is chairman of the racing division in the foundation's 1945 fund drive, which will be launched Thanksgiving day, Nov. 22, and continue thru mid-December. The goal is $5,000,000.

In outlining plans for the campaign Maj. Williams disclosed that eight of the nation's 55 major tracks already have pledged substantial contributions to the Kenny campaign. He assured Crosby of the whole hearted coöperation of the remaining tracks before he started a swing across the country in connection with the drive.

In explaining why he broke a long established precedent to head the 1945 Sister Kenny Foundation campaign, Crosby, who yesterday joined Don Ameche's All-America Football corporation, said: "Since coming to this country in 1940 Sister Kenny has restored thousands of kids to lives of usefulness and happiness. Her treatment eliminates all the gross deformities previously considered inevitable in infantile paralysis cases, does way away with gruesome braces, crutches, and wheel chairs . . . rekindles vitality in pale, shrunken limbs.

"We now must make her treatment available to her [illegible] thruout the nation—rich and poor, regardless of race or creed, and wherever they may live."

LEASE ENDING ON OCT. 31 NOT TO BE RENEWED

Carey Heirs Seek Racing Dates

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

Control of the Hawthorne race track in Stickney will pass out of the hands of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association headed by Charles Krutckoff and Charles Bidwill, next Wednesday, it became known last night.

Krutckoff, president and general manager of the organization operating Hawthorne, said he had been notified by the owners of the property, the Thomas Carey estate, that the lease would not be renewed. Krutckoff, in turn, has notified the 31 stockholders in the highly successful association and an inventory is being taken.

The Hawthorne fall meeting which closed Oct. 13, was the most successful in the track's history. The mutuel handle for the 32 days totaled $32,709,724, an average of $1,022,178 a day. The average for last year's meeting was $925,329, and that figure was a record.

120 Acres of Property

Lincoln Fields, the race track at Crete controled by Matt Winn, transferred its last two seasons of racing to Hawthorne and also broke all its previous wagering records.

The present lease on the Hawthorne grounds, consisting of 120 acres, last was renewed in 1931 to include 1945 at a yearly rental of approximately $62,000. It has been in control of the estate of Thomas Carey, millionaire brickmaker and prominent Chicago politician, since racing was revived in Chicago in 1922. The property has an estimated value of $350,000.

Charles Bidwill

Charles Krutckoff

The heirs of the Carey estate are represented by Robert Carey, a son and member of the Castle, Brittinger and Carey law firm. Carey last night said that while the eight heirs have made no decision on disposition of the racing plant, it would continue as such and that the estate would apply for racing dates for the 1946 season before the first of the month, final day applications can be made to the Illinois racing board.

Haven't Discussed Plans

Krutckoff declared that the notice of the lease termination came more or less as a surprise and that neither he nor Bidwill has discussed plans for the future. Bidwill, owner of the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football league, also has dog and horse racing interests in Florida.

Reached last night, Bidwill said he had no comment.

Krutckoff became president of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association, which operates Hawthorne, in 1937, succeeding Albert Sabath who served for three years after the death of John Schank, the organization's first president. Sabath still is secretary and Thomas M. McHale is treasurer.

Transfer of two-thirds interest in a 10 year lease on the Hawthorne property, obtained by Charles Ford and John Haskett in 1922, was made to a group of Chicagoans including McHale, John Schank, Herbert G. Shimp, and Krutckoff in 1925.

Bidwill Chairman of Board

When Krutckoff first was elected president in 1937, Joseph A. Murphy was named vice president; Bidwill, chairman of the board, the post he now holds; and Sabath and McHale, secretary and treasurer.

Thomas Carey, who died in Los Angeles, Cal., in 1925, left his estate to his widow, Mrs. Laura M. Carey, and seven children, Eugene F. Carey, Robert, William, Margaret, and Helen Carey, Mrs. Laura Carey Collins, and Mrs. Ruth Carey Monaghue.

STATE COACHES PROTEST 4-TEAM BASKET FINAL

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 24 [Special]—A protest against cutting the state high school basketball tournament final to a four team event instead of 16 is expected to be filed here Saturday when the board of directors of the Illinois High School association meets. The move to retain the 16 team final in March is being undertaken by the High School Coaches association. The protest action follows a recommendation of the Principals association to the I. H. S. A. that the meet be cut to one day because of a housing shortage here.

EARLEY RETURNS TO NOTRE DAME; MAY FACE IOWA

Half Back of 1943 Irish Squad Shares in Drill

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 24 [Special]—Bolstered by the return of Fred Earley, who recently resigned from the United States Naval academy, the Notre Dame eleven continued preparations for the Iowa game here Saturday with a defensive scrimmage against Hawkeye plays today.

Earley, a half back of the 1943 championship Notre Dame squad, entered the naval academy shortly after the end of the season and last year played with the Navy squad. He reëntered Notre Dame this week and reported for practice today. He is expected to be in uniform for the Iowa game.

IOWA STRENGTHENED

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 24 [Special]—Coach Clem Crowe prescribed a lengthy dummy scrimmage at Iowa today with only a minimum of contact work, for he didn't feel inclined to risk further injury in preparation for Saturday's game at Notre Dame.

The man power situation was somewhat improved as Walter Thorpe, leading ground gainer against Indiana, appeared to be recovering rapidly from a rib injury. Thorpe or Carl Bowen will get the starting assignment at full back Saturday. Obern Simons, former regular left half back, appeared to be recovered from his illness of a week ago and may start against the Irish. Robert Knowlton, 1941 tackle who saw 30 months service with the marines, joined the squad today.

OHIO CHANGES LINEUP

Columbus, O., Oct. 24 [Special]—Several changes in the Ohio State football lineup which will take the field against Minnesota in Minneapolis, Saturday, appeared likely today. Coach Carroll Widdoes made four shifts which probably will stand for the Gopher contest.

Bob McGinnis moved up to the No. 1 left guard spot, with Warren Amling switching to the other guard. Bud Steinberg was at left end, replacing Bud Kessler, and Jerry Krall and Harold [Doc] Daugherty handled the left half back assignment in place of Paul Sarringhaus who was on the second team.

Maryland Bars Trainer of $15,000 Stake Winner

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 24 (AP)—Trainer James McGee of Louisville, Ky., tonight was barred for one year by the Maryland racing commission which heard evidence on the stimulation of British Buddy, a winning thorobred. McGee was given the minimum penalty because of his record of never having been charged with a major violation of rules in his 28 years of racing. British Buddy, winner of the $15,000 added Maryland handicap at Laurel on Oct. 13, was found to have been injected with caffeine prior to the race, laboratory tests showed.

THE DUDE DRAWS TOP WEIGHT IN RACE SATURDAY

The Dude, fleet 2 year old California bred colt, has been assigned top weight of 123 pounds for the $5,000 John A. Brown Memorial handicap Saturday at Sportsman's Park. Eighteen juveniles are listed for the seven furlong event with James Emery's Chalmette next in line at 111.

The Dude, chestnut son of Alibhai-Donatrice, bred by Louis B. Mayer, scored last Saturday in the $2,500 Berwyn purse, beating Chalmette by half a length. Mrs. A. M. Creech's Cid Play, the third horse in the Berwyn, also is entered for the handicap, getting in at 110 pounds.

$58.20 Daily Double

Yesterday's program witnessed by a crowd of 10,000 again proved difficult for the favorites. The first race went to Joe Kohout's Greville, ridden by J. W. Martin, and its backers received $11 for a $2 straight ticket. Mutinous, owned by H. L. Nichols and piloted by George Adkins, accounted for the second, paying $11.40 and completing a $58.20 daily double.

After Huguette, with Dell Jessop up, had taken the third at $9.80, Earl Henson booted in a 15 to 1 shot, E. J. Bolser's Teddy's Tea.

Grey Days Wins Santa Fe

Grey Days, which races under the colors of H. H. Fausett and was winner of one division in the National handicap last Saturday, came right back yesterday to win the Santa Fe handicap. Mr. Rabbit was second and John Q. Public third. Grey Days, under the guildance of N. L. Pierson, stayed behind the pace set by John Q. Public until nearing the stretch and then sprinted to finish two and a half lengths in front. Grey Days' victory was worth $1,575 to his owners.

Michigan Gets Work to Stop Illini Attack

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 24 [Special]—Defensive work is getting the major share of attention in Michigan's football camp this week as the team prepares for its Western conference game with Illinois in Champaign Saturday.

Coach Fritz Crisler, who scouted the Illini in last week's 7 to 7 tie with Wisconsin, admits he's worried by Ray Eliot's offensive measures.

"Illinois has been beaten twice and tied once," Crisler explained, "but that was because of fumbling. They really have an offense, and one that could upset our plans. We can't be certain they'll fumble against us thruout the game."

The Wolverine coach, who feels Michigan must win this week's game to assure a reasonably good season record, also has another worry. It is the fact Michigan will be the visiting team for an Illinois homecoming contest. Crisler recalls the 1939 game, which underdog Illinois won, 16 to 7, from a Michigan team led by Tom Harmon.

ELIOT PRAISES PONSETTO

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 24 [Special]—Joe Ponsetto, Michigan captain and quarter back, was hailed as another Forrest Evashevski today by Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois. Discussing Michigan plays and players which the Illini face here Saturday, he said, "There's one man whose in the lineup 60 minutes who is a real leader and that's Ponsetto."

AMPUTEES PLAY BASEBALL WITH HELP OF WHEELS

Temple, Tex., Oct. 24—(AP)—Baseball on wheels has been developed by war veterans here who refuse to give up their favorite sport just because they have lost arms or legs.

Eight men, seven in wheel chairs and one on crutches, are the players. The diamond is a tennis court; the ball is a volley ball, but a regulation bat is used.

One team consists of Cpl. W. L. Hanna, Sioux City, Ia.; Pfc. James Driscoll, Dubuque, Ia.; Staff Sgt. Warren Bradbury, Tulsa, Okla.; and T/5 Stanley Heck of Chicago.

On the other team are Pfc. Leo Michelson, Chicago; Pvt. Willard Fox, Tulsa, Okla.; T/5 Clarence Powell, Fort Worth, Tex., and Cpl. Bill Mooney of Muscatine, Ia.

MOUNT CARMEL LOSES PROTEST IN 2 TO 0 GAME

Prep Football

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
NORTHERN INDIANA CONFERENCE
South Bend Central, 13; South Bend Washington, 13.

BY DAVID CONDON

Mount Carmel High school's protest of an official's decision in last Sunday's Catholic league game against St. George was disallowed last night at a meeting of the league protest board in the Atlantic hotel. The board ruled that the decision was a question of judgment and therefore, not open to challenge.

St. George won the game, 2 to 0. The play in question came when an official, following a kick, awarded the ball to the Dragons altho Mount Carmel recovered. Mount Carmel charged it should have received possession.

Two Catholic league stars are on the injured list . . . Al Brennan, St. George back, is out with a dislocated shoulder. . . . His doctor says he will miss the Fenwick game. . . . John Considine, Mount Carmel tackle, is thru for the season. . . . He suffered a fractured leg in the St. George game.

Reserved seat tickets for the Mount-Leo game at 83d-Yates stadium Sunday are on sale at both high schools. . . . The contest is a traditional south section battle. . . . Each school again is represented by a strong eleven, despite early losses. . . . Tom Carlson and Nick Polito, former Parker High school stars, now play for Central college in Pella, Ia. . . . Carlson is a full back. . . . Polito is performing capably at guard. . . .

Leyden High school in Franklin Park expects 3,000 tomorrow night for its homecoming game with Libertyville. . . . The Leyden field has been equipped with a new set of floodlights. . . . Malcolm Mackey, brother of Purdue's Red Mackey, is coach at Leyden. . . . Previously, he coached at West Lafayette, Ind., High school. . . . Look for navy Lt. Ed Skoronski to be back at Chicago Vocational almost any day now. . . . John Kuenster reports that Frank Buttimer and John Poland, who played in the Leo line in 1944, recently met in Shanghai, China. . . . Lt. [j. g.] Wally Fromhart is reported at a naval separation center in Sheldon, Va. . . . He was coach at Mount Carmel. . . .

Bulldog Turner Joins Bears for Game in Detroit Sunday

BULLDOG TURNER

Pvt. Clyde [Bulldog] Turner will play center for the Chicago Bears Sunday against the Lions in Detroit. The big fellow put in a surprise appearance at Wrigley field yesterday while the National Football league tailenders were in the midst of their daily drill.

This will be Turner's only game with the Bears this season. The 2d air force eleven on which he plays is not scheduled this Sunday. So the 240 pound Texan flew into Chicago on a transport plane to do his bit in helping the Bears bid for their first league victory of the year.

He'll Wear Jaw Protector

Further happiness developed when it became certain that the Bears' two top ranking guards, George Zorich and Ed Sprinkle, will return to the lineup against the Lions. Zorich suffered a dislocated wrist and Sprinkle a jaw fracture three weeks ago when the Bears were whipped by the Rams in Cleveland.

Today Sprinkle, a Texan, who was personally delivered to the Bears last year by Turner, will have a fitting for a protective device which is being constructed on his helmet. A mold has been taken of his jaw and a mask will be made in that shape. It will be hooked onto the ear pieces of his headgear to give the jaw protection against bumps.

The Bears' woeful season traces to weakness in the middle of the line, but the availability of Turner, Sprinkle, and Zorich will solve that problem, if only for Sunday's game.

Won't Have to Stop Frankie

Turner and Frankie Sinkwich of the Lions were teammates on the 2d air force team. Sinkwich had planned to play against Bulldog and the Bears Sunday, but Frankie is out of action for the remainder of the season with an injured knee.

The Bears dashed thru all their running plays yesterday, and among the active athletes was Edgar [Special Delivery] Jones, the new pro personality. Unmindful of all the noise caused by his unheralded debut with the Bears, the former Pitt star carried the ball with the same dispatch with which he startled the Rams on Sunday.

WEIGHS JONES CASE

Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football league, yesterday took under advisement the protest of the San Francisco Clippers of the Pacific Coast league on the contract controversy over Edgar [Special Delivery] Jones, now playing with the Bears. Layden said:

"I am scrutinizing the Edgar Jones matter, and a decision will be announced when all the facts have been gathered. Jones' eligibility to play in the National Football league is not involved."

It had been reported earlier from Cleveland that the National league was expected to declare Jones ineligible because he has signed a contract to play with Cleveland of the All-America conference, which does not have a working agreement with the National. Layden's statement, however, proved this report to be erroneous.

At its meeting in New York Dec. 19, 1944, the National league passed this rule:

"Any player who, while still under contract to, or on the reserve list of any club in the National Football league, plays with any club in any other league, or with any independent club, will be suspended from playing in the National Football league for a period of five years."

The National league office pointed out that this rule pertains only to clubs or leagues not affiliated with it. Jones still is eligible because he has not yet played with the Cleveland Browns, who will begin operating in 1946.

LIONS RELEASE TWO

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 24 (AP)—The Detroit Lions today announced the release of two players, Dave Diehl end, and Luke Lindon, tackle. Diehl is a veteran of four years in the league but has not seen much action recently. Lindon, a 245 pounder from the University of Kentucky, had been with the Lions two years.

CONTI REJOINS EAGLES

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—Enio Conti, veteran Philadelphia Eagles guard who retired this season because of high blood pressure, will be in the lineup Sunday when the Eagles oppose the Cleveland Rams in Shibe park. Team physicians said Conti's health had improved.

Batchelor Is Hammond Pin Meet Leader

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

Jay G. Batchelor, enterprising impresario of the Bowl-Era in Hammond, Ind., again is proving that proprietors involved in the conduct of trials for the annual All-Star bowling tournaments can get in the game themselves. John Whitaker, sports editor of the Hammond Times, which is coöperating in the operation of the trials in the Indiana city, reports that Jay currently is pacing the Hammond seekers after places in the big show. The main event, sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, will be held in the Auditorium service men's center from Dec. 1 thru 9.

Batchelor is head man of the group striving for berths in a round robin with a three game total of 658.

The round robin survivors will join with the veteran Joe Harris of Hammond, who earned a place among the exemptees by finishing 17th in last year's All-Star event. Chasing Proprietor Batchelor in the trials now in progress are Vic Anich, East Chicago, 656; Frank Trask, Gary, 638; Joe Gasparovic, Hammond, 628; Joe Di Michele, East Chicago, 622; Wes Works, Hammond, 605; Mike Swick, Calumet City, 605, and Earl Winterhoff, Lansing, 604.

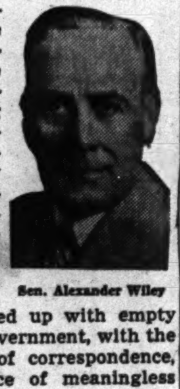
WILEY ASSAILS OFFICE MISFITS IN GOVERNMENT

Industry Is Fed Up, Says Senator



Sen. Alexander Wiley

Administrative failures of the government, insufficient man power, strikes, and "synthetic and loose minded thinking" are the principal bottlenecks preventing the foundry industry and others from quickly and efficiently returning to adequate peace time production, Sen. Wiley [R., Wis.] said yesterday.

Industry is "fed up with empty promises from government, with the futile exchange of correspondence, with the issuance of meaningless government reports that tell of insignificant gains in your man power and the like," he told the Gray Iron Founders' society at its annual meeting in the La Salle hotel.

Misfits in High Places

"Government has too many square pegs in round holes, too many misfits in high places who haven't been weeded out by efficient administrators," he said. "It simply has too many people and they are stepping over each other's feet. Right now the federal government has more than 3 million civilian employes. The financial costs of their employment are staggering."

Government administrators have adopted policies which are inimical and harmful to free enterprise, he charged. They have penalized business men instead of encouraging them, and the office of price administration, in particular, has adopted a reconversion pricing policy which in many instances "will not even allow business to make a profit at all."

Other causes to which he ascribed the governmental bottleneck were "too many snoopers in government," requiring multitudes of reports and questionnaires, and the fact that the federal government has assumed functions that properly belong to state and local governments.

Asked Snyder to Help

Sen. Wiley read a letter he wrote to Reconversion Director Snyder on Oct. 10, outlining the necessity for gray iron castings in every phase of industry before manufacture of civilian items can be begun, and asking for immediate steps to get men into the foundries. The senator said he did not receive a reply until Tuesday, and that it was "full of the same old baloney—he doesn't comprehend."

During the afternoon H. L. Edinger, chairman of the gray iron castings industry advisory committee to the OPA, discussed price regulations governing the industry preliminary to a meeting with the OPA in Chicago today. It will be one of a series the founders have had with the agency in an attempt to reach an agreement on ceiling prices, which the industry has contended are too low to permit maximum production.

People and Events

C. H. Morse III.

Directors of Fairbanks, Morse & Co. yesterday elected Charles H. Morse III. vice president. Col. Robert H. Morse, president, said the younger Morse will direct research, traffic, patents, the company's western pump division, and the Inland Utilities company, a subsidiary with properties in 41 cities and towns in Colorado, Kansas, and New Mexico. His headquarters will be in Chicago.

Frank C. Rathje, newly elected president of the American Bankers association, will be guest of honor at a dinner tonight in the Stevens hotel, given by the Chicago district of the Illinois Bankers association. Speakers will include Mayor Kelly, Mark Brown, vice president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, Atty. George I. Haight, and William McDonnell, publisher of the Southtown Economist.

General Motors corporation truck dealers in the Chicago area will meet factory representatives in the Palmer House today thru Tuesday, to discuss sales and service plans.

Jerome W. Ingwersen was appointed general manager of sales of Gibbs Steel company, subsidiary of A. M. Castle & Co., succeeding Reimar Frank, who resigned.

Salaries Voted for Referees in Bankruptcy

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—Undertaking the first change in bankruptcy law since 1938, the house voted today to abolish the fee system for referees in bankruptcy and place them on a salaried basis.

Rep. Reed [R., Ill.], author of the bill, denounced as "vicious" the age-old fee basis for paying federal referees. He said it had resulted in widely fluctuating compensation, the amounts varying in some cases in accordance with their decisions, and creating distrust and suspicion, no matter how honest or impartial the referees are.

Referees act as an arm of the District courts in bankruptcy cases, and pass on claims of creditors, property schedules, disbursements, and other financial matters.

Judges to Fix Salaries

The bill calls for yearly salaries of $3,000 to $10,000, the amount in each case to be decided by the conference of senior Circuit judges. Part time referees would get not more than $2,500 a year.

Reed told the house that the present system gives some referees more compensation than the judges who appoint them, and others' fees are less "than the wages of a sales girl at a ribbon counter."

Referees have been appointed for two year terms, with no assurance of continuance in the job, and have been free to engage in private law practice.

The new bill would make the post of referee a full time job, except in districts where the volume of work is too small.

VIEW OF REFEREE

News of the passage of the bill caused much elation among Chicago referees late yesterday. Referee Martin Ward, who has served for 4 years, said he believed the fee system was antiquated and that the new bill would not only preserve the referee system but improve the judicial methods of dealing with bankruptcies.

GRAINS MOSTLY WEAK; OATS RISE ON U. S. BUYING

All grain futures prices except oats were weak yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Oats were strong on buying regarded as against further sales to the government. Uncertainty over outcome of the Pace bill to include labor costs in computing parity prices and over the wage and price policy of the administration caused the weakness in other grains.

General selling developed early, with rye down about 2 cents a bushel at one time, but a late rally wiped out the larger part of the loss. Wheat futures closed ⅛ to ⅝ cent lower, corn was unchanged to ⅜ lower, rye unchanged to ¼ lower, and barley ½ to ⅞ lower. Oats rose ⅛ to ⅜.

Ames Company Bid Wins Shares of Foreign Firm

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—Alien Property Custodian Markham today announced Ames Company, Inc., Elkhart, Ind., submitted a high bid of $695,750 for the outstanding common stock of Riedel-De Haen, Inc., New York. The latter, a pharmaceutical distributor, was taken over by the custodian in 1942 from J. D. Riedel-E. De Haen, A. G., of Berlin, the parent company.

WAR TIME CONSUMER SPENDING IN CHICAGO AREA BOUNDS 45 PCT.

Chicago area consumers increased their spending for goods and services more than 45 per cent during the war despite shortages and restrictions, the Chicago Association of Commerce said yesterday. A survey was made by the association, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, and the Chicago unit of the committee for economic development.

Consumer spending rose to an annual rate of 4 billion 730 million dollars just before the end of the war from 3 billion 250 million dollars in 1939, the study showed. At least two-thirds of the rise was attributed to price increases and the remainder represented an increase in the amount of goods and services as well as a shift to higher priced lines.

Last Witness Is Heard in Trial of A.&P.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 24 (AP)—Taking of evidence in the trial of federal anti-trust charges against the New York Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and 28 officers and subsidiaries ended today.

Judge Walter C. Lindley, hearing the trial of the criminal information without a jury in United States District court, allowed both sides 60 days for filing briefs, set Jan. 21 for hearing oral arguments, and allowed 30 days after the hearing for filing reply briefs. The court then will take the case under advisement.

Trial Started April 16

The anti-trust division of the department of justice spent 14 weeks in presenting evidence, including more than 4,500 exhibits. The defense required five weeks and two days and put 1,018 exhibits into the record.

The concluding defense witness was John A. Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and a defendant. Defense Counsel W. M. Acton announced George Hartford, president of A. & P, of New York and another individual defendant, was unable to appear. George Hartford is 82 years old.

Denies All Charges

John Hartford said the chain had a set policy not to join price fixing associations. He testified he never had, or heard discussions in A. & P. on purposely procuring stock gains, short weighing, agreeing with any one outside the organization on retail prices, procuring preferential prices not available to others, purposely operating stores at a loss, selecting local areas for special prices to destroy competition, or coercing suppliers.

The criminal information accused the defendants of engaging in all these activities.

Chicago Stock Exchange Will Close for Navy Day

The executive committee of the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday approved the closing of the exchange Saturday in observance of Navy day. The New York Stock and Curb exchanges also will be closed. Beginning Monday, following the return to standard time in Chicago, trading hours on the Chicago exchange will be 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. daily except Saturday when the hours will be 9 a. m. to 11 a. m.

Offer 400,000 of Locomotive Firm's Shares

New security offerings were heavy again yesterday. One of the largest stock issues was 400,000 common shares of American Locomotive company, marketed at $36 a share by a banking group headed by Union Securities corporation.

Proceeds will be used to reduce by $12,460,100 the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock outstanding. The sale, authorized by stockholders Tuesday, increased the total common outstanding to 1,779,076 exclusive of treasury shares.

Halsey Handles Two Issues

Forty million dollars of Montana Power company first mortgage bonds, 2¾ per cent series due in 1975, were offered at 101 by a Halsey, Stuart & Co. group. Proceeds will be applied toward retirement of a funded debt of $58,386,000.

Halsey, Stuart and associated firms also won $28,850,000 of Dayton Power and Light company bonds, offering 101.139 for a 2¾ per cent coupon, and planned reoffering later at 101⅝.

Sun-Kraft Offering Today

Offering will be made today of 90,000 shares of 30 cent cumulative convertible preferred stock of Sun-Kraft, Inc., at $5 a share, by a group headed by Floyd D. Cerf company. Proceeds will be used to redeem outstanding class A stock and to market new sun lamps of the Chicago company.

Ames, Emerich & Co. headed a group offering 176,025 shares of Aerovox corporation $1 par common stock at $9.25 a share. Company financing consisted of 100,000 shares, the remainder being sold for certain stockholders.

JACK & HEINTZ TO MAKE ENGINE, POSSIBLY AUTOS

Cleveland, O., Oct. 24 (AP)—Jack & Heintz, Inc., famous during the early war years as a "workers' paradise," plans the manufacture of a new type gasoline engine, refrigerators, and possibly automobiles, William S. Jack, president, announced today.

Jack said production would begin soon on the gasoline engine and added, "as a matter of fact, we may be producing our own automobiles before the close of 1947." He did not elaborate on the statement and declined further comment. He said the company would produce some refrigerators before the end of 1946.

ALLIES RELEASE LARGE AMERICAN OWNED TANKERS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—All tankers of more than 3,000 gross tons will be returned on Nov. 1 to their American owners under an order issued today by the war shipping administration.

The order affects about 300 tankers owned by United States citizens under American or foreign registry, or owned by wholly owned foreign subsidiaries of American companies. It was issued in accordance with a decision by the united maritime executive board.

INDUSTRIAL GAS USE DOWN, BUT PROFIT CLIMBS

Home Volume Aids Chicago Supplier

Gas sales [in therms] during the quarter ended Sept. 30 decreased 0.61 per cent from a year earlier, the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company reported yesterday. It said that the decline "reflects a decrease in industrial business brought about by the cessation of activity in certain war production plants, partly offset by increased sales to residential customers."

The decrease was largely in sales for interruptible purposes, and total operating revenues increased $178,449 because of the larger amount of gas sold for residential use at higher rates.

Illinois Bell Profits Rise

Net income was $566,194, or 86 cents a share, compared with $444,449, or 68 cents, a year earlier. The report said the increase was more than accounted for by nonrecurring expenses incurred in the 1944 quarter in bond refunding operations.

In the nine months ended Sept. 30 net income was $2,721,247, or $4.15 a share, compared with $2,147,601, or $3.27 a share.

Illinois Bell Telephone company's net income in the September quarter increased to $2,787,968, or $1.72 a share, from $2,633,131, or $1.62 a share, a year earlier. The nine months' profit was $11,342,886, equal to $6.98 a share, compared with $10,570,714, or $6.51 a share.

Brunswick-Balke-Collender company's consolidated profit in the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $437,867, equal to 76 cents a common share, compared with $696,015, or $1.34 a share, a year earlier excluding a special credit of 61 cents a share. The company's facilities have been fully reconverted to regular commercial production.

Gillette Earnings Climb

Gillette Safety Razor company net income increased to $3,051,360, or $1 a share, in the nine months ended Sept. 30 from $2,703,943, or 82 cents a share, a year earlier. The company restored to the income account $210,000 deducted as additional reserve for contingencies during the first six months of 1945.

A. M. Castle & Co. had a September quarter profit of $132,030, or 55 cents a share, compared with $148,085, or 62 cents a share, in the 1944 period. The nine months profit was $450,862, or $1.88 a share.

Procter & Gamble company report a profit of $3,777,263, or 58 cents a common share, in the quarter ended Sept. 30, compared with $4,820,996, or 73 cents a year earlier.

Industry Asks Price Rule End; Job Bill 'Injures Small Firm'

Fights Wage Politics

The Midwest Manufacturers Associations, Inc., last night demanded that price controls in the manufacturing industry be revoked. Ending a three day meeting of directors and the advisory board, the 11 state group also urged discontinuance of political adjustments of wages and opposed compulsory arbitration of labor disputes. It asked prompt lowering of federal taxes and enactment of the Bulwinkle bill to legalize the conference method of rail rate making.

The experience of midwest industry has demonstrated definitely that office of price administration policies are seriously handicapping manufacturers in supplying jobs, and interfere substantially with production and distribution of civilian goods, the associations asserted.

Free Competition Held Solution

Confusion, uncertainty, delays, and frequent injustices inherent in government attempts to control prices in manufacturing in the complex peace time economy were termed formidable obstacles to maximum production with accompanying maximum employment. Removal of curbs on obtaining materials and supplies also was asked, with the promise that high production in free competition will prevent unreasonable price increases and unreasonable profits.

Altho industry is determined to supply maximum employment, the statement said, its ability to do so and reconvert quickly to civilian production depends largely on governmental policies, particularly taxation.

Threat to Small Business

In urging repeal of the excess profits tax as unsuited to peace time economy, the group branded it "a law against progress" upsetting normal financial judgment. It added: "Continuation of the present tax structure will tend to eliminate the smaller enterprise."

"A condition of widespread employment may result from conflicting government policies [encouraging inflation of wage rates] that are moving production costs above ceiling prices in an increasingly large part of industry," the group warned.

"Wages should be adjusted in accordance with economic considerations, and not by government agencies on the basis of political considerations."

Opportunity Limited

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24—James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers association, assailed the administration's "full employment bill" as injurious to small industry in testimony today before the house committee on executive department expenditures.

Donnelly asserted that 24,316 small firms employing 100 or fewer persons went out of business in the 10 years thru 1939 as a result of governmental "economic planning" and said small industry logically is alarmed over the implications of the proposed measure.

Industry Seeks Maximum Jobs

"Industry has a very selfish interest in the maintenance of the highest level of employment," he said.

"However, we recognize that maximum employment can be assured only thru maximum production. We are convinced that the so-called 'full employment' bill would, in actual operation, retard production and decrease opportunities for jobs in private enterprise.

"The real issue presented by this bill is whether congress should enact a law guaranteeing jobs for all.

"The experience of various European countries has fully demonstrated that you cannot have 'full employment' by government guarantee and at the same time have a free society.

"The bill proposes to put into the hands of federal burocracy, once and for all, the final responsibility for the economic welfare of the people."

Bill Condemned as Political

The bill, which has passed the senate, provides that the President draw up a periodic job budget estimating needs of production, investment and expenditure for full employment, current and foreseeable "trends," and a "planned economic program" for assurance of continuing full employment.

"The impractical and hazardous nature of this periodic budget, involving the expenditure of vast and unpredictable sums of money, is entirely clear," Donnelly said. "Administration of the measure would be honeycombed with political expediencey. It is accordingly undesirable from the standpoint of the general public, of the worker, and of the employer."

Sale of Surplus Property Scheduled for Next Week

The department of commerce office of surplus property will conduct a sale next Wednesday in the Morrison hotel, at which construction, farm, and mining equipment will be sold to bidders. The equipment is available for inspection at various army locations thruout the middle west.

Field Sells 5 Story Loop Building for $200,000

Marshall Field III. yesterday sold for $200,000 the five story Ohio store and office building at the southeast corner of Wabash av. and Congress st. to the Congress-Wabash Building corporation. Title was conveyed by the Continental Illinois bank as trustee. Robert White & Co. was broker

STOCK MARKET TUMBLES AGAIN IN WIDE TRADE

Selling Held Partly Technical Move

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Broad selling continued in the stock market today. Steels, motors and most of the other groups declined fractions to about 3 points.

Some of the liquidation was interpreted as a technical correction of the recent advance to 8½ year highs. However, mounting industrial strife also was a factor.

The belief grew in Wall st. that President Truman's wage-price policy would be to hold the line on prices, but at the same time permit pay boosts in many industries.

Eastern Air Climbs 7½

Eastern Air Lines closed 7½ points higher at 92½ despite the general decline. Buying which sent it to a 1945 high was based on probable benefits if the excess profits tax is repealed.

United States Steel and General Motors, both of which face the possibility of strikes, were down 2¼ and 2, respectively.

Dealings were active on the sell-off but lagged at times. Turnover totaled 1,360,000 shares against 1,370,000 yesterday. The Associated Press 60 stock composite fell 1.0 to 71.3, lowest since Oct. 4. The market was broad, with 1,010 issues traded.

BOND PRICES LOWER

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Downward tendencies prevailed in today's bond market as underwriters came out with a big assortment of new offerings and several corporations disposed of securities at competitive sales. Rails lost the most ground.

CHICAGO LIST DOWN

Prices were lower in heavier trading yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Most active stocks were Gibson Refrigerator, up ⅛; Libby, McNeill & Libby, down ⅛; Sears, Roebuck, up ⅜, and Chicago corporation and Asbestos Manufacturing, each unchanged.

INFORMED ACTION IS THE KEY TO SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

The Investment Merits of American Municipal Bonds
HALSEY, STUART & CO. INC.
CHICAGO • NEW YORK AND OTHER PRINCIPAL CITIES

Bonds of Distinction

American municipal bonds have traditionally occupied a place of distinction in the financial markets. In respect to security, they have earned a position second only to the direct or contingent obligations of the United States Government. Their exemption from federal income taxes provides special advantages in this era of high federal taxation. Such bonds thus merit preferred consideration from investors seeking conservatism and tax exempt income. But as with all securities, municipal bonds require care in their selection to fit the individual investment portfolio.

Send for this Comprehensive Book on Municipals

An exhaustive 74-page study of the investment qualities of these bonds, covering factors important to prudent selection, is available to interested applicants without obligation. Send for this valuable guide to informed action—"The Investment Merits of American Municipal Bonds."

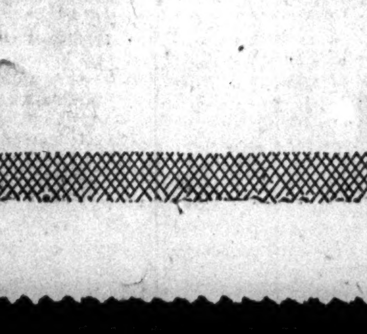
Will your estate have first call on your executor's time?

If you name an individual as executor of your estate, consider this: Death, illness or the pressure of his personal responsibilities may prevent your estate from having the attention it requires.

Because of these possibilities it's wise to review your Will at regular intervals with your attorney. Should it seem prudent to name a new executor, we suggest you give serious consideration to the appointment of The Northern Trust Company.

This bank is a permanent organization, and its services are always available when they are needed. Here, friendly, experienced Trust officers devote their full time to the careful management of estates. Through more than half a century The Northern Trust Company has been probating Wills and administering estates.



You and your attorney are cordially invited to confer with our Trust officers and discuss the benefits of establishing a trust under your Will. Or, write for a copy of the helpful booklet, "Practical Suggestions for Making Your Will."

THE NEW YORK AIR BRAKE COMPANY

DIVIDEND No. 60

The Board of Directors has today declared a dividend of fifty cents (50c) per share on the outstanding Common Stock of this Company payable December 1, 1945, to stockholders of record at the close of business November 15, 1945.

R. K. BISSELL, Secretary.

New York, N.Y., October 16, 1945.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

General Mortgage Gold Bonds

SERIES E, 4½%, DUE JULY 1, 1977

Great Northern Railway Company has irrevocably directed The First National Bank of the City of New York to publish appropriate notices calling for redemption on July 1, 1947 the entire issue of the above mentioned Series E Bonds then outstanding at 105% of principal amount plus accrued interest to said date.

Great Northern Railway Company hereby offers to purchase said Series E Bonds from the holders thereof up to and including December 31, 1945, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, at prices dependent on the date of delivery for purchase, such prices decreasing from 111.99% of principal amount as to Bonds delivered on September 24, 1945 to 110.93% of principal amount as to Bonds delivered on December 31, 1945, to yield in all cases ½% to July 1, 1947, the date of redemption. Accrued interest at 4½% per annum from July 1, 1945 to the date of purchase will be added in each case. The Company has prepared a table showing the price so payable as to Bonds delivered on each day (other than Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, which days are not delivery dates) from September 24, 1945 to and including December 31, 1945 and will be glad to advise bondholders thereof upon request. Holders of said Series E Bonds desiring to accept this offer should deliver their Bonds with all unmatured appurtenant coupons to The First National Bank of the City of New York, at its office, No. 2 Wall Street, New York 15, N. Y. against payment of the purchase price and accrued interest as aforesaid.

SERIES I, 3¾%, DUE JANUARY 1, 1967

Great Northern Railway Company has irrevocably directed The First National Bank of the City of New York to publish appropriate notices calling for redemption on January 1, 1946 the entire issue of the above mentioned Series I Bonds then outstanding at 104% of principal amount plus accrued interest to said date.

Holders of said Series I Bonds may immediately obtain the full redemption price thereof including accrued interest to January 1, 1946 by surrendering such Bonds with all unmatured appurtenant coupons to The First National Bank of the City of New York, at its above mentioned office.

THE ACID TEST

You've got to hand it to the mail-order and keyed-publicity advertisers for shrewd buying. They put a publication to the acid test: Will it produce profitable results right off the page?

For nine years SECRETS has been a favorite of these advertisers. It has sold millions of dollars worth of merchandise, and produced coupons at very low cost. When it comes to a product appealing primarily to young married women between 18 and 35, SECRETS is second to none. Ask us to prove this. Ask us to give you figures—especially on a keyed publicity account where SECRETS outpulled other publications as much as eight to one!

SECRETS million-a-month newsstand buyers spend two and a half billion dollars a year! Why not investigate this responsive, acid-tested market?

LINK-BELT COMPANY

I should like information on Link-Belt company's trend of sales and earnings.—O. R.

The company's sales increased each year from $22,950,000 in 1939 to $70,039,000 in 1944 after deducting estimated renegotiation refund and excluding Link-Belt Ordnance company. War time profits exceeded the average of recent prewar years.

The management has expressed the opinion that demand for its line of products in material handling and conveying and mechanical power transmission during the first five post-war years "will be larger than in any five year peace time period" in the past. The fact that war time installations were in large part designed for particular jobs is said to minimize the surplus equipment problem.

Earnings as revised for renegotiation refunds [amount estimated for 1944] were: 1944, $4.36; 1943 and 1942, $4.91 each year. In 1941 the profit was $4.64.

The figures are based on varying amounts of stock outstanding at the close of each period, and are after allowance for contingency reserves ranging from 28 cents to 57 cents a share. In the four years ended with 1940, the share earnings averaged $2.85, and it may be questioned whether post-war earnings of this amount would be enough to sustain the stock at its recent level in the mid '50s.

On the present capitalization of 806,930 shares, giving effect to redemption of all preferred stock and sale of 95,978 common shares last May, the profit in the first half of 1945 was $1.78 a share.

Common dividends have been paid each year since 1907, and since 1940 have totaled $2 a year. With no funded debt, net working capital last June 30 was $20,341,000.

CHARGES WEST COAST BUS AND RAIL MONOPOLY

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 24 (AP)—The government today charged eight companies, including the Southern Pacific Railroad company, the Pacific Greyhound Lines, and the Standard Oil Company of California, with conspiracies in restraint of trade and with attempts to monopolize trade routes in west coast states.

In a suit filed in federal district court under the Sherman anti-trust act, the companies were accused of conspiracy and of monopolizing trade and commerce in transporting bus and rail passengers along routes between Portland, Ore., and San Francisco, and along the coast highway between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The suit alleged Standard Oil, in consideration of purchase by Pacific Greyhound of some $750,000 annually in gas and oil, gives the bus company a free hand in operating the Dollar Line.

100 CATTLE LOADS SELL AT CEILING; HOG RECEIPTS UP

Strong demand lifted more classes of cattle to the $18 a hundredweight ceiling yesterday. Competition for numbers kept a steady stream of $18 loads going over the scales, averaging in weight from 828 pound heifers to 1,400 pound steers. More than 100 loads brought the price.

The general level of the steer market, with most sales $16.35 to $18, was highest in 26 years. Steady to strong prices were paid for heifers, beef cows, canners, and cutters.

No price changes occurred in other branches of the live stock trade. Hog receipts rose to 11,500, including directs to packers, the largest for a Wednesday since July 25.

The run of sheep and lambs was largest for a Wednesday in seven weeks, at 6,000 head, but demand was broad and prices steady.

DRY GOODS

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 [AP]—Scattered lots of print cloths and other constructions were sold in the cotton textile market today. Most selling houses remained inactive pending the clarification of the labor and price situation. The WPB announced steps to increase the flow of goods for the low-cost apparel program.

Deliveries of wool goods were small with no prospects of immediate improvement in supply because of the shortage of man power at the mills. Rayon goods market was quiet.

ELECTRONIC 'TORCH' FOR HEAT TREATING MATERIALS SHOWN

Pittsburgh Pa., Oct. 24 [Special]—An electronic "blow torch" which may revolutionize high frequency heating methods for industry was disclosed to newspaper men today at the research laboratories of Westinghouse Electric corporation.

A portable dielectric heating unit which hurls ultrashort radar waves at an object to be polymerized, cured, or bonded, the machine was demonstrated by Dr. J. A. Hutcheson, associate director of the laboratories.

"This device projects electronic waves on the material to be heated, wherever it may be," he explained, "whereas previous devices required that the object be placed in an electrical field created between two stationary metal plates or electrodes. The advantages of this unit, which it will be possible to bring to the object to be heated, are obvious since it can be used in restricted areas and effectively on irregularly shaped pieces of material."

DEMOCRATS MAP CAMPAIGN PLAN FOR DOWNSTATE

Pledge Support for Truman's Policies

BY GEORGE TAGGE
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24—Facing up to their organization weakness downstate, Democrats today planned to start work at once to improve their chances in the 1946 state and congressional election. It was the first meeting of the party's state central committee since the 1944 election.

Chairman George D. Kells collected $15,000 at the meeting to launch the drive. Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois, was quoted as being wholeheartedly behind the campaign.

A full time salaried director of downstate organizations is to be employed. County chairmen are to be called together in each congressional district, and asked to replace lazy precinct committeemen with World War II. veterans wherever possible.

"Hunt for Candidates"

The committee adopted resolutions pledging support of President Truman's policies and indorsing the plan of State Secretary Barrett to pay an immediate cash bonus to World War II. veterans.

Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.] said the downstate organization is weak. He urged the party leaders to scour the hinterlands to find candidates for county offices. Last year many Republicans were unopposed in running for downstate county offices, of which they now control more than 75 per cent.

"You've got to get county candidates," Lucas said, "when you have them you will have all of their friends out working vigorously for the party.

"Poor Organization"

"Next year will be an off-year election and the record shows that downstate Democrats have uniformly failed to get out as large a percentage of the potential vote as the Republicans in such elections," he said. "This is solely the result of poor organization," he asserted.

"We need every congressman we can get next year to uphold the hand of the President," Lucas said. "Remember, history shows that the party winning control of the house in an off-year election goes on to win the Presidency two years later."

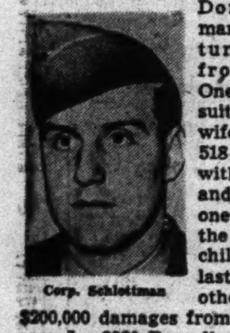
Backs Training Plan

As chairman of the Democratic national senatorial campaign committee, Lucas promised that he will be "in a position to work hand-in-glove with National Chairman Hannegan to help out in the Illinois congressional fights."

Altho he praised President Truman's stand for compulsory military service, Lucas warned that there might be difficulty in winning popular support. Americans are displaying a tendency to follow the same road they took after World War I., he said. Fortunately, Truman is a midwesterner and "talks our language," he said.

Barrett lambasted the Republican majority in the legislature for shelving his soldiers' bonus bill earlier this year. Had it been enacted the state would have earmarked 100 million dollars for the bonus and this would have enabled immediate payment until a referendum could be held to authorize a bond issue for a larger amount, he said.

VET SUES TWICE; SEEKS DIVORCE, BALM OF $200,000



Corp. Schlottman

Two suits were filed in Superior court yesterday in behalf of Corp. Donald Schlottman, 25, who returned recently from overseas. One, a divorce suit, charged his wife, Rose, 21, of 518 E. 69th st., with adultery and alleged that one Fred Doe is the father of a child born to her last July 13. The other suit asked $200,000 damages from Fred C. Kramer Jr., 3320 Parnell av., for alienation of affections. The suit charged that Kramer, who is in the cartage business, stole the love of the corporal's wife. The suits were filed by Attorneys Leo J. Bartoline and Raymond L. Jones.

LUEDER WARNS PEOPLE TO SCAN FOREIGN LOANS

State Auditor Lueder said yesterday that American taxpayers must be given detailed information about requests of foreign governments for loans and added, "America must stop throwing away her money on bad debts and bad debtors if our taxpayers are to receive relief from the ever increasing tax load."

Members of the Waukegan Chamber of Commerce heard Lueder, twice elected an Illinois fiscal officer, sound the warning that unlimited foreign loans should not follow the "stupendous total of 300 billion dollars" which the United States spent winning the war.

"The international affairs of this nation are and should be the business of every American, and we should stop those who spread propaganda that these matters should be discussed only by a select few in Washington or elsewhere," Lueder said.

Toy Pistol Robber Gets 2 to 4 Years in Prison

Paul Carter, 59, of 4822 Walton st., charged with the robbery of candy stores at 1407 E. 63d st. and 6305 Cottage Grove av. with a toy pistol, was sentenced by Chief Justice Harold G. Ward in Criminal court yesterday to two to four years in the penitentiary.

PETRILLO EDICT MAY END FM MUSIC MONDAY

New York, Oct. 24 [Special]—Frequency modulation stations thruout the country are scheduled to drop on Monday all network programs containing music, it was disclosed today, after the demand of James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, that a double crew of instrumentalists be hired if a musical program is broadcast simultaneously on both FM and standard outlets.

The National Broadcasting company, the Columbia Broadcasting system, and the Mutual Broadcasting system, in separate communications to their affiliated stations, stated that duplication of programs on FM outlets would have to stop as of midnight Sunday.

Carl Haverlin, Mutual's vice president in charge of station relations, said it was "impossible" for his chain to duplicate programs in such a manner, but did not make any further comment.

NO DECISION HERE

In Chicago last night Frank Schreiber, manager of W-G-N, Inc., which operates station W-G-N and its FM affiliate WGNB, said copies of the Petrillo request had been received, but that no decision had as yet been made as to what would be done locally.

WRIT RESTRAINS HUSBAND USE OF CAR; BARS HOME

Mrs. Rosalie Davis

Mrs. Rosalie Davis, 32, of 141 N. 14th st., Melrose Park, yesterday was granted an injunction by Judge Frank M. Padden in Superior court restraining her husband, Keith, 33, from driving their car or entering their home. Yesterday was Mrs. Davis' birthday, her attorney, Samuel A. Aronfeld, told the court, and her husband usually took her driving on that day. She wants to be sure, the attorney said, that he doesn't go driving with any one else. Mrs. Davis has a divorce bill pending against her husband, which charges cruelty. She was awarded $25 a week temporary support for Gale, 7, and Joy, 4.

Railway Pay Conference Adjourned for 10 Days

A preliminary conference held yesterday between representatives of the nation's railroads and officials of five railroad brotherhoods to set a date for beginning negotiations of the union's demands for a 25 per cent wage increase was adjourned for 10 days, a spokesman said. The conference was held in the offices of Daniel P. Loomis, chairman of the western carriers' conference committee.

HOLLYWOOD
IMMEDIATE POSSESSION
OWNER MOVING! The house IS beautiful, in white, of modified Colonial lines; sturdily built. Interior decorative art is of RARE EXCELLENCE. The 30 ft. living room is quality carpeted, also the stair and master bedroom. A lovely sun porch is off the living room; a similar porch, above, connects with the large master bedroom.
There are 6 extra large rooms and 1 smaller. Fine closets aplenty. Almost new forced air self contained gas heating unit.
AT ITS PRICE OF $18,500.00 WE ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECOMMEND THIS HOME.
And now, the grounds! Included and adjoining the house is a small grove with a variety of trees. A flagstone walk leads to the center of this grove. There, under a canopy of green boughs, is a large circular flagstone disk. Visualize! table—benches—AND YOU, IN THE FAMILY CIRCLE—portable grill—steaks—hamburgers. Let your imagination run riot! It's up to you to make it reality.
